ELK LODGE, A. Y. M.

The stated meetings of Elk Lodge, No. 379, are held at their hall, corner of Main and Depot streets, on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Not much snow here.

The Democrat has a new devil.

Walker is making a pair of wedding boots, for one of our town "chaps."

Wages for laborers in this section range from $15 to $20, and board, a month.

Powell & Kime have received a new stock of winter goods.

Gold is quoted in New York at 108. We will publish the new constitution, in full next week.

Chas. Holes is building an addition to his building, on Main street.

J. S. Hyde is putting up an addition to his blacksmith shop in the East End.

C. R. Earley is having the house next to the Willis' house newly painted and repaired.

With pleasure we announce the coming of that highly-esteemed gentleman, Mr. William H. McCollin, of Wilcox, this county, who will give a select entertainment at the Court House, on next Tuesday evening, Nov. 18th, 1873.

Editors' Thanksgiving Dinner.—The Kaitmans' Journal says they are fattening a cod-fish for Thanksgiving, and the Bellefonte Watchman say they have a rusty macrel in the cellar.

We intend leaving a fat take and a lead pie. Skippie of the Elk Democrat will have some stewed cat, at least he talks a great deal about "holy cats," don't know as they are any relation to Old Tom Cats.

One good thing the panic will have done—that is, teach economy. All have been running along loosely, more or less, under the state of inflation which prevailed.

WILCOX, ELK CO., PA., Nov. 12, '73. MR. EDITOR:—Allow me to correct the "rumor" in your last week's issue that the "tannery will be closed soon."

REASON.

PEOPLE who prefer wetting the winter's store of coal to lay the dust on putting it into their cellars, do not generally know that they are laying up for themselves a store of sore throats and other evils consequent upon the practice.

PAY YOUR SMALL DEBTS.—The ability of nearly every man to pay his debts depends upon his ability to collect debts due him.

CONDITION OF THE NATIONAL BANKS.—The Controller of the Currency wants to know the condition in which the National Banks stand at present.

GENE, of the Elk Democrat, is an "amusing cuss," as Artemus Ward used to say, when he gets hold of a joke he sticks to it and makes use of it on every occasion.

J. W. PHELPS, late candidate for Assembly in the district, has gone to driving an ox team—at least he is reported to have said he would so do if defeated.

We trust Mr. Phelps will enjoy his occupation this winter as well as Mr. Baird will. Driving oxen is a very pleasant occupation, no doubt; but we scarcely think it is either as pleasant or lucrative as going to the Legislature.

"Of all the sad words of tongue or of pen, The saddest are these—it might have been!" Phelps, but it is Baird!

The first time he perpetrated this joke, was on Ben Butler, and was thought by some, exceedingly good, considering the source. But now, when he gets off the same old joke on Phelps, it seems as though he thought the joke too good to wear out.

WOUNDS.—An exchange says: "Every person should understand how to treat a flesh wound, because one is liable to be placed in circumstances, away from surgical and veterinary aid, where he may save his life, the life of a friend or of a beast, simply by the exercise of a little common sense."

KILLED BY A BLAZE.—A man named Dougherty, a boss of the stone quarry, on the south side of "Hog Back" hill about four miles above this place, where the stone are being taken out for building the railroad bridge, on the Curwensville extension of the T. & C. railroad, was killed while engaged in drilling out a blast, for a recharge, on Friday evening last, October 31st, and another man very badly injured.

STATE NOTES.

Rev. D. T. Carnahan has been installed pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Oil City.

The case of Postmaster Stewart, of Pittsburgh, the defaulter has been continued. His bail is $10,000.

A lad seven years old named Alber Klunk, was killed in Altoona, on the 1st inst., by a panel of a fence falling upon him.

The newspaper publishers of Centre county have adopted the cash system for subscriptions, to take effect January 1, 1874.

Henry Heindorf, of Westminster in Adams county, fell into a fire in a bar-room, and was so badly burned that he died two days afterward.

A Chinese firm has located in Pittsburgh, in addition to dealing in Celestial workmanship, the firm will start a laundry, at which work will be done at fifteen cents per dozen.

On the 31st ult., James Glenn, of South Canaan, Wayne county, was killed near Providence, Luzerne county, by being thrown from a coal car and run over by the same.

On Wednesday evening a large stone barn belonging to Anthony Custer, of Montgomery county was destroyed with fifteen head of cattle.

Barn burners are roaming over Lebanon county and applying the torch with a surprising freedom. Four or five barns have been ignited within a few days, most of which have been destroyed.

A woman named Adams, of Dunbar township, Fayette county, was delivered of an illegitimate child, on the 28th ult., and attempted to burn it on a grate. She said the child was dead when born. The woman is under arrest.

A stranger stopped at a tavern in Berks county on Monday evening and paid his last twenty-five cents for lodging. Next morning he was dead in bed. His name is supposed to have been Julius Miller.

The remains of an Indian chief were exhumed in Lancaster county recently, the skull being encased in an iron cap, a war trophy, probably obtained from some settler in the early days of the colony.

The success of the American Steamship Company of Philadelphia is now assured, and in a short time all the vessels of the line will be running in regular order.

As an evidence of the hard times in Philadelphia, it is stated that the pawn-brokers are doing four times the amount of business they were doing a few months ago, and owing to the scarcity of money, are giving less than a third of the value of articles presented.

GENERAL NOTES.

The annual value of the New York oyster trade is estimated at $36,000,000.

A candidate for justice of the peace in Mississippi is in jail for stealing.

The financial club has begun to show its silver lining, in the form of dimes and quarters.

The total numbers of visitors to the Vienna exposition, from the opening to the closing, was over 7,250,000.

A second part of "The Robbers," by Schiller, is said to have been recently discovered in Germany.

A Boston dry goods dealer advertises "financial crash towels."

Naturalists, after years of investigation of the anatomy and morphology of eels, have discovered that they are of no sex.

Speculation and population are said to be twin children of badly balanced minds.

A German expedition for the exploration of the Lybian Desert, will shortly start.

Late in the autumn or during the winter is said to be the best time for painting the exterior of buildings.

A Canadian Justice recently sentenced a man to two years' imprisonment, for voting in a dead man's name.

The New York Excise Board recently had 6,500 applicants for license. The fees amounted to $490,000.

Housekeeping is said to be cheaper than boarding in New York; so a number of young gentlemen will go to house-keeping.

Three hundred dollars is to be the price of a liquor license in Michigan, if the constitutional amendment is approved by the people.

A Boston girl, with two wooden legs is said to be so bewitchingly beautiful that she is overwhelmed with offers from enamored swains.

Minnesota doctors osculate that but for the threshing machine season one-half of their profession of that State would starve to death.

The Indians, it is said, first called the place on which New York is built, Manahattaniucks. The translation of it is "the place where they all got drunk."

During a sermon in the chapel of the Georgia State Prison 520 convicts struck up, "We'll all drink stone blind," and had to be marched down stairs. They didn't like the chaplain.

The Boston Journal says that two of the largest retail dry goods dealers in Boston, state that their sales during October were fully as large as during the same month last year.

The tightness of the money market is shown by the fact that a Boston man dropped five cents in a public cistern under the street and a fire steamer generously pumped out 120 barrels of water that he might recover the nickel.

A day before the Modoc hanging the chaplain was endeavoring to convert Jack, and among other things told him glowing stories of the happy land. His remarks seemed to have an effect on the Captain, who asked him if he knew all about God and the happy land.

The chaplain said he thought he did. "Well," said Jack, "you know all about Him, me give you ten fawes you take my place to-morrow."

Auction at the East End Store next Saturday evening.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment given by the scholars of the Ridgway school, under the leadership of the teachers, and Prof. Cousins, in the school building on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Nov. 12th and 13th, was a decided success.

GODEY'S LADY BOOK for December is on our table and is brim full of good things. "The Workshop of Santa Claus" the frontispiece is delight full and the rest of the contents, superb.

CHAPPED HANDS.—Take common starch, and grind it with a knife until it is reduced to the smoothest powder, put it in a clean tin box, so as to have it continually at hand for use.

A cow race for a purse of $100 is announced to take place at Groton, Mass. There is not a railroad in the West that can carry all the freight sent to it.

A Iowa clergyman who had a donation party lately, has been enough to last thirty-seven years.

Mrs. Partington says she gets up every morning at the shrill crierion of the chandelier.

The planters in Louisiana have been reducing the pay of their hands from $18 and $20 per month to $15.

The new collegiate institute at York, under the management of the Presbyterian denomination was dedicated on the 3d inst.

A New England paper complains of pistols being sold to boys not tall enough to look over the counters at which the dangerous toys are purchased.

The Clay county, Iowa, Register says that "yesterday the cold wind went whistling up the trousers of many a loafer, asking him what he had been doing all summer."

A steamer recently cleared from Savannah for an English port with a cargo of cotton valued at $358,890. This is said to be the most valuable cargo ever sent from Savannah.

A doctor in New Hampshire recently tried to scare a rival by forging letters from all his patrons, saying that his services were no longer required. The trick, however, was found out.

Two handsome young ladies having commenced to practice as physicians in Blackhawk county, Illinois, it seems that sickness has broken out among the young men of the place to an alarming extent.

The Abbeyville (Georgia) Median speaks of an exciting cotton picking match in that county between a Georgia and a South Carolina negro.

The Georgia man picked 456 pounds, and the other 472 pounds, in seven hours—the duration of the match. The prize was five gallons of brandy.

San Francisco is rapidly gaining on New York in the importation of raw silk. Before 1870 the former city did very little in the industry, and in September of that year the total value of silk imported was only $60,000, against $315,962 at New York, while this year, San Francisco's record for September is $482,200, and New York $109,375.

A boy was caught in the act of stealing dried berries in front of a store the other day, and was locked up in a dark closet by the grocer. Then the boy commenced begging most pathetically for release, and after using all the persuasion that his young imagination could invent, proposed: "Now if you'll let me out and send for my daddy, he'll pay you for the berries and lick me beside!"

This appeal was too much for the grocer's man to stand out against.

The Mobile Register says that a civil suit of $500 was recently tried before a jury of eight white men and four colored men, in Sumpter county, Ala., in which the learned jury returned a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree.

Not a member of them knew a single letter of the alphabet. Upon delivering the verdict, the foreman remarked that inasmuch as no one was killed they decided to render a verdict of manslaughter, and not of murder, as originally intended. The suit was merely to recover a debt growing out of a disputed business transaction.
