APOLOGY -- Last week we an nounced Q. C. J. Doesticks as orator on the Fourth, and have since received enough abuse from well meaning persons, to punish us for the deed. All we have to say is, that the name of Mr. Doesticks was not introduced to slur any one, in fact, we did not know who the orator was to be until after the ADVOCATE was issued. Rev. Wm Martin will deliver the oration as we have since learned.

THE PRECIOUS METALS .- The production of precious metals by the Pacific Slope reached during the last quarter of a century $1,583,644,984, of which California mines produced three-fourths, nearly all of which latter was in gold. The amount obtained is now increasing yearly, partly from the opening of new mines, but chiefly from the introduction of improved methods of extracting the precious metals from the ores. HORRIBLE DEATH .- Yesterday afternoon, about a quarter past one o'clock a terrible case of death was witnessed in the large saw mill of G. W. Sands & Co., on the opposite side of the river, in Armstrong township, this county.

Mr. Thomas Leland, circular filer on this mill, was at work on a gang edger of four circular saws, and was sitting on the feed roller, with a foot on each side of the saw he was filing, when, without a second's warning, the "tightner" slipped and threw the saws into motion -saws thathave eighteen hundred revo lutions to the minute-and the unfortunate man was immediately whirled through the small opening to the clevator below, a corpse mangled so terribly that it was with difficulty his fellow workmen could gather up the several members in such a shape as to make the body appear like that of a human being. The left arm was cut off, the right arm nearly severed from the body, bowels torn out, the legs almost cut off and the top of the head sawed almost through. In fact there was not a bone in the body which had not been cut into by the saws .- Will iumsport Register, June 24.

Correction.-It any luckless quill driver imagines his items are not read, just let the type make a blunder for him and he will come to a different conclusion. For instance in noticing the death of Caleb Thompson last week, they said he was "an nucle of V. R. Thompson of Pine Grove and a brotherin-law of S. P. Allen, now of Glade.' We have been informed 499 times or less that he was the father of V. R. Thompson, and several other Thompsons and father-in-law of S. P. Allen and consequently grandfather of a good many Allens. We hasten to corect. The fact is we never could keep the run 1872. DEAR ADVOCATE:-I noticed an item in your paper, concerning the miner's strike in Nelsonville, and vicinity, of which I have been a witness and cau give you a true statement of the case. Last March the strike commenced, at which time the last year's contract had not expired but run until May 1st, at three and one half cents per bushel; the operators wanted to contract with the miners, and made an offer of two and half cents for six months and three cents for the remainder of the year. commencing April 1st 1874. The miners wanted three and three and one balf cents consequently no agreement could be had and the strike was declared at Nelsonville, Straitsville, and Shawnee, and all came out.
