THE BALANCE OF TRA DE .- The latest re turns of the Bureau of Statistics, says the Philadelphia Ledger, enables us to compare our foreign trade since the panic with the period immediately preceding. The imports of foreign merchandise for the ten months ending April 30, 1874, are $68,237, 222 less than for corresponding time last year, while the imports of specie are $6,974,189 larger, making a net reduction in the imports of goods and specie combined of $61,263,033. This however, does not correctly represent the comparative consumption of foreign goods during the period, for there has been a reduction in the amount of goods in warehouse from $77,646,579 on April 30, 1873, to $58,475,974 on April 80, 1874. There has been a reduction in the consumption of imported goods of about $100,000,000 during the ten months, compared with the same period of the preceding fiscal year. It is worthy of note, however, that the amount of goods in warehouse has been reduced to an exceptionally low point, which illustrates the low condition of importers
