ELI PERKINS, Saratoga correspondent of the N. Y. Sun, "gets off" the following good'un: " Deacon Gaudam of the First Presbyterian Church in Lock Haven is sojourning in Vandam street. The Lock Haven Repuplican says, 'When the minister wants the collection taken up he often remarks, 'Deacon, Gaudam you, please pass the plate.' "

THERE is a man in the Elk Countyjail who refuses to leave that institution, although his term of imprisonment has expir- was collected in that district. Nearly ed. He shows good sense in prefering the jail to associating with the people of that be. nighted region.-Cameron Press

But the people have improved since elieved of the burden of the Cameron Press man (C. B. Gould,) as editor of this paper; of course that was years ago, but goes to show that "evil communications corrupt good 'manners." and that the man who wrote the above item is no the workmen would not be at all benefit- Jefferson counties given to secure $414,atter than he should be.

Listen awhile and you shall hear A shocking instance now of lare Committed by the hand of fate. In Clearfield County there did dwell A loving youth 'twas known full well

Betsy Macomber was her name An only daughter bright of fame On Monday morning she did go Unto the neighbors we de know One mile from home as it is said Twas the last visit that she made On Tuesday eve set out for home But ah! alas! she nc'er has come

Her parents sought her but in vain Where she has gone we can't regain. The neighbors now the sound doth hear The tidings tinkel every ear Each heart with sorrow now is pres't Thinking of what was her distress They sought the hills and valleys too But all in van they did persue Nothing but just her bonnet found

And that was lying on the ground Her father weeps her mother sighs O! where is Betsey? now she cries No being can describe her grief While nought on earth can give relief How shocking 'tis for to relate Three brothers left to mourn her fate But Oh! your griefs are all in vain

Her parents now in grief doth say Our child is gone Ohl where is she? Or is she lost and gone astray Or is she in some lonely wood Chilled through with cold; pining for food

Ordoes she grieve her friends to see Or is her soul at liberty Or has he spirit took its flight

To worlds above filled with delight Or has she gone her God to see lo praise him in eternity Oh! she has gone we know not where The stroke is cruel and severe But hush our murmuring kiss the rod And own the almighty hand of God ome parents brothers neighbors too l'o Betsie we must bid adieu; Come let us count her virtues o'er And practice them for she is no more.

Come all good people far and near To you the shocking news is told Think on poor Betsy's cruel fate Prepare for death before it is too late. Jay Township 1820.

COST OF A "STRIKE."-The National Laborers' Union, of England, has been counting up the costs of supporting the agricultural laborers in their strike, and finds that in Suffolk alone over $50,000 was expended, only $5,000 of which the whole amount went to the support of the men in idleness, for only about $600 was used to pay the expenses of
