

Attention Republicans! The Republican Primaries will be held Saturday, Sept. 18. The County Convention will be held Tuesday, Sept. 21. Remember the day and date.

From the Pittsburgh Telegraph. The mountain at Erie has labored and brought forth a ridiculous result. The Democracy of Pennsylvania have nominated for Governor and State Treasurer Pershing and Piolet, and adopted a pusillanimous platform. We say pusillanimous for the reason that the majority in the Convention were pronounced expansionists, and were clamorous in and out of place for more money, until the "expediency" element in organization compelled them to take to cover. Having the power and the desire, they had not the courage to insist on inflation in the platform, but accepted the declaration, though differing somewhat in phrasing, of the Republican State Convention at Lancaster on the subject, as follows: "That the volume of currency be made and kept equal to the wants of trade."

So far as the resumption act of January last is concerned, the utterance of the Convention is simply the echo of leading Republicans everywhere in this section of the State. On the question of the National Bank currency, the people will take issue with the Democracy. That currency has for its basis the bonds of the Government, which are eventually redeemable in gold, and the faith and revenues of the Government are pledged to that redemption. Should the policy of the Erie Convention prevail; and the customs due the Government be made payable in legal tender, there will be no gold revenues to the Treasury with which to redeem our bonds, and repudiation follows. How in case this policy should be adopted, the tenth resolution of the Convention is to be carried out, is not made plain.

Taken altogether, the financial plank of the platform are a singular jumble, compared with the following clean cut plank of the Republican Convention: "Eighty—Free banking, a safe and uniform national currency adjusted to the growing wants of the business interests of the country, and a steady reduction of the national debt."

The remainder of the platform is given up to the usual platitudes about the beauties of a Jeffersonian Democracy, States' rights, and abuse of the Republican party. The resolutions concerning the State Treasury are of the usual "bucombe" order, and on these the Democracy expect to make their great fight of the campaign. Their Investigating Committee wanted the Convention's views in order to put some backbone in its members to at tempt the performance of an unauthorized act. This backbone will not serve them, but of this more hereafter.

The nominee for Governor, Cyrus L. Pershing, is an estimable gentleman and an upright jurist. He is a native of Johnston, Cambria county, born in 1825, and is a graduate of Jefferson College, Canonsburg. He practiced law in his native county, and at all times has been an active and unwavering partisan. He was twice elected for Congress in his district, but was successful in getting into the State Legislature in 1860, where he remained five years. In 1863, Judge Williams, of this city, defeated Mr. Pershing for Judge of the Supreme Court. In 1873, the Democrats of Schuylkill renominated Judge Ryan, who was personally distasteful to the members of the bar. Frank Hughes, one of Judge Pershing's lieutenants in yesterday's Convention, headed the revolt against Ryan and induced Mr. Pershing, then residing in Cambria, to run as an independent candidate. The Republican party being in a hopeless minority in Schuylkill county, threw its influence and votes to Pershing, and he was elected by 3,000 majority to the President Judgeship of the district. He has no marked characteristics that constitute him an available candidate, and as between him and Governor Hartranft the people of Pennsylvania will doubtless prefer to stand by a well-tried and faithful servant.

The nomination of Victor E. Piolet is not a good one, and the Democracy will realize the fact. Mr. Piolet is a chronic office seeker in his section of the State. He is a native and resident of Bradford county, ostensibly lives by farming, which gives him a status among the Grangers of the east. He was twice a member of the Legislature, and ran three times for Congress and was an often defeated. Perhaps Mr. Piolet will be better gauged when it is remembered he was charged with being one of the lieutenants of the Fishing Creek Confederacy, which resisted the draft during the rebellion, and caused loss of life and much trouble to the Government. If the records of that infamous organization speak truly, Mr. Piolet aided and abetted the armed resistance to the United States officers, when the Nation, by legal process, was endeavoring to recruit its armies from the abled-bodied men of the country. It is not to be expected that those who were soldiers and friends of the Union in its time of danger will vote to trust the finances of the State in the hands of one who was their enemy.

ing which the Democracy were so jubilant, were thrown away at Erie. Their platform does meet the views of more than two-fifths of their party, while their ticket is only partially satisfactory. Now that both parties have the issue made up, so far as platforms and candidates are concerned, the campaign may be said to be open. Less than eight weeks remain in which to enlighten the people as to the merits or demerits of the principles of either party, and we anticipate a lively time from now until November 2d.

THE EVENING TELEGRAPH. A LIVE NEWSPAPER, IN ALL ITS DEPARTMENTS. In entering upon the New Year with a few months of the second anniversary of the first appearance of the paper the publishers of the PITTSBURGH EVENING TELEGRAPH renew their expressions of thanks to an intelligent and appreciative public for its LIBERAL AND EVER INCREASING PATRONAGE. during the year just closed. Coming into existence at a time when every kind of business was to a certain extent depressed, and when retrenchment in every direction was the rule, the TELEGRAPH has fought its way, and become, not only an established fact, but a PRIME NECESSITY IN EVERY WELL INFORMED CIRCLE. whether it be of the counting-room, the professional office, the workshop, or the family. Its circulation, equal to the best from the start, has grown in extent and importance daily, until now it acknowledges but two equals—the Dispatch and Leader—so far as the number issued daily is concerned, and no equal as to the character of its contents. These facts are so well known and appreciated by the business community, or the shrewdest members thereof, that our columns have been well filled by the favor of THE BEST CLASS OF ADVERTISERS. and we are glad to know that their faith in the TELEGRAPH as an advertising medium has been firmly established. THE PITTSBURGH EVENING TELEGRAPH, LOCAL DEPARTMENT. will continue to be carefully attended to, and its reports of local events will be always fresh and reliable. ITS SPECIAL TELEGRAMS AND CORRESPONDENCE will receive the same careful attention that has been remarked in the past, and in this respect the TELEGRAPH will continue to be without a competitor. ITS MARKET AND FINANCIAL REPORTS will receive the same careful attention that has been remarked in the past, and in this respect the TELEGRAPH will continue to be without a competitor. EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT. will contain an honest expression of views on all important live topics, political and otherwise. ITS NEWS AND LITERARY DEPARTMENTS, which have always enjoyed an exalted reputation, will continue to be of the same unexceptionable character. In fine, the EVENING TELEGRAPH IN ALL ITS DEPARTMENTS, will be during the year 1876, superior to the past, excellent as it has been by general admission. No expense will be spared to keep the paper abreast with the times, and its managers will exert every effort that experience may suggest to make it possible, more attractive to the general reader. ADVERTISING RATES furnished on application. THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, PITTSBURGH, PA.
