PILES, PILES, ITCHING PILES, POSITIVELY CURED by the GRE of SWAYNES OINTMENT HOME TESTIMONY. I was sorely afflicted with one of the most distressing of all diseases Privitus or Pro- rigo, or more commonly known as Itching Piles. The itching at times was almost in- tolerable, increased by scratching, and not unfrequently become quite sore. I bought a box of Swayne's Qintment; it, use, gave quick relief, and in a short fime made a perfect cure. Loan now sleep undisturbed, and I would advise all who are suffering with this distressing complaint to procure Swayne's Qintment at once. I had tried prescriptions almost innumprable, without inding and permanent relief. JOSEPH W, CHRIST. (Firm of Roceld & Christ,) Boot and Shoe House 8d4 North Second street, Philadelphis. The inspection being next, in order, wheeled into column of companies and after some delay in having the 'left guide cover'' opened ranks and was in- spected by the officials present. After the spection, by request of the Governor, a new line was established for dress parade. Some of the companies were very slow coming out to the line and in throwing out the guides; saveral lieutenants failed to come to the front at the proper time. In several companies themen were very un- steady at the ''paraderest.'' By request of the Governor the band of the Tituaville Citizens Corps officiated at the dress pa- rade and with very great satisfaction to all. The command was then marched, back to to the city, the right of the line being given to our guests, the Tituaville Citizens Corps. The trains being in waiting no parade in the, city was made. A large majority of the officers failed to observe the ''manual of the sword'' properly. 	Department, proper, is 40 x 40 feet, and displays many interesting exhib- its. The little Envelope Machine and nickle filated Baxter. Engine, men- tioned beford, which is now turning out 22,000 envelopes per day, with the new Centennial Stamp, attracts a con- stant crowd around the bronze railing by which it is inclosed. A model mail catcher upon a car inside the building, built on on a scale of one inch to the foot, and near the envelope machine, calls, forth the admiration of the younger visitors. This car runs on a track twenty feet in length, and catch- es a miniature mail bag as it passesses along at, full speed, illustrating the practice of fast mail trains. There are cases containing specimens of all mail- bags, pouches, etc., used by the de- partment. Specimens of all the locks and scales used, and samples of making and canceling stamps, together with six highly, ornamental frames con- taining specimens of, all stamped en- velopes, official envelopes, postal-cards and postage stamps ever, used in this country. These are furnished by the Columbia Bank Note Company, the present contractors, and are a valuable directory to the stamp gatherers The Interior Department makes a good display. The Patent Office shows 5000 models arranged in classes,	lators in change, bit I cannot learn that yuch was done at it, and of course it has been wholly stopped now It is about settled that there will be no further reduction in railway fares, and so the committee appointed by the Centannial Commission to confer with the railway authorities have ré- ported. The Pennsylvania Central people assert that they would do pas- senger business at an actual loss if they acceded to this demand, as the extra Centennial travel , at the low rates would not equal the falling off of reg- ular business. By the death of Leví Stine, one of the jurors in the Yest murder trial at Pottsville, the case cannot be resumed till July, and the additional cost to the county will amount to many thousands of dollars. Kerrigan, the man on trial, is accused of the murder of policeman Yest at Tamaqua, under instructions from the Molly Maguire organization, and some startling reve- lations were expected during the judi- cial investigation. The death of the juror gives the prisoner a longer lease of life.
