Peter Cooper at Hemes [From the New York Herald]

Returns from 119 districts in Brooklyn give Peter Cooper thirteen votes; and in this city he comes out with the solid vote of 252 resolute supporters: This shows that the paper money canvass has a great future before it. Its chances are all in future. Its glorious successes are there. Its magnificent triumphs are nowhere else. Peter has bis principles, his organization, his speeches, all in a nice state of preparation. All he wants now is a few more voters; and a man so ingenious, so fertile, in invention, cannot fail to secure these. Mr. Cooper once invented a plan for seriding people to and fro between this city and Brooklyn by means of a drum. If he would now brush the dust off that useful instrument and use it to drum up voters; there is no knowing what "the sweet by and by" might not de fer him. It is yet possible, as he has plenty of time, that his bait of illimitable printed dollars may take that great carp the Presidency.

An old citizen BEAD.-Last Monday, Nov. 6th, 1676, Patrick Riley, Sr. an old resident of Elk county died at his residence, in this township, of born in the County Wicklow, Ireland, in the year 1811 and emigrated to the United States in the year 1836, and has been a resident of this county for 19 years. He was buried at Centreville last Wednesday.

Wm. Goodwin, a saloon keeper at Ebensburg, Clarion county Pennsylvania, was shot this morning about one o'clock, by a man named George Aiken, during an affray arising from some dispute. The shot took effect in one of Goodwin's eyes, and physicians say he cannot live longer than a few hours. Aiken was seen leaving town in a buggy shortly after the shooting and parties are in hot pursuit.

Heavy floods are reported in Cuba, the exact causes of which seem to be a mystery, causing damage in some portions greater than that by the recent hurricane. Exact estimates can. not yet be made, but it is supposed the ugar crop has suffered by both calamities from fifteen to twenty per cent. The crop will, nevertheless, be as large as last year, because it promised to be exceptionably large. The tobacco crop will be retarded, because seedings were destroyed, but they can be replaced in most cases.

It is evident from the best intelligence that has been received that there have been great Republican Congressional gains. The majority in Congress from being at present about seventy-five Democratic will be reduced probably to ten or fifteen, which is a remarkable change, and should a demonstration be made by the South upon the treasury for "claims" such as have been charged against them and which Tilden is pledged to veto, that light democratic majority would be reduced still farther till it should be no majority at all. Yet, even now, the Republican Senate will hold the match. House in check in case of any effort at partisan legislation. There does not appear to be any cause for serious apprehensions of Congress .- Pittsburg

Washington, November 3.-Treasury officials state that there has been for nearly three months past an active demand for money at Hong Kong which has been met by shipments of silver from San Francisco, both on home and European account. The price of allver at San Francisco during this ime has rauged above the London rate. Formerly silver was shipped to China by way of London. Should the China demand for silver continue importations of that metal at New York will probably soon be made from Europe.
