 for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.
The Scientific American which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions, and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.
 Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical and Scientific Progress of the World. Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions; New Implements, New Processes, and improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers in the various trades; the best complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics, and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the largest, cheapest, and best of its kind weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions will find the Scientific American useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st 1877.

A year's number contains 52 pages, and several HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs.
 Special circulars, giving Club rates, sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. Munn & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms.
 Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice given. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notices. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

RAILROAD HORROR.

A terrible railroad accident occurred at Ashabula, Ohio, on Dec. 29th, ult., on the Lake Shore road. Below we give a dispatch containing some of the particulars.

New York, December 30.—A special dispatch from Ashabula, giving an account of the accident on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad, says: One of the most furious snow storms ever known in this vicinity had been raging nearly all day, and deep drifts made every roadway impassible, so severe was the storm that they had nearly closed the business places of Ashabula kept open doors after four or five o'clock in the evening, and the trains from all directions were several hours behind-hand. At about eight o'clock P. M. the whole village was aroused by a general fire alarm, and the word soon spread that train No. 5, from the east had gone through the high bridge over the Ashabula river with a large number of passengers, and that the whole train was on fire. In spite of the terrible night nearly the whole village and all the engines and cars were driven way to the depot, which is situated about one mile distant from the village. The train was due at Ashabula at a quarter past five, and was nearly three hours late. It had eleven cars, including one drawing-room, three sleeping, one smoking, two first-class coaches and four baggage and express cars. It was drawn by two engines.

Daniel McGuire, engineer of the forward engine, relates that the train was running at a general fire alarm, and the word soon spread that train No. 5, from the east had gone through the high bridge, which is not more than forty rods distant from the depot, they felt a violent jar, and in an instant the coupling between the two engines had broken, and the whole train was precipitated, with the bridge and the river below. McGuire says his engine was pulled back nearly to the edge of the broken span before the coupling severed, and regained its forward motion barely in time to save itself. The bridge over Ashabula river was an iron truss bridge, and had been in use eleven years. The span is about 60 feet wide, and through the space between the river, about four or five feet deep at this time, thickly covered with ice.

Into this space were the eleven cars and one engine and tender precipitated. The fall of the fall of six feet, of course, breaking through the icy covering, shattered the cars as if a magazine of nitro-glycerine had exploded beneath them. The seven passenger coaches altogether contained 150 adults, besides a number of children. In the drawing-room car, which was bound for Cleveland, were nine persons, all of whom are supposed to have perished by drowning or fire. In the two sleepers, bound for Chicago, there were 38 passengers, and most of those in forward cars are saved, with injuries more or less severe.

A very few moments after the crash the flames burst out simultaneously from nearly every car. A gentleman, who was the first to get out, says he saw a young and finely dressed girl, about ten years of age, struggling in vain to release her hips from the weight which was crushing her slender form, and close behind her were the flames, which in another instant enveloped her in their embrace. Here was a fine-appearing gentleman, of middle age, sitting bolt upright in his seat and unable to extricate himself, calmly awaiting the flames, which soon claimed their victim.

There were bodies floating out from the wreck. A crowd soon made their way to the burning debris, and with the aid of axes and ropes, many were extricated, placed on stretchers and taken to the top of the hill, where the best of assistance awaited them.
 The hotel at the depot was soon filled, and private hospitals were thrown open throughout the town. The surgeons of the town rendered all the assistance in their power, but many perished, notwithstanding the best of care, during the night. Others are now lying in a suffering condition in the hotels and private hospitals.

Cleveland, December 30.—130 A. M.—It is now known that there are seventy-five persons in the wreck of the train, but it cannot be ascertained whether any of them are alive.
 The Cleveland special relief train has arrived, and the surgeons have begun their work.
 2:30 A. M.—The very latest information gives sixty as the number wounded, and one hundred killed.

Laws Relating to Newspaper Subscriptions and Arrangements.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered wishing to continue their subscription.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuation of their periodicals, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office where they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills, and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that "refusing to take periodicals from the office, or removing and leaving them uncollected for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud."

6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

7. If subscribers pay in advance, they are bound to give notice to the publisher at the end of their time, if they do not wish to continue taking it otherwise the publishers are authorized to send it, and the subscribers will be held responsible until an express notice with payment of all arrears, sent to the publisher.

NOTES.

H. H. WENSEL has been appointed stipendiary by the court.

SHERIFF SCULL was a lengthy story in this issue.

MILLER of the Democrat was 25 years old on the 29th ult.

JEROME POWELL, Esq. is on the street again after his illness.

COURT commences on Monday, January 22.

THE Methodist Church at this place is now without a pastor.

AFTER a few weeks we will be enabled to give more reading matter.

MILLER has sufficiently recovered from his late illness to write squibs about the Editor of THE ADVOCATE.

A PARTY of gentlemen and ladies went to Centreville, on Monday afternoon. The sleighing was excellent and we were told they had a good time.

EXAMINE our stock of paper, cards, etc., and get our prices before getting your bill heads, note heads, monthly statements, envelopes, tags, etc., printed.
 We do work cheaply, neatly, and exceptionally.

MILLER is down for the traverse jury. A heavy-weight juror. How his pate will shine with legal lore after court week. We suggest that thereafter the Democrat be called The Juror.

D. C. Oyster's big turkey (he one he took from the Methodist Christmas tree) was devoured on New Year's day. The turkey was an old "buster" weighing while in life upwards of thirty-five pounds "and the fatted turkey corpse we have ever seen."

We hope all persons knowing themselves indebted to this office will come forward and pay, if it is not convenient to pay all, remember that small favors are thankfully received and larger ones in proportion. As this is the commencement of the new year, why is it not a good time to pay up the printer?

Miss Hulbert, the daughter of W.
 P. Hulbert, a millionaire, of Cincinnati, was married on Thursday to Peter J.
 Taft, the eldest son of the Attorney General. The wedding took place at the house of the bride's father, a large mansion in the West End, and the guest are said to have numbered twelve hundred, including the wealth and fashion of Cincinnati.

DELICATE SURGICAL OPERATION.
 Drs. W. B. Hartman and J. S.
 Bordwell, performed a very delicate surgical operation on a son of T. A.
 Neill of this place, Dec. 16th, ult., eight inches of the thigh bone was taken out involving about two-thirds of its circumference, pieces numbering in all seventeen were taken out.
 The disease is the result of injuries sustained about seven years ago. The boy is doing well and it is hoped will fully recover.

SNOW STORM.—Last Friday, snow commenced falling at this place, and has fell more or less ever since, until at this writing the ground is covered to a depth of from eighteen inches to two feet. Trains delayed, and railroad travel made unpleasant and dangerous. No such snow storm has been known in this section for many years. Judge M. L. Ross informs us that in 1830, snow fell here to the depth of four feet, and roads had to be broken with four ox teams, and that it took two days to break the road from here to Boot Jack a distance of four miles, and he added the snow lasted until the first of April.

The Times

Are surely getting better withstanding the croakings of politicians; else why should our most sagacious merchants venture to lay in such tremendous stocks of goods. We notice that our downstairs neighbors, Messes Powell & Kime, are opening up one of the largest and most complete assortments of merchandise that we remember ever before having seen in our town. Indications too are that they have made no mistake in venturing to increase their business, for there is a constant rush for their new goods. Every department of their well arranged salerooms seems to be well filled not only with the choicest of reasonable goods, but also with well pleased and satisfied looking customers.
 If you have not already been there this week, we advise you to go at once.
 You will never be sorry.

THE OLD STORY.

"Billious, weak, nervous, stomach disordered—could not rest nights, etc." Well, let us see how he got out of it. He didn't make himself disagreeable and spend all his time telling people how bad he was, and that he had no faith in medicines. Oh no! he meant business. He went to the store and got a "bottle or two," and here is what he says:

Loona, N. Y., July 25, 1872.
 Dr. M. M. Fenner, Frodoonia, N. Y.—Dear Sir:
 During the past spring I became bilious, nervous, weak, stomach disordered, could not sleep nights and felt constantly oppressed by a sense of imaginary danger. I was treated for several weeks, but all to no purpose. I finally procured a bottle of your Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic, though I not only needed blood-purifying and liver medicine, but I knew my nerves were unstrung and needed toning up. This powerful medicine stirred me up, and in the time it was half gone I thought I felt worse, but I persevered, and by the time it was all gone, I was decidedly better. Another bottle completed the cure and I have been well and strong since. I was told that the medicine felt better until the work of cleansing and restoring had gone on some days. This I deemed so active that I was not to be first few days while the work of cleansing was going on, till the most of it was accomplished, then my improvement was rapid and permanent. If I had stopped after taking the first half bottle and said the Remedy did me no good, because I felt stirred up by it, it would have been a great calamity to me and an injustice to what I consider to be the best remedy ever put before the people. I don't know what would have become of me without it.

Yours truly,
 EDGAR COLLON.

After reading this truthful recital will any perversely irreconcilable invalid still refuse to believe and insist on keeping himself sick?
