Wilcox Notes.

Wilcox Pa., April 3, 1877. Oil will No. 3 is not panning out a hundred barrels a day as predicted by Joe in the last ADVOCATE, neither is the swarm of capitalists visible to the naked eye, yet the well is producing some oil with a fair prospect of its being a paying investment.

A sure way to kill skunks, as demonstrated by actual experiment, in this place a few days ago. First, catch the skunk, get him into a barrel; place the barrel in a conspicuous place near the centre of the village; have it surrounded by a guard of ten men and sixteen boys, let the captain of the guard, pistol in hand, march boldly up and fire four shots into the barrel and it will kill the skunk in just five minutes and nearly suffocate every body in town.

Sabbath School Convention.

A PARTY OF HUNTERS SURPRISED BY THE REDSKINS-FIFTEEN OF THE

WHITES REPORTED KILLED. St. Louis, Mo., April 1 .- Advices from Leavenworth to-night bring intelligence of a fight out on the Buffalo range between a party of hunters and a band of Indians, said to be Sioux, during which fifteen of the hunters were killed, the Indian loss not being ascertained.

After a day's hard work the hun:ers encamped at night, not suspecting the presence of the reds in the vicinity, neglected to put out sentinels, as is customary. About three o'clock in the morning, before daylight, the camp was surprised by a large body of Indians, and as the hunters rushed out to meet their foes they were shot down like sheep. After the first surprise was over the hunters made a desperate charge right into the midst of the ranks of the howling devils, scattering them and forcing them to

It is definitely understood that several Indians were killed, but as they stopped long enough to take away their dead and wounded with them the exact number cannot be ascertained.

The loss sustained by the hunting party was principally by the first fire of the Indians, as the former rushed from their tents to repel the attack. The name of but one hunter is known. he being William Boyd, of Hodgmen county, Kan.
