REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR. GEN. HENRY M. HOYT, OF LUZERNE.

FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, IGEN, CHARLES W. STONE, OF WARREN.

FOR SUPREME COURT JUDGE, JAMES P. STERRETT. OF ALLEGHENY.

FOR SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AF-COL. A. K. DUNKEL, OF PHILADELPHIA.

Notes from Exchanges.

BY COUNTIES.

LYCOMING. From the Gazette and Bulletin.

-Two men entered the house of John Beltzhoover, an aged an well-to-do farmer, living near Boiling Springs, Cumberland county, at midnight on July 30, and after tying him and a woman named Richwine, held revolvers to Mrs. Beltzhoover's head and compelled her to point out where her husband's money was concealed, amounting to $1,000, Mrs. Richwine escaped and gave the alarm, when the robbers fled. In the struggle Beltzhoover was struck on the head with a club and seriously injured. This is the second robbery of a like nature in that vicinity in a week.

-The growth of Bradford, in McKean county, has been wonderful. A year ago it was an idle village of five hundred people; but now its ten thousand are projecting an opera house, churches, high school buildings and fine residences; stores rent at from fifteen hundred dollars to eighteen streets, and building lots bring fancy prices. Its wells are safe and profitable, yielding from twelve thousand to twenty thousand barrels a day, and a railroad is now in progress of construction, which Bradford relies on to make it the greatest centre in the whole oil region.

Tornado in North Carolina. On the afternoon of August 2d a terrible tornado, surpassing in fury any blow known for years, passed over the region about Plymouth, N. C., accompanied by an extraordinary fall of hail, causing great destruction to various descriptions of property. Numerous frame houses and all sorts of fencing were prostrated, the largest trees uprooted, valuable live stock killed, and great damage done to the growing corn and other crops. In Plymouth a Baptist church was blown down and other houses damaged. On the large plantation of Colonel Asa Johnson, just outside of the town, allall outside buildings were swept away, and only the heaviest and strongest portions of the stately mansion were left standing. All that section of country in the path of the tornado suffered similarly. -A dispatch from Burlington, Iowa, says that two tramps stopped at'a farmer's house near Trenton, Henry county, and after getting a good dinner from the farmer's wife, and learning that her husband would not be home till evening, suddenly seized her, outraged her person, and left her insensible. They had stopped the cries of the farmer's little daughter by rolling her up tightly in a blasket. When unrolled the child was nearly suffocacated and died in an hour. The neighbors are scouring the country for the

-A fourteen year old adopted daughter of Edward Crosby, of Brattleboro', Vt., was brutally outraged by a tramp about eleven o'clock this morning, within a short distance of her home, A handkerchief was drawn tightly over her mouth, suppressing her screams. A reward of $500 is offered for the arrest of the villain.

-Dispatches from Texas show that quite a number of railroad towns and cities in that State are thoroughly quarantined against New Orleans, and that it is their determination to keep vellow fever out of Texas if possible. The International and Great Northern railway company refuse to take any passengers, freight, express mat-ter for mails from New Orleans over their road.

-The Graphic Washington special says the extraordinary and unaccountable demand for the low interest bonds still continues, and in the first three days of this month more than $7,000,-000 have been disposed of. The First National Bank is the most active customer, having subscribed for $14,500,000 since July 1. Within the last two months the National Bank circulation has increased $2,432,000. Two-thirds of this increase has been applied for by banks west of the Alleghenies.

-A daughter of Thadeus Frost, twenty-seven years old, living with her father at Belmont, Mass., poured kerosene over her head and clothes and set fire to it. She had been affected by insanity for some time and was closely watched. Her brother had just visited her room to see if she was safe, and had only gone a short distance when he saw smoke issuing from her chamber window. He hastily went to the room, but before aid could be given his sister hundred dollars upon its business was so terribly burned that death soon

Mr. David A. Wells, the champion through their impressive ceremony. of free trade, and the representative in and afterwards conveyed the corpse to the United States of the Cobden Club the Buffalo depot-the Sir Knights in in England, in all his writings and full uniform, and the Emporium band speeches makes it his careful study to impress the laboring classes with the idea that the protective policy is prejudicial to their interests; that it goods, and lessens the purchasing power of their wages. This is done to deceive the wagemen.

Protection has in the past, and always will in a country like ours, secure for the laborer a larger field for employment and better pay than can possibly be obtained weeks. system that brings our goods readymade from Europe and, to the same Male or Female, wanted to sell the Rotary extent, tends to close the avenues of industry in our own country. When business is lively, wage labor is in demand. More railways are being made, more houses are crected in the city and country, more private and public improvements are in progress, and better wages are paid than when factories. wages are paid than when factories and workshops are closed, or running on half time.

The present long-protracted period of stagnation in all kinds of business supervisors J. W. MEAD AND J. C. cannot and must not be charged to the effects of a protective tariff, though the Democratic party, for party purposes, are prone to place it there. It grew out of over-speculation and extravagrance. When a single banking house undertakes to build a railway to span the continent, and thousands of others undertake equally wild though less expensive speculations, it is time to look out for the periodical, commercial the negro quarters, barns, stables and and business break-down; and when our national legislators, through Democratic opposition to prejudicious and necessary measures, protract the sessions of Congress by useless investigations, unfounded charges of maladministration, corruption, defalcation and dishonesty, and leave the legitimate and necessary business in an un- Cr. By am't paid for settled and uncertain condition as to final action, the country must be prepared to suffer from prolonged uncertainty in the public mind, resulting in continued depression and stagnation of business. These are the causes of our present deplorable condition. The protective policy is not only entirely innocent of this charge against it, but it has saved the country through years of rebellion and severe financial trials, sustained and strengthened the financial credit of the Government, and increased the national wealth and prosperity at home and power and inbeen struck at the Bayard Well, fluence abroad. It is designed to organize the expedition about the middle of September, and of course the treat will be a rare one for the faithful employes who have been true to the interests of the company through years. The old engineers will enjoy a week or two of recreation, and it is a graceful act on the part of the corporation to afford them this opportunity to get off from their orduous duties for a brief spell .- Al toona Sun.
