A Falsehood Exploded.

We made a cautious allusion, a short time since, to certain reports designed to affect the standing of General Hoyr. our candidate for Governor, before the religious portion of the community. Our attention was first attracted to the subject by receiving a postal card, inquiring if we knew anything concerning his religious belief, the writer stating that it was reported he was an infidel. Further inquiry established the fact, not only that such reports were current, but that a brother of Mr. DILL, the Democratic candidate for Governor, was helping the circulation of such reports. We denied on our own knowledge, the correctness of this report; but learning that Rev. Dr. NELSON, one of the agents of the Methodist Episcopal Book Concern, at intimately, we took the liberty of writing him on the subject. He was naturally surprised at such reports, and before replying to us, took the precaution to fortify his own knowledge by writing to friends in Luzerne county, and now forwards to us replies received. Our friends will please notice that all speak from personal knowledge. The following are the letters:

New York, Oct. 4, 1878. J. VANNOTE, Esq.,

Pittsburg, Pa. DEAR SIR :- Your note informing me that General Henry M. Hoyt is charged with being an infidel surprised me beyond measure. I have known him well from his boyhood. pared for college at the Wyoming Conference Seminary under my charge, and having graduated at college, at my earnest request, the trustees elected him as one of our teachers in the Seminary. Both in the institution and among all its patrons, as well as thrughout the entire community, he was universally and deservedly held in high esteem. I have always regarded him as a firm believer in the Bible and revealed religion. From his youth up till the change of my residence from Wyoming Valley to this city, six years, ago, so intimate was my acquaintance with General Hoyt that had he been in the least degree inclinfailed to discover it. When I read your note, I said to myself, "it can't be that within the past few years my friend Hoyt has fallen a pray to scepticism," so firmly had I regarded him established in the belief of Christianity. However, to be absolutely sure that no such change in General Hoyt's religious views had taken place within the past six years as to give any occa-H. Olin, presiding elder of Wyoming district, and resident of Wilkesbarre, the General's home.

Herewith I hand you Dr. Olin's letter, and also one from Rev. Dr. Hodge, of the same city. Permit me also to say that Mr. McClintock, to whom Dr. Hodge refers, is known throughout the State as one of the first and most highly respected lawyers of the Luzerne bar. I write in the interest of truth, and not to eulogize General Hoyt, though I have always had a high regard for him as a man of decided ability and sterling merit. I unite with Rev. Drs. Olin and Hodge in declaring the charge that General Hoyt is an infidel, to be wholly without foundation.

Very truly yours, R. NELSON.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1, 1878.

R. NELSON, D. D. DEAR DOCTOR :- Your note of the been acquainted with the General for eight or nine years-the last four and over, in this City,-I never heard such | in jail. a charge even hinted till last week, and then from a slip of newspaper sent me by a friend. After receiving your note yesterday I called on Rev. F. B. Hodge, the Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in this city, and of the family of General Hoyt, and showed him your note. After reading it he buying, emphatically pronounced the charge of infidelity made against the General utterly untrue. From conversations had with several of our older citizens, who have known the General from his young manhood, I have no doubt of the correctness of Rev. Mr. Hodge's characterization of said report. Yours truly,

W. H. OLIN. REV. DR. NELSON.

DEAR SIR:-Dr. Olin has handed me your letter, and I cheerfully add over my own signature an emphatic denial that there is any truth in the report that General Hoyt is an infidel. From personal conversation, and from the testimony of men who knew him intimately, I am positive on this point. And T. McClintock, Esq., well known to you, says he has often heard General Hoyt defend the Bible in dispute with brother lawyers.

Yours respectfully, T B. Hodge. These letters completely explode this mendacious falsehood. The acquaintance of the parties reach back to General Hoyt's young manhood, and follow him to the present. There is, therefore, not a shadow of uncertainty left, on the points at issue. A warfare of this kind is of the meanest possible spirit. As a rule, its tendency, when exposed, is to draw to the party assailed the aid and support of all honorable men. It is peculiarly shameful that a falsehood of this character should have been so industriously circulated against him. And yet, it is, in a sense, a compliment It shows that his opponents realize that he is strong among the better classes, and that if they would harm him, something must be invented. His honest. noble character is proof against fair assault. Therefore to reach him at all, falsehoods must be invented. We miles up Green river, in Kentucky, are gratified to be thus able to lay before our readers so clear and authoritative a refutation of this slander. Let our friends meet the falsehood, and denounce it, wherever they may find it. In point of fact, General Hoyt is a Presbyterian in his religious faith. -Vote for Edward M. Grant and you vote for a man whom you can trust.

"MR. HALL, I find that this bill ed to infidelity, I could not have refers to some two other cases, one of which refers to Erie county. I find upon references to the Act, that this bill requires them [the Railroad Companies, Ed.] to fence at all places except at public crossings. Now, sir, in a great many counties placed in the Act, for instance, Cameron and my own county, there are but few farmers sion, whatever, for charging him with along the line of the railroad. It being an infidel, I wrote Rev. Dr. W. seems to me that the provisions of this Act are a little unreasonable, and therefore on the final passage, I shall vote "no."

"Upon the final passage of the bill, it was not agreed to."

-E. M. Grant will be our next state senator. "Don't you forget it.

-About three weeks ago Ned Lyon died very suddenly, at his home, about ten miles from Hillsboro, N. C. The suspicion of the officials were aroused and the body of the deceased exhumed for scientific analysis of the stomach. There is reason to believe that Lyon was poisoned by a young girl who was very much enamored of him, and who made every effort to get him to make love to her. Lyon took no notice of the girl's advances, and soon afterwards the jealous girl, a few days before his death, visited the house of 28th ultimo, concerning the report that Lyon, and, it is said, carried him a General Hoyt is an infidel, came to piece of cake, of which he ate heartily hand yesterday. In reply I say I have and died the following day. It is be lieved that the cake contained a large amount of arsenic. The girl is now

None of the party were able to swim, and the five named above were drowned. The sixth was rescued after standing in the water several hours with the water up to his chin. The funeral of the victims took place from one house on Tuesday.

Sr. Louis, October 20. - Advices from the West received by the Kansas and revealed religion, in the bar office Pacific Railroad Company say the Sheriffs of Saline, Rice and Hayes counties, Kansas, with a strong posse of men, attacked the rendezvous of a gang of train robbers west of Brookfield, on the eastern border of the Great American Desert, some two hundred miles west of Kansas City, early yesterday morning, captured Mike Rouke, the leader of the gang and a notorious desperado, and wounded Dan Demont, who, however, escaped. Three others of the gang also got away, but the party started in pursuit at once, going South toward Fort Dodge. Mike Rouke was leader of the band that robbed the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train at Kinsly. and the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluff train at Winthrop, some months ago. It is believed his capture will break up one of the strongest and most desperate bands of thieves and robbers ever organized. -The particulars of a terrible murder near Burk City, a little town ten have just come out. A desperado named Neal, aged twenty-five years, was at Burk City with a well known farmer of that section, named Samuel Gerhardt, and both drank considerable whisky and started home with a quart bottle. At Gerhart's, where Neal was to stay all night, the latter asked Gerhardt to take another drink. Gerhardt's son, aged nineteen, interfered and said: "Father has had enough." Neal said: "By G-d, he's got to drink or fight," and a row began between Neal and the boy, in which the latter was knocked down and cut boy ran up and caught Neal's coat, begging him not to kill the boy, when the infuriated desperado stabbed her in the left breast near the heart, from the effects of which she died the next day. A melee ensued, in which anwas cut, and Neal also badly cut. The murderer then fled to a farm several miles distant, where he was arrested Novalay and was vectorlay cont. Monday, and was yesterday sent to jail. It is probable that the boy will die, and Neal is in a precarious condi-
