

Indiana county has become one of the great horse markets of the State.

The wrestling match at Baltimore between Miller and McLaughlin last Thursday night came to an end shortly after two o'clock Friday morning, the referee declaring the match ended and a draw.

Twelve women, divided equally as to numbers, went to a quiet spot near Vincennes, Ind., to settle a feud by a fight. Several hundred men witnessed the combat, which lasted half an hour, and disfigured twelve faces.

Deadwood, April 10. - Seven Indians attacked Sergeant Kennedy, late Signal Observer at Deadwood, and a private soldier named Bader. The two men were eating lunch at Mizpah, forty-five miles from Fort Keogh, their destination, when fired upon.

A negro with a skull like unto wrought iron is the hero of the Wilmington, N. C., wharves. He was at work unloading a cargo of ice from a vessel when an accident occurred. The ice was received at a door on the top story of the ice house and lowered to the ground floor—a distance of fifty feet.

The little Prince Waldemar of the German empire, whose death the telegraph has announced, was just 11 years old, being born on the 10th of February, 1868. He was entitled to the rank and uniform of a lieutenant in the Imperial Guards, and was never so happy as when allowed to mix with the soldiers at Potsdam, not far from the lovely little palace in which his father, the Crown Prince, resided.

Side by side with the recovery of her prosperity, France has kept in view the recovery of her military position. Out of a population of about 37,000,000, about 700,000 men are in the active army, 510,000 in the reserve, 552,000 in the territorial army, and 625,000 in the territorial reserve—making a total of about 2,400,000 men, all of whom have received some amount of military training.

Tennessee and Virginia have both arranged for the equitable adjustment of their public debts, although the terms are not alike as to both states. Virginia has debt and unpaid interest to the amount of $32,000,000. It is provided that $8,000,000 shall be funded into three per cent. bonds before Jan. 1, 1880, and $5,000,000 more each succeeding six months until the whole is refunded.

Washington Letter. (From our regular Correspondent.) Washington, D. C., April 14th. When the vote was taken on the army bill, with the repealing amendments attached, the Greenback members in the House voted with the Democrats, with three exceptions. It has since been said that their votes were so cast in pursuance of an agreement on the part of the Democrats to vote for a Monday session, to permit the introduction of a certain financial measure, which can only be offered on Mondays.

The idea of authorizing by law the formation of a corps of parliamentary attorneys has again been brought forward. But, as usual, it is made to illustrate the all-grasping disposition of the legal profession, and in that respect needs watching. As proposed, the members of the corps authorized to register for practice before the committees of Congress must be members of the bar.

Ex-Gov. McCormick, the Chief Commissioner from the United States to the Paris Exhibition, tells the Washington Post that the Yankees pleased the Europeans with American scales, watches, locomotives, anthracite coal and fine machinery. It appears, too, that our exhibit of dead-headism caused astonishment, for he says: "The officials were overwhelmed by crowds of Commissioners who came over and made demands for tickets and social privileges, and greatly puzzled the French officials, who could not imagine why they should be so numerous. The law provided for the appointment of twenty additional Commissioners. These honorary Commissioners were created, two from each State, appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the President. Then it was decided that each State and Territory might send as many as it pleased, and Governors made out blanks accordingly. Such a cloud of witnesses made confusion, which the French Government finally reduced to order by deciding that they would recognize only those appointed by the President."

The Bradford Era prints a long account of a case of inhuman wife beating that occurred in Harrisburg, a small village near Bradford, some two weeks since. The brute is a man named Kneeland Coy, who of late has been given to drink, and when under the influence of liquor, frequently abuses his family. About two weeks ago, during one of his sprees, after abusing his wife with his tongue, he brutally beat and kicked her, causing her death some ten days after, and also the death of her unborn child. The Era says: "The woman in her suffering realized that her earthly life was drawing to a close, and called to her beside her cruel and semi-maddened husband. In a weak, tremulous, but withal earnest and kindly tone requested as a dying boon that he would promise to care for the four motherless and helpless little children, when she was laid away in the grave. This the man declared he would do so far as he was able. The dying woman knowing that he must neglect her children if he continued in the excessive use of liquor, urged above all other requests that he would consent so discontinued the use of strong drinks. He replied that he could not make such a promise. She repeated her request and pleaded in the most piteous manner, but the brutal man sent the woman to her grave with an indifferent heart. It is said that when 'the vital spark of heavenly flame' took its departure the husband was absent, doubtless in quest of drink. Wednesday Mr. Rogers apprised by telegram the friends of Mrs. Coy, who reside somewhere in Potter county, this State of her death. Yesterday a brother and two sisters arrived in the city and have taken charge of the corpses. They disposed of most of the furniture, which was scant enough, and intend taking the children with them to their homestead in the place name d. The furniture was owned personally by Mrs. Coy. It is said that about two years ago the Coys became estranged by the bad conduct of Kneeland, and Mrs. Coy returned to her friends. Coy afterwards visited her home and made many promises of doing better in the future. Somewhat against the wishes of her friends, Mrs. Coy again returned to live with her husband. To-day the remains of mother and child, together with the four children, the eldest of whom is eleven years and the youngest five, will be taken by the dead woman's relatives to Potter county."

KINGSTON, N. Y. April 11.—Van Gasbeck, the notorious fire bug recently sentenced to twenty years in the Clinton State prison, was drunk on the night of his last incendiarism. William Meeckens, the owner of the building burned, brings suit against William Murphy, the owner of the building in which Morgan Harris has a saloon. It is charged that Van Gasbeck procured his liquor from Harris, and that under the Civil Damage law Murphy, the landlord of Harris, is liable for damages. Plaintiff claims that, in view of the late decision of the Court of Appeals in the Middletown case, they cannot fail to recover. Attorney-General Schoonmaker and other leading lawyers of this section are interested. The result will establish an interesting precedent.

A Handsome Income For An ENERGETIC LADY OR GENTLEMAN. The Ohio Scale Works of Cincinnati have just patented and are now introducing to the public a Handsomely finished Family Scale, an article that has always been needed in every household, and in a communication addressed to the publishers of this paper the proprietors ask us to refer them to some reliable party, to introduce it for them to the people of this County. It is very seldom that a new article steps so suddenly into universal favor. House-keepers are loud in its praise, it is always ready, there are no weights to get lost or to be hunted up, it is reliable, and will not get out of order. The description of them is a handsome base surmounted by a column in which works a spiral spring so scientifically adjusted as to weigh anything up to twelve pounds with perfect accuracy, on the top of the column is the platform on which the articles to be weighed are placed, and they have an adjustable indicator so that you can take the tare of any vessel you may use in weighing, giving you the exact net weight. House-keepers at once see their value in weighing fruits, sugars and other ingredients used in preserving, cooking, or in testing the weights of purchases from others. The scales are made of Brass, are highly polished and are finished in a skillful manner. They are very attractive and take the eye of every one who sees them. It seems to us that nearly every family in this county will want one, and is certainly a rare opportunity for some smart and energetic party to pick up quite a nice little income during the next few months. The Company has agents in other countries who are easily making from $5.00 to $8.00 per day selling them, and we would recommend parties in need of employment to drop the OHIO SCALE WORKS, No. 125 and 127 Central Avenue, Cincinnati, O., a Postal Card, and all information etc., will be cheerfully given them by mentioning our paper.
