-A gentleman who has just arrived at Washington from General Garfield's home at Mentor says that he has within a few days received more than a thousand letters and telegrams from ex-members of the "Boys in Blue," suggesting that the old organizations be revived and put in working order for the campaign.

-"Consider what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive. These are the principles they fought for for four years. Remember the men who poured forth their blood on Virginia's soil and do not abandon them now. Remember that upon your vote depends the success of the Democratic ticket."--Wade Hampton's speech at Staunton Va., July 26, 1880.

-Judge Kelley was interviewed in Washington on Wednesday by a correspondent of the New York Times with this result: "Of course I have oppinions concerning the result of the Presidential election in other States, but I know what the result will be in Pennsylvania. My intercourse with the people, irrespective of party, has satisfied me that the tariff and freeship planks in the Democratic platform will give the Republican an unusual majority in that State, and probably add to the Republican strength of the next Congressional delegation.

HIGH PRIVATE'S VIEWS OF GEN-ERAL HANCOCK'S CANDIDACY. Philadelphia, July 28. - A private soldier of Hancock's corps, at Greenville, Pa., having been requested to organize a Hancock Club, responded as follows : St. Clair A. Millholland, 3445 Walnut Street, Philadelphia : DEAR SIR-Yours of the 15th inst. is at hand asking for my "co-operation and assistance," with a view to organizing a "Hancock Club" in this place. I am compelled to state that there has been a "club" already formed in the town - immediately after news from Chicago was received.

It was organized though as a "Garfield" Club, and all old soldiers of this place, with one or two exceptions, belong to it. I was in Hancock's corps (the 2d) and served from August 11th, 1862, until May 31st, 1865, and have an honorable discharge, but at this date don't propose to have my share of fighting go for naught. It is not Hancock personally that I object to but it is the party that nominated him

You also say it is appropriate that the "great soldier of Clettysburg, who shed his blood upon our soil in defense of his native state, should receive our support." Very true; still thousands more beside Hancock "shed their blood? and, I doubt not, many greater than he.

As I said before, I am sorry that I an eather no material vote of soldiers. in this place out of which to organize a "Hancock Club." They train in the other crowd. prison pen, that I ought to starve to death." Can I so far forget myself as to vote for the party which tried for four long years to dissolve our Union? No! Hancock is good as a general, but he travels with a very had crowd-

If I live until fall I shall vote as I shot. Respectfully yours,

A. A. YEAREL.
