Burning of the Collins House, Centre-

Last Thursday night, July 29, or rather Friday morning at about 2 o'clock, the barn attached to the Collins House, Centreville, was discovered to be on fire, in fact was almost entirely consumed when discovered. The house soon caught and was burned to the ground. In the barn was three horses, hack, harness, hay, etc., all of which were consumed. A greater share of the furniture in the house was saved. Loss all told about $5,000; Insurance on house $2,000. The furniture was taken out of the McCauley House on the opposite side of the street, as was the material from the harness shop owned by Wm. Me-Cauley. The McCauley House was also conducted by Wm. McCauley. The damage done to the McCauley House furniture was considerble John Collins owned the Collins House, barn, horses, etc. He had been on the jury in the case of the murdered Swede, John Johnson, and it is surmised that his property was fired by reason of some fancied wrong in connection with the murder trial. Still More Concerning the Centreville Murder.

The evidence, in the Centreville. murder case in which John Johnson, a Swede, lost his life was concluded on Thursday afternoon of last week, and s volumnous in extent, so extensive is it that we do not attempt giving even a synopsis of the proceedings. In addition to the men we mentioned as being arrested last week, Robert McCormick is now in the county jail in connection with the murder. On the evening after the first six were arrested McCormick said said he could put his hand on the man who committed the murder, when he was arrested and held as a witness, John Collins going his ball for appearance at the September term of court, when he threatened to decamp and leave Collins to pay the bail. Hearing of this Collins again had him brought before Esquire Taylor on the ball piece. Upon this examination he swore that he knew nothing about the murder at all, when Esquire Taylor committed friends at this place. McCormick for perjury to await the action of the Court in September.

There are now seven men in jail all connected directly or indirectly with Horton township on account of diphthe murder of the Swede, Johnson. A theria. tremendous amount of testimony, a we have before said, has been taken, and yet there seems to be surrounding the case an air of mystery which nothing short of a trial in court will set right. Death of a Millionaire.

About one o'clock Monday morning Walter Bryant stepped out of the econd story window of the room at the Hyde House where he was sleeping_landing on his back in a greatly demoralized condition. His groans attracted the attention of guests of the house who on ascertaining the cause at once went to the assistance of the wounded man. He was conscious when found, and said he had been dreaming and imagined that he was in a carriage and being conveyed to a place to water company of his own. He will which he did not wish to go, when he succeeded in freeling himself and as he from springs at the top of the hill supposed stepped from the carriage. 1. Democrats starved my father to death in a rebel prison. 2. Democrats tried to sever this

3. Democrats sought to extend slavery all over this country,

4. Southern Democrats constitute the tree, and Northern Democrats are the "grafts," and "by the fruit shall we know the tree."

Republican Campaign Manual.

A "Republican Manual" for the amprign of 1880, is announced as in print and very soon to be issued. It is written by Mr. E. V. Smalley, long known as a brilliant newspaper correspondent, and for many years a leading editoral writer on the New York Tribune. Leading features of the book, will of course be biographies of the candidates. It will be the most authoritive and most complete sketch of General Garfield which will appear. Mr. Smalley was at one time the General's private secretary, and has been his intimate friend during the whole of his public career, and is therefore qualified by special advantages as well as by talent and experience for the task undertaken. "Garileld as an Orator and as Statesman" is a special department, etc. containing extracts from the General's most celebrated speeches, upon topics of the greatest interest in the present campaign; and representing the best efforts of a brilliant scholar, an orator of rare power, and a statesman of conticularly valuable for reference in political campaigns.

It is a book which carnest Republicans will delight in, and find the best of all arsenals from which to draw ammunition for campaign use; a book which the independent and conserva seventeen years ago," who, it justly tive voters will study with interest and profit; a book which small Democrati stump speakers will steer clear of when they can. It is published by the American Book Exchange, New York, whose "Literary Revolution" has been the wonder and pleasure of book buyers for months past, and its price, therefore, is only fifty cents, with seven cents extra for postage where sent by mail. Leading book-sellers, agents of the publishers, will have it.

> -Chairman Jewell, while at the Boston dinner of the Massachusetts Republican Committee, alluded to the filing at Waahington, one week after Hancock's nomination, of the first claim for pension for a rebel soldier. "I have had it in my hand," he said, "and I honestly believe it is only the advance guard of hundreds of thousands of claims of that kind. The Southern Brigadiers will say at once, if they get control, 'We have been pretty liberal with you at the North; there is nothing mean about us; put men and officers who fought to destroy this government, as an earnest that they shall be recognized in some parts, they openly avow that their men shall be put on our rolls, and so the claim is filed in Washington."

-Chicago Tribune: "The Hancock boom' resembles a bumble-bee in one respect-that of being largest when first hatched. Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopædia in 20 Vols., over 16,060 pages; 10 per cent. more matter than any Encyclopædia ever before published in this country, and sold handsomely and well bound, in cloth for $10, in half morocco for $15; and printed on fine heavy paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, glit top, for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution.

THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE is a reprint entire of the last (1879) Edinburgh edition of "Chamber's Encyclopædia." with about 40 per cent of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readers thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority of those who consult works of refer-sence and altogether the intest Encyclopedia in the field.

Leading principles of the American Book Exchange:

Publish only books of real value,
. Work upon the basis of present cost of making books, about one half what it was fit, Sell to buyers direct, and save them 59 to 59 per ceet commission commonly allowed to dealers.

IV. The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 500 at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity.

V. Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "padding," fat and heavily lacked type, spongy paper and gaudy binding, which are so commonly resorted to make books appear large and fine, and which greatly add to their cost, but do not add to thir value.

VI. To make $1 and a friend is better than to make $5 and an enemy.
