THE HEAVIEST IRON-CLAD AFLOAT. Reading, October 24.-Early this morning preparations were begun to east the Lyman Haskell multicharge cannon at the Scott works of the sociate Judge. Reading iron works, in this city. Two reverberating furnaces were charged with 57,100 pounds of coal blast char- erel, codfish, and bologna sausage at coal iron from four other furnaces and the east was successfully made this afternoon. The fifty-seven thousand pounds of metal was poured into the mould in six minutes. It will require about two weeks to cool before the gun can be taken from the pit.

The gun is thirty-five feet long, and the bore, when finished, six inches in diameter. Along the bore four pockets will be located, in each of which a charge of powder will be placed to accelerate the speed of the ball after it leaves the chamber of the gun. It is claimed that a ball thrown from this gun will penetrate through two feet of fires are put by careful estimates at wrought solid iron.
