Panics for Tourists and Emigrants.

Whether for the tourist, bent on pleasure or business, or the emigrant seeking a far Western home, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the best protector against the hurtful influences of climatic changes or malaria; the most reliable medicine for general use, can possibly carry with him. It nullifies the pernicious madden changes of temperature, braces the system against the enfeebling influence of excessive heat, prevents influenza consequent from a change of diet or of using bad food or water, is a fine resticant of physical energy diminished by the fatigue of traveling, and tends to counteract the effects of exposure to rough weather. It is much and serviceably used by mariners and others whose out-door life and arduous labor expose them unusually. It is moreover of great service as a preventive and curative of disorders of the stomach, liver, bowels, and as a general tonic.
