A CAUSE of poker in which $150,000 was lost in one "hand" has come to light in Newburg, N. Y., by a lawsuit. According to the publisher accounts Francis P. Wood, son of a millionaire; Dr. M. M. Hedges, a dentist, of sporting proclivities; and William M. Scott, all well-known Newburgers, sat down one day about a year ago to play poker. During the game Wood and Scott were each dealt a large "hand" by Dr. Hedges, and began to beat heavily. The bets rose rapidly until each had in the "pot" about $150,000. When the "call" came Scott showed a "straight flush," while Wood had four aces and lost the money. It is said that Wood protested against having to pay the full amount he had wagered, and after a general discussion it was agreed to compromise with him for $120,000. Dr. Wood received $50,000 cash and gave two notes for $50,000 each, payable in six and nine months. He paid the greater part of the note, but finally has concluded that Hedges and Scott were in collusion and that he had been cheated. He therefore seeks to get back his money by a lawsuit.

The Maine Republican State convention at Portland nominated Frederick Rolfe for governor, and Thomas B. Reed, Nelson Dingley, Jr., and Seth D. Milliken for Congress. The platform declares that the right of every qualified voter to cast his ballot and have it honestly counted must be maintained by law impartially enforced. Free schools must be maintained and universal education secured. The present banking system is commended, and gold and silver are declared to be the only constitutional legal tender in time of peace, the dollar of one metal to possess the same intrinsic value as the dollar of the other. Unalterable opposition is declared to the abolition or reduction of the internal revenue tax on liquor. The Republican majority in Congress is thanked "for its firmness against those who would tamper with the Constitution, and its declaration in President Arthur's administration."

A LITTLE boy who used a New York horse car company for the loss of his leg was awarded by the jury $20,000.

At the hearing of Dr. M. M. Hedges, jointly charged with W. F. Scott with defrauding F. P. Wood, of Newburg, out of $150,000, the complainant in his examination testified that shortly after his losses at poker he had lost the further sum of $455,000 at a game of faro, played in Dr. Hedges' saloon.

When the American ship Freeman Clark left Calcutta, India, on her last trip, she was commanded by Captain James S. Dwight. When the vessel arrived in New York First Mate William Williams was in command. Captain Dwight had been murdered by the steward and the cook of the vessel, both Malay Chinamen. While Captain Dwight was in his room one morning he was attacked by the two men—one armed with a hatchet and the other with a knife—and hacked to death. The Chinamen then ran amuck through the vessel, trying to kill every one who came in their way. After a desperate struggle they were both killed by the crew and thrown overboard. The murderous assault was caused, it is believed, by Captain Dwight's having ordered the Chinamen to stop smoking opium, and throwing their supply of the drug overboard when he found them disobeying his order.

Foreign News.

FURTHER reports from Alexandria, Egypt, state that sixty-seven Europeans were killed during the riot. On the following day all the shops in the city were closed. The object of the rioters appears to have been pillage. Fifty hundred troops were sent from Cairo to Alexandria to preserve order. At a meeting of the foreign consuls with Derwish Pacha, the Khedive and Arabi Pacha, a solemn engagement was entered into that the khedive should undertake to maintain order, and that Arabi Pacha should strictly obey the khedive's commands.

A SPECIAL dispatch to the New York Herald a few days after the outbreak in Alexandria, Egypt, says: "Words fail to describe the state of panic in Alexandria. The streets are blocked. Carts are piled with the baggage of fleeing Europeans. All the shops of the harbor are crowded with fugitives. The American frigate Galea is crowded with families claiming American protection. News Joseph and Richard Smith, of New York and Baltimore, have taken refuge on board the officers, though greatly inconvenienced, courteously giving up their cabins to the ladies. One American officer narrowly escaped while in the company of a British officer who was killed in the fight. The American government should issue a warning to its citizens in Egypt to leave immediately, and send a vessel to the Suez canal, to receive the fugitives from Cairo, should communication between Cairo and Alexandria be cut off. The disturbance now transpiring was evidently premeditated, breaking out in several places at once. Europeans were dragged out of their carriages and murdered with sticks and logs of tables or chairs obtained by sacking the shops. In all there are forty-eight Europeans killed. The British consul is still in danger. Three officers of the British fleet were buried at sea to-day, the American marines presenting arms, and the officers and crew of the frigates in Alexandria, with the assistance of a fanatic orator, organized the outbreak, the soldiers setting the example of sacking the shops. Many of the dead were killed by bayonets. The khedive arrived from Cairo this afternoon. He was coldly received by the population. He expressed himself greatly astonished at the agitation and excitement visible throughout the city. The natives declare that they will resist all intervention, Turkish or other. There are patrols throughout the city to-night. Soldiers are placed as every fifty yards." Another account says that 100 persons were killed in the riots. The khedive and Derwish Pacha went to Alexandria in pursuance of orders from the sultan of Turkey.

THE outlook for the crops in Europe is promising.

Yarvon, the Canadian weather prophet, makes the following prognostications concerning the weather during the summer, autumn and winter: "The general outlook for the summer season in southern sections is improving owing to the continuance of very windy weather in northern and western sections of Canada and United States. The probabilities, however, for the autumn months are increasing in favor of the same basis of reasoning. My theory of 'Wea her Relationships' is working in a telling manner all over the country. I now feel considerable confidence in predicting for the periods of the more prominent disturbances, thus I herewith reiterate my former statement respecting 'a very stormy autumn,' with early settling in of extreme severity and heavy snow-falls, reaching to remote southern points. We are likely to experience one of the coldest periods in a long term of years during the early part of the winter of 1882-83, but we will have the cold abated. The latter portion of the winter will be mild and open with a very abundant spring."

Evictions in Ireland continue at the rate of 1,020 a week.

A later dispatch from Grinnell said that forty-two were dead and that five or six more were reported to have been killed. The work of the cyclone was observed and explored near the shores of Lady Franklin bay and at Port Barrow, Alaska. Several of the bills were introduced by Betty Taylor Dandridge, the daughter of Zachary Taylor.

Long Life.

We should live as long as we honorably can. We should do all in our power to bring the longest life to those who are young. It is a matter of calculation that the average length of human life is on the increase—slowly but surely. In the good time coming, when crimes and intemperance and war shall be reduced to the minimum—when accidents shall be better guarded against, when diseases shall be more promptly cured, when remedies more correctly applied—when the calmness of Christian life shall tell more signally upon the human frame, and when the invigorating influence of generations of correct life shall have toned up the whole race—then years shall be added to the average length of life. Men of eighty will be as numerous as men of sixty are to-day; men of ninety will crowd the marts of commerce, and not until men are a hundred years old will they say that the time has come to retire to spend the evening of life. "There shall be no more thence an infant of fifty, nor an old man than of a child shall die a hundred years old." Isaiah lv. 20.

There's a wideness in God's mercy, Like the wideness of the sea; There's a kindness in His justice, Which is more than can be seen. For the love of God is broader Than the measure of man's mind; And the Heart of the Eternal Is not weighed by mortal weight. If our love were but more simple, We should take Him at His word; And His mercy would be laid upon us, In the sweetness of our Lord.

Merchant's GARGOLING OIL.

for human, how the animal flesh, was first prepared and introduced by Dr. Geo. W. Merchant, in Lockport, N. Y. It is now acknowledged and admitted by the medical profession of the country. When we make this announcement we do so with confidence, for our condition, notwithstanding we are aware there are many who are more or less prejudiced against proprietary remedies, especially on account of the many humbugs on the market, however, we are pleased to see that the medical profession is so far from being prejudiced against GARGOLING OIL. We do not claim wondrous cures or miracles.

It is without an equal. It is put up in white wrap, and is not equal to any other. It is not equal to any other. It is not equal to any other.

Cannot be Disputed.

One of the principal reasons of the wonderful success of Merchant's Gargoling Oil is that it is manufactured strictly on honor. Its proprietors do not, as is the case with too many, after making a fortune, resort to the sale of their property by using inferior compounds, but they continue to perfect their formulae, and continue to do so, long as time endures. For sale by all respectable druggists throughout the United States and other countries.

Our testimonials date from 1833, and are to be found in the following works: "Gargoling Oil Lintiment for Internal and External Use, and for all the Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Bronchitis." "Gargoling Oil Lintiment for Internal and External Use, and for all the Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Bronchitis."
