GUTHRIE'S GEOGRAPHY Improved.

THE subscription for this work on the original terms, of twelve dollars and the binding, will be closed this day—and on Monday the subscription will open at fourteen dollars, exclusive of the price of binding.
The new maps added to this edition are twenty one; among which are those of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode-Island, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, the Genesee Government, South Carolina, and Georgia. These maps have never been given in any former edition of Geography, and it is hoped, would alone be sufficient to entitle this work to a preference to any other edition of Guthrie.
N. B. The map of the United States, which is compiling by Mr. Samuel Lewis, from the respective state maps, will be far more complete than any yet published, and be printed on two large sheets of paper, nearly the size of the late Mr. Murray's map.

Lane, living on the premises, will show this tract.

My only object being to raise a certain sum of money, by selling to many or such parts of the above said tracts of land and lots, as shall be necessary for that purpose, one half of the purchase money must be paid at the time of contract, and the other within a year from the first day of August next, and at the time of delivering possession or executing a legal conveyance. One thousand Dollars REWARD.

Some few Counterfeit Post-Notes of the Bank of Maryland, having been lately discovered in circulation, and on tracing the same were found to come from the back-parts of Virginia, where they probably first issued; to avoid imposition it is thought necessary to give the following description of them, by which they may readily be detected.
They have the letter D. for their alphabetical mark, at the left hand side of the Note.
The paper on which they are printed is more soft and tender, the strokes of the letters, in the engraving are in general fronger, and have a darker appearance than in the bills.
The signature, William Patterson, is badly done, the strokes of the letters, are stiff and labor'd, and appear to be pointed over with the pen, as well as the flourishing of the name.
The value is left blank in the engraving, to be filled up in blanks, to the full, or more or less at pleasure.
No. 18. Post-Notes of the alphabetical mark, above described, have been lately issued, and very few are now in circulation.
The above reward of One Thousand dollars will be paid to any person, or persons, who shall discover, or prosecute to conviction, the several offenders, or any of them, of the following descriptions, viz.
The person or persons, who engraved the late.
The printer, or printers of the said bills.
Every person who has acted as principal in any way in the counterfeiting and uttering the said bills.

The Public are cautioned to beware of counterfeit Five Dollar Bills of the Bank of the United States, and Twenty Dollar Bills of the Bank of North America, several of which have appeared in circulation within a few days past, they are good general imitation of the genuine Bills, but may be distinguished by the following MARKS.

Five Dollar Bills of the Bank of the United States. ALL that have appeared have the letter F. for their Alphabetical Mark. The Texture of the Paper is thicker, and whiter and it takes the ink more freely than the genuine paper. The O. in the word Company is smaller than the M. and other letters of that word, is that a line extended from the top of an O, to touch the top of the M. would extend considerably above the range of the whole word. In the word United the letters are lower and closer together than the rest of the bill. The r and f in the word promise are not parallel, the f inclining much more forward than the i.

The engraving is badly executed, the strokes of all the letters are fronger, and the device in the margin particularly is much coarser and appears darker than in the genuine bills. Some of the counterfeiters bear date in 1791—Whereas the Bank was not in operation till December, and no five dollar bills were issued in that year.

Twenty Dollar Bills of the Bank of North America. ALL that have appeared have the letter N. for their alphabetical mark. They are printed on a paper nearly similar to that of the counterfeit Five Dollar Notes above described; the engraving is better executed, and they approach nearer to the appearance of the genuine bills. The five ruled lines through the word Twenty, in the body of the bill, are in number thirteen in the genuine bills, and but twelve in the counterfeiters.

The word Company is much like the same in the Five Dollar Bills as described above, the o being less than the n, and others following. There is no stroke in the word North whereas in the genuine bills the stroke is well defined. The letters ent in the word Twenty at the left hand of the bottom, do not extend down to the line, but are so far as to have an irregular appearance in the word Ten and they going below the line.

The signature J. N. is not the appearance of being written with an ink black as out, and differs from blue ink used in printing the bills and the counter's signature.
It is supposed these counterfeit bills were committed in some of the Southern States, as all the counterfeiters that have appeared, have come from thence, and two persons have been apprehended in Virginia, on suspicion of being the author of them.

The reward of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS will be paid to any Person or Persons who shall discover and prosecute to conviction the several offenders of the following descriptions or any of them, viz.
The person or persons, who manufactured the paper on which the Bills are printed.
The person or persons, who engraved the plates.
The printer or printers, of the bills.
Every person who has acted as principal in any other way, in the counterfeiting and uttering the said bills.
Philadelphia, March 28, 1794
April 22, 1794

Other counterfeit bills of the Bank of the United States have appeared in circulation. The denomination is of TWENTY DOLLARS, and the alphabetical mark the letter B.

They may be distinguished from the genuine by the following MARKS:
The paper of the counterfeiters is of a more tender texture and glossier than the genuine, and there is no mark in them.
The letter C. in the word Callers in the true bills is wrongly marked, whereas in the counterfeiters, the whole letter has a hair stroke, evidently in an engraved state. The letter a in the word debt is badly formed and the whole word is indistinct and there is no comma at the end of the word here is in the genuine bills.

The marginal device, is much more on the fall, than in the genuine bills, and the shade strokes being coarser, and closer together, and consequently more numerous. This difference will be at first view.
The same reward of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, will be paid for apprehending and prosecuting to conviction the several offenders of the following descriptions, viz.
To the last described bills.
THOMAS WILLING, President of the Bank of the United States.
JOHN NIXON, Clerk of the Bank of North America.
By order of the Commissioners of the Bank of North America.
