Lachawannock.

A LARGE body of LAND on this river and its waters, is now for fale to Settlees only, on moderate terms, and at a long credit. The fail is remarkably fertile, and numerous threams of water are interspersed through the whole country.

The main river flows through one tract of about thirty thousand acres, and is with he exception of one obstruction, navigable to the Susquehannab.

Spring Brook Creek, which with its branches, waters another tract of about forty thousand acres of good Land, empties itself into the Lachawannock, about twelve miles from the Susquehannab.

It affords numerous Mill feats, & in its course creates largebodies of well watered meadow ground.

The other tracts are intersected for the accommodation of the settlers.

Roads are cut in different directions, towards the most convenient markets.

The county town is not more than 12 mles distant from many parts of the set tlement.

The Susquehannah affords an easy and

The Sufgrehannah affords an eafy and fafe navigation to Middleton, from whence the Canal to Schuykill extends the communication to the city.

Another means of connection with Philadelphia, is by the Delaware, from which the diffance infeveral places is about thirty wiles.

The proprietors combining their own interest with that of the inhabitants, are disposed to erect works of public utility, open uoads, &c. and in every en miles square, a tract of one hundred acres is allotted for a School, and one hundred acres for the first resident clergyman of any denomination of Christians.

For further particulars apply to Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, Pennfylvania, July 9.

Lettersdirected in George Eddy, at Phiadelphia, or this place, or to Thomas Eddy, at New York, relative to this business, will be duly answered.

This Lottery will afford an elegant specimen of the private baildings to be erected in the City of Walhington.—Two beautiful defigns are already sele sted for the entire fronts on two of the public squares; from these drawings, it is preposed to erect two centre and sour corner buildings, as soon as possible after this Lottery is fold, and to convey them when complete, tethe fortunate adventurers, in the manner decribed in the scheme for the Hotel Lottery. A next deduction of swe per cent, will be made to destray the necessary expences of priming, &c., and the surplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National University, to be creeked within the City of Washington.

(1) The drawing will commence as soon as the Tickets are fold, or at all events on Monday, the 22nd of December next: The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is sinished, and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is closed are to be considered as given towards the fund for the University, it being determined to settle the whole business in a year from the ending of the drawing and to take up the bonds given as security.

The real securities given so the payment of the Prizes, are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the Lottery. The drawing will be under the management of 24 gentlemen approved by the commissioners for the City of Washington, for the time being, and acting on oath.

EVER folicitous to render his MUSEUM fill more and more an object of rational entertainment, and subservient to the interests of useful science, has on the suggestion and with the advice of a number of his friends, provided a Book, which will be always open for the inspection of those who visit his Museum, in which book it is proposed to insert all such discoveries, inventions, improvements, schemes, observations, experiments, projects, hints or queries relating to the arts or sciences, as any of his visitors, or correspondents, may from time to time communicate.

Such as may chuse to conceal their names may either send their communications anonymous, or at their desire, C- W. Peale will insert their names, with the number or signature of ther respective communications in a private book which he shill keep for that purpose.

tions in a private book which he shill keep for that purpose.

The advantages of such a public register are obvious. It will refue from oblivion many useful hims, which might otherwise have died with their authors. It may secure to inventors their just claims, and prevent others from taking the honor or prosit of a discovery to which they are not entitled, and as the Museum is now visited by persons from almost all parts of the world, suce a register, it is presumed, will foon contain and be the means of diffeminating a vast fund of useful knowledge, and promote that spirit of enquiry and invenpromote that spirit of enquiry and inven-tion, for which the people of the United States are already so justly d'Ainguished.
