The Ground Plan OF THE City and Suburbs OF PHILADELPHIA.

TAKEN FROM ACTUAL SURVEY.
IT is with pleasure that the publisher has to inform his subscribers and the public in general, that the plate is now, under the hands of the engraver, and in greater forwardness than was at first contemplated. At the same time he begs leave to remind them, that subscription papers are still open at most of the noted book-stores in the city; and that he hopes from the whole of them to be enabled to furnish a respectable catalogue of names, as well as do a credit to the work, as well as afford a reasonable encouragement to the undertaker.

Those who are desirous of further information are requested to call on

Aug. 10,

Philadelphia, September 17, 1794. General orders.

THE Governor takes the earliest opportunity of expressing his sincere thanks to the quotas of the brigades of the city and county of Philadelphia militia, for their punctual and general attendance at the camp this day. In a particular manner he acknowledges his obligations to Col.
Gurney and his regiment, to Captains Dunlap, Singer, and McConnell, and the cavalry under their command;—to the corps of Artillery; to the several corps of Grenadiers and light infantry, attached on this occasion to Colonel Gurney's regiment; to the volunteer company of light infantry under the command of Major McPherson; and the corps from Southwark. A conduct so honorable, and so spirited, cannot fail to excite a patriotic emulation thro'out the state; and the Governor, with heart-felt satisfaction, anticipates a correspondent effect, in protecting our constitution and laws from the threatened violation and subversion.— Wherever the question, that occasions the present armament, has been explained and understood, the citizens of Pennsylvania have manifested their zeal to maintain the public peace and order, and every enemy of the Republic, internal, as well as external, will eventually find, that those who have fought to obtain a free government, will as cheerfully fight to preserve it.

In addressing citizens, who have advanced under a sense of duty, for the purpose of restoring the violated authority of the laws, it is superfluous to recommend a constant attention to sobriety and order, a strict respect to the rights of persons and of private property, in the course of the march. The Governor is confident that the conduct of his fellow-citizens, will in that, as well as in every other respect, command the esteem, conciliate the dispositions, and invite the assistance and friendship of the country through which they pass.

The commanding officers of the respective corps are requested immediately to report to the adjutant-general, a roll of their officers, men and equipments; and, likewise to prepare and furnish the advance and pay rolls. Such of the militia as with any part of their advance or pay be given to their families during their absence, will please to state the same to the commanding officer of the proper corps, who will make a report to the adjutant-general, and provision will accordingly be made for ensuring a compliance.

The following order of march is to be observed by the quotas of the city and county of Philadelphia Brigade.

1. Capt. Dunlap's Troop of Light Horse
2. Capt. McConnell's Troop of Light Horse 3. Capt. Singer's Troop of Light Horse to assemble on Friday morning in Market street east of twelfth street and to march with the baggage in the rear by the way of Norris-town Reading and Harris-burgh to Carlisle.

On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

1. The light infantry corps,
2. The grenadiers,
3. The baggage of the infantry grenadiers and battalion, 4. The Governor's staff and waggons with stores,
5. The battalion,

To march from their present encampment by the middle ferry bridge to the ridge road and thence by Norris-town, Reading, and Harrisburgh to Carlisle.

By order of the Governor, (signed) JOSIAH HARMER, Adjutant-general of the militia of Pennsylvania.

striking likeness of Mr. Margarot,

The TRIAL

OF

Maurice Margarot,

Before the High Court of Justiciary at Edinburgh, on an indictment for SEDITIONARY PRACTICES.

"OF the many remarkable trials which the present extraordinary system of criminal jurisprudence in G. Britain and Ireland has brought before the public eye; this, certainly is most entitled to universal perusal and attention. It develops, more fully than any publication extant, the latest views and objects of the British convention; and proves incontrovertibly, that judicial prosecutions (or persecutions) and decisions are now more the result of the present order of things, than any old fashioned attachment to the laws or the constitution. Add to this, that it holds up to the wonder and admiration of mankind, the firm, manly, and patriotic conduct of this devoted victim—this 'Second Sydney', as he has justly and deservedly been called; who in the course of one of the longest trials we know of, unassisted even by a single member of the long robe, evinced such a depth of legal and constitutional knowledge and, in a speech of four hours length, displayed such a biaz of eloquence and first rate abilities, as astonished the court—and, strange to relate! even drew involuntary applause from the venal and time-serving creature of a corrupt government."

Lachawannock.

A LARGE body of LAND on this river and its waters, is now for sale to Settlers only, on moderate terms, and at a long credit.
The soil is remarkably fertile, and numerous streams of water are interspersed through the whole country.

The main river flows through one tract of about thirty thousand acres, and is within the exception of one obstruction, navigable to the Susquehanna.

Spring Brook Creek, which with its branches, waters another tract of about forty thousand acres of good Land, empties itself into the Lachawannock, about twelve miles from the Susquehanna.

It affords numerous Mill seats, & in its course creates large bodies of well watered meadow ground.

The other tracts are intersected by creeks of considerable importance.

Several Mills are already erected for the accommodation of the settlers.

Roads are cut in different directions, towards the most convenient markets.

The country town is not more than 12 miles distant from many parts of the settlement.

The Susquehanna affords an easy and safe navigation to Middleton, from whence the Canal to Schuylkill extends the communication to the city.

Another means of connection with Philadelphia, is by the Delaware, from which the distance in several places is about thirty miles.

The proprietors combining their own interest with that of the inhabitants, are disposed to erect works of public utility, open roads, &c. and in every ten miles square, a tract of one hundred acres is allotted for a School, and one hundred acres for the first resident clergyman of any denomination of Christians.

C. W. PEALE.

EVER solicitous to render his MUSEUM still more and more an object of rational entertainment, and subservient to the interests of useful science, has on the suggestion and with the advice of a number of his friends, provided a Book, which will be always open for the inspection of those who visit his Museum, in which book it is proposed to insert all such discoveries, inventions, improvements, schemes, observations, experiments, projects, hints or queries relating to the arts or sciences, as any of his visitors, or correspondents, may from time to time communicate.

Such as may chuse to conceal their names may either send their communications anonymous, or at their desire, C. W. Peale will insert their names, with the number or signature of their respective communications in a private book which he will keep for that purpose.

The advantages of such a public register are obvious. It will rescue from oblivion many useful hints, which might otherwise have died with their authors. It may secure to inventors their just claims, and prevent others from taking the honor or profit of a discovery to which they are not entitled, and as the Museum is now visited by persons from almost all parts of the world, such a register, it is presumed, will soon contain and be the means of disseminating a vast fund of useful knowledge, and promote that spirit of enquiry and invention, for which the people of the United States are already so justly distinguished.

of the Bank of the United States, and Twenty Dollar Bills of the Bank of North in circulation within a few days past; they are good general imitations of the genuine

Bills, but may be distinguished by the following

M A R K S.

Five Dollar Bill of the Bank of the United States.

ALL that have appeared have the letter

F. for their Alphabetical Mark.

The Texture of the Paper is thick, and whiter and it takes the ink more freely than the genuine paper.

The O. in the word Company is smaller than the M. and other letters of that word, so that a line extended from the top of the O, to touch the top of the M. would extend considerably above the range of the whole word.

In the word United the letters are narrower and closer together than the rest of the bill.

The i and f in the word promise are not parallel, the f inclining much more forward than the i.

The engraving is badly executed, the strokes of all the Letters are stronger and the device in the margin particularly is much coarser and appears darker than in the true bills. Some of the counterfeits bear date in 1791—Whereas the Bank was not in operation till December, and no five dollar bills were issued in that year.
