The TRIAL
OF Maurice Margaret,

Before the High Court of Judiciary at Edinburgh, on an indictment for SEDITIONARY PRACTICES.

Of the many remarkable trials which the present extraordinary system of criminal jurisprudence in G. Britain and Ireland has brought before the public eye; this, certainly is most entitled to universal perusal and attention. It develops, more fully than any publication extant, the late views and objects of the British convention; and proves incontrovertibly, that judicial prosecutions (or persecutions) and decisions are now more the result of the present order of things, than any old fashioned attachment to the laws or the constitution. Add to this, that it holds up to the wonder and admiration of mankind, the firm, manly, and patriotic conduct of this devoted victim—this 'Second Sydney,' as he has justly and deservedly been called; who in the course of one of the longest trials we know of, unassisted even by a single member of the long robe, evinced such a depth of legal and constitutional knowledge and, in a speech of four hours length, displayed such a blaze of eloquence and first rate abilities, as astonished the court—and, strange to relate! even drew involuntary applause from the venal and time-serving creature of a corrupt government.

SOCIETY
INFORMATION & ASSISTANCE
EMIGRANTS.

WHOEVER reflects upon the various causes of emigrations from Europe to the United States of America, must be convinced;—Whoever has the opportunity of appealing to his own experience must know—that many of those who emigrate, although frequently endowed with talents and virtues the most valuable, arriving on an unknown shore, bereft of the means of support, and destitute of friends to whom to apply for advice or assistance, are lost for a time to society and to themselves.

With a view to lessen, or totally to obviate these inconveniences, (which from present appearances, are likely to increase) —to render emigration as advantageous as possible, both to the emigrants themselves, and to the country that affords them refuge;—to give them every information & assistance in our power;—in short, to soften the asperities of the stranger's situation, at his first-set in a new country, we, the subscribers have associated ourselves under the title of "The Philadelphia Society for the Information and Assistance of Persons emigrating from Foreign Countries."

And have adopted the following
CONSTITUTION:

1. THE officers shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, and a Committee of Conference and Correspondence, to be elected (by ballot) every six months.

2. The President, and in his absence, the Vice-President shall preside in all the meetings; and subscribe all the public acts of the Society. If neither of them are present, a Chairman shall be chosen for the time being.

3. The Treasurer shall take charge of all the monies and securities belonging to the Society; and shall pay all orders signed by the President, Vice-President, or in their absence, by the Chairman of the Committee; which orders shall be his vouchers for his expenditures. He shall, before he enters upon his office, give such security as the Society may require.

4. The Secretary shall keep fair records of the proceedings of the Society, and also of the Committee.

5. The Committee of Conference and Correspondence, shall consist of seven members; of whom the Secretary, for the time being, shall be one. They shall transact such business as may occur in the recess of the Society; be empowered to draw upon the Treasurer for such sums of money as may be necessary to carry on the business of their appointment; and call in aid of a Physician when necessary.

6. Every person, previous to his being admitted a member, shall be proposed at a monthly meeting; and be ballotted for in the ensuing. On his admission, he shall subscribe the constitution of the Society, and pay into the hands of the treasurer not less than the sum of one dollar; subscribing annually one dollar, at quarterly payments towards the necessary expenses of the Society. The Secretary shall give notice to each member who may be more than one quarter in arrears, requesting payment; which, if he neglect for more than one year, he shall, upon due notice being given him, cease to be a member.

7. The Society shall meet on the first fourth day, called Wednesday, in every month, at such place as may be agreed upon by a majority. Quarterly meetings shall be held on the same days in January, April, July, and October; when each member shall pay his subscription; and all accounts of the Society shall be adjusted. On the requisition of six members, the President shall call a special meeting. All which meetings shall be advertised in the public papers. No less than ten members shall be a quorum.

8. No law, or alteration of the constitution shall be made without being proposed at a previous meeting. All questions shall be decided, where there is a division, by a majority of votes; when the Society is equally divided, the presiding officer shall have a casting vote.

It will appear evident, that the usefulness of this institution, can only be proportionate to its numbers and respectability; the present Members therefore solicit the signatures and subscriptions of those Citizens, whose sentiments and wishes upon this subject are in unison with their own; for which purpose, a Book is now left at Mr. Pearce's, No. 45, South Third Street.

N. B. The FIRST QUARTERLY MEETING will be held on Wednesday Evening next, at six o'clock, in Sharpless's School Room, Fromberger's Court, North Second Street, at which time the Society will proceed to the election of the Officers.

W. Y. BIRCH, Chairman.
