

It is singular that in the late debates of the Convention, the two men who were the original denouncers of Robespierre, Talien and Bourdon de L'Oise, seem to have embraced different parties. Talien supports the plan of Cambon, for the organization of the Committee, affecting to dread more than anything, the revival of the system of Robespierre. Bourdon de L'Oise supports the plan of Barrere, because he fears, that if Cambon's were adopted, there would be an end of all unity of opinion, and the Revolutionary government would be dissolved. It is not therefore a contest between Talien and his friends, who first projected the ruin of Robespierre and Barrere and his friends who joined them only a few days before that event took place, but between those who are for giving less power and authority to the Revolutionary Government. We do not think it impossible that the question may be decided without the destruction of either of those parties.

Mr. Phillips, of Leicester, who has been confined eighteen months, was liberated on Thursday last. The charge for which Mr. Phillips has suffered a severe sentence was having sold in the course of his business as a bookseller, one copy of Paine's Rights of Man, thirteen days before the trial of Paine.

The great Colonel Mack has now again come into play. From the proofs he has already given of consummate generalship, and invincible valor, what mighty feats might not again be expected?

And thrice he conquer'd all his foes,
And thrice he flew the slain."

The French, by the capitulation of Sluys, have acquired the enormous number of 400 pieces of brass cannon, 4000 prisoners, and a proportionate quantity of military stores.

Last night the following notice extraordinary was stuck up at Lloyd's, which arrested the attention of the merchants and under-writers.

The mode of raising recruits for the Austrian armies is as follows:—Each parish is obliged to furnish a certain number of men, who are chosen by lot from the whole number in the place, capable of bearing arms. Whoever is drawn is at liberty to find a substitute but he must be as tall as himself.

INDIA INTELLIGENCE.

We yesterday received letters by the Henry from Calcutta, last from St. Helena, which informs us, that the Fort William, General Coote, Marquis of Lansdowne, Boddington, From Bengal.

Royal Charlotte, Hindostan,
Lord Thurlow, Triton,
Earl of Abergavenny, Warley,
Henry Dundas, Exeter,
Lord Walsingham, Glatton,
Osterly, Ceres,
Hawke, and two others.

From China.

were to sail from St. Helena the 11th of July, under convoy of the Lion and Sampson men of war, of 64 guns, and the Argo of 44 guns.

The Duke of Buccleugh, outward bound Indiaman, had arrived at St. Helena.

Several foreign vessels sailed with the India fleet from St. Helena.

Orders have been issued from the War office, that all officers belonging to regiments at present in the West-Indies shall proceed to Portsmouth, where transports are ready to convey them to that part of the world.

All officers of Independent Companies have received orders to hold themselves in readiness to be employed.

A very alarming report has prevailed in the city during the last two days, that nine sail of French line of battle ships, full of troops, sailed from Brett the beginning of last month, for the West-Indies. That a hostile fleet of that force was out, has been ascertained by the testimony of the matters of several neutral vessels; but it was at first generally imagined, that their object was the intercepting of the homeward bound India men, which took shelter in Galway Bay.

These, however, having so fortunately escaped, it is now much feared that the destination of this squadron was different from that at first apprehended, and that apprised of our weakness in the West-Indies, the French Government have determined to attempt the annihilation of our power in that quarter of the globe; an enterprise in which, should this be the case, there is too much reason to believe that they must inevitably succeed, unless the most speedy and powerful reinforcements are sent out from this country.

The French have suffered extremely before Sluys—and the officer who commands the garrison seems to have acted with great skill and gallantry. We look upon the noble stand which the Dutch have made at this place, as a good earnest of the reception the enemy are likely to meet with in their attack upon Holland, if they still attempt to push their conquests in that country.

It is curious to remark exactly the same reproaches thrown out against Robespierre and his party, with which they themselves had loaded the Brissotines: we find the same determination avowed by their successors, of changing the system of despotism for that of Liberty; of cruelty and injustice, for that of mild and equitable law. But in the midst of this succession of parties, and of the attendant cruelties and horrors, with what pity and contempt must we behold the deluded wretches of France, who can have been taught that there has ever existed any thing like the shadow of Liberty in the sanguinary tyranny of Robespierre: or that, while they have been robbed of their property, and forced for bread to the army, they were living under a Republic, which distributed to each individual the rights which really belonged to him.

Robespierre is now admitted by the party prints to have been a very great rascal, though, for some reason or other, he was a great man and a great patriot while he lived. There is an old proverb which may perhaps be applicable upon this occasion, "No longer pipe, no longer dance."

The disturbances at Copenhagen arose in the dock-yard, where the artificers having mutinied, and behaved very riotously, the government ordered them to be seized; and 125 persons have been sent on board of ships, to be transported to Roskold. At the date of the letters received yesterday, tranquility was restored at Copenhagen.

HULL, Sept. 1.

On Monday twenty-three Romish ecclesiastics arrived at Leeds in a vessel from this town. They came from Liege in Germany, being forced away by the French, and are on their way to Colne, in Lancashire, where it is supposed they intend to establish a seminary. One of them has in his possession an image of the Holy Virgin worth 1000l.

UNITED STATES.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 14.

His Excellency the Governor has directed the several managers of the election districts in the district composed of the districts of Beaufort and Orangeburgh, to hold the elections on Monday and Tuesday the tenth and eleventh days of November next, for a person to serve, in the House of Representatives of the United States, as a member of the said district, until the first Monday in March next, vice Alexander Gillon, Esquire, deceased.

PHILADELPHIA,

NOVEMBER 4.

We hear that a new entertainment is getting up by the Old American Company, to be performed on the benefit Night of Mrs. Marriott. This piece is called The Chimera—It is a production of that Lady, and is said by those who have perused it, that the lovers of taste and delicate humor may anticipate a rich repast on the occasion.—An original Prologue by the same hand, will be spoken by Mr. Hodgkinson.

Calvi, in Corsica surrendered to the British on the 10th August after a siege of 51 days—this capture disposed of the French of every part of that Island.

Two frigates fell into the hands of the English—the Melpomene of 40 guns, and the Mignonne of 32.

Extract of a letter from an Officer of the 1st Regiment of Pennsylvania Militia, dated at Bedford, 220 miles W. from Philadelphia—Oct. 19th, 1794.

"Stupendous hills, without inhabitants; narrow valleys badly cultivated; huge rocks, where nought but moss has ever ventured; giddy precipices, which the most daring approach with dread; headlong streams, murmuring loudly at the roughness of their beds, and fickle vegetables contracted in size by the bleakness of their situation, and by deficiency of nutriment, are the only objects which have for several days past presented themselves to my view in continual succession. We have however at length arrived, and are now encamped at a place where the enterprise and industry of man has reared more memorable monuments.

"The town of Bedford does not indeed contain many houses, but some of them are sufficiently large & very convenient. A number of the buildings are stone a few of them brick, and the work not ill executed. Two or three houses are now rising which promise to be very convenient habitations.

"The town of Bedford stands in a circular valley surrounded by mountains on every side except the north, where the rising ground descends to the denomination of hills. The dimensions of the valley I am not able to learn. The mountains to the N. W. are not sufficiently lofty to defend this village from the impression of the wind; and therefore must render its situation intensely cold in winter, when they come from that quarter.

"The inhabitants are in general, healthy—to this however, the present season has constituted an exception. Intermittents and some fluxes made their appearance here, about the closing months of the last summer, and in the beginning of the present autumn.

"Of autumnal discases, scarcely the vestige remains among the troops of our regiment—nor has the discases of winter yet made their appearance. I have endeavored to protect the troops from these more to be dreaded than the foe of which we are in search, by directing them to procure for themselves a canopy of flannel."

Majority for Chit. 119 2432

The Hon. Isaac Tichenor, Esq. is elected Chief Judge, Enoch Woodbridge, Esq. first, and Lot Hall, Esq. second Judge of the Supreme Court for the year ensuing.

By a gentleman from Vergennes we are informed, that on the 13th or 14th instant, a melancholy accident happened between the mouth of Otter Creek and Basin Harbor. A canoe in which were Mr. Philander Vaughan, his wife, Mr. Tracy, and Mr. Thomas Burt, overfet in a squall of wind, when Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan and Mr. Tracy were drowned: Mr. Burt swam to shore.

Singularities.

A correspondent informs that the first white child born in the town of Worcester, Massachusetts, is now a resident in Orwell in this state, his name is Adonijah Rice;—And we are further informed that in the course of last summer he cleared a handsome spot of ground for wheat, with his own hands. Worcester has two handsome meeting houses, and large societies, and has in the course of this man's life, erected and worn out one strong prison, and lately built a spacious new one.

In the course of a few years, how rapid has population been in Vermont! At the close of the late American war not a family resided in Shoreham in this state; there are now upwards of two hundred families: and most of them possessed of handsome improved farms.

Foreign Intelligence.

LONDON, Aug. 27.

Advices were received yesterday at the Duke of Portland's office, from Lord Dorchester, at Quebec, of the date of June 26, by which we are happy to be enabled to contradict the idle rumours of American News-papers, with which we have for some time past been amused, respecting the state of affairs in that country—no hostile inclination having, at the date of his Lordship's dispatches, manifested itself, either on the side of the British or American government. All was perfectly tranquil, and the universal wish was decidedly in favour of peace.

Charles Bannister.

The great vocal performer, is no less celebrated for his Attic fallies, than his musical powers, Being in a fashionable party, in company with the late lord Barrymore, his lordship in expectation of some ingenious repartee told him that he had been dreaming all night of VERMIN, which he thought unaccountable. "No such mystery neither, replies old Bannister, it is very natural for people to dream at night, of what has been running in their heads all day."

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 31.

Yesterday several Spaniards and Toulouze, who had been employed to assist in clearing the Impetueuse, of 74 guns, one of the French ships captured by Lord Howe's fleet on the 11th June, were taken up on suspicion of having willfully set fire to the same, and were examined before a magistrate, when it clearly appeared to have happened entirely from accident, as the men had that day been shovelling out the damaged powder from the magazine with iron bound shovels, and it is imagined one of them struck fire against some of the nails, which occasioned the accident. The Impetueuse was supposed to be worth 30,000l. and tho' not the largest was looked upon as the finest ship of the six taken by Lord Howe.

Extract of a letter from Bedford, dated October 21.

"Anarchy trembles, and order triumphs—Confederation rides post haste throughout the whole territory of sedition. The martial appearance, the health, the spirits and the good order of our military, exceed the most sanguine expectations of the warmest friends to order and good government.—A spirit of fraternal harmony breathes throughout our whole line.—Horse and Foot, Jerseyans and Pennsylvanians, regard each other in all their transactions as brethren embarked in a common cause, and appear determined to cooperate, on every emergency, for that noblest of objects, the public good."

We have now in the common prison of this place, several insubordinators of the laws, whom the activity of our scouts have brought in some from the distance of 40 or 50 miles—Those of them who may be clearly convicted of the greatest atrocities, will be doubtless removed from the possibility of future action. No violence is however offered to any man in making him prisoner, unless he either resists or attempts to fly—thus lenity marks the conduct of the friends to government in all their measures for re-establishing order, and more permanently securing the future peace of our country.

On the day after to-morrow we shall again assume the line of march, and in two days pass the Alleghany, those everlasting hills that still rear their heads in the West. Our route will doubtless extend as far as Pittsburgh—I have a strong inclination to take a round in Braddock's field—the spot where he roes formerly bled, and where an army of licentious Insurgents lately assembled—sembled for the purpose of dictating to a powerful nation."

Short account of the principal places in the Netherlands—Extracted from a late publication.

KLUNDERT—A strong town of Holland, situated on a river or canal which runs from the Merwe, and forms the country on which this town and Williamstadt stands, into an island. It was taken by the French in 1793, and soon after evacuated. Long. 4° 34', E. lat. 51° 37', N. 19 leagues S. from Amsterdam, 12 W. from Bois le Duc, 6 1-2 S. from Rotterdam, and 1 1-2 E. S. E. from Williamstadt.

BREDA—A handsome and strong city of Brabant, belonging to the Dutch, situated at the confluence of the river Aa and Mercke. It is the capital of a Barony comprehending 17 villages. It was taken by the Prince of Orange in 1637, after which the fortifications were considerably augmented, and are esteemed some of the completest in the Netherlands. It is surrounded on all sides by water, and morasses, notwithstanding which, it surrendered to the French the 24th Feb. 1793, after a short siege of 10 days. On the 30th March, it was again given by capitulation. The city is of a triangular form, and contains 2200 houses. 8 leagues E. from Bergen op Zoom, 10 W. from Bois le Duc, 25 N. W. from Maastricht, 11 S. S. E. from Rotterdam, 6 E. from Williamstadt, and 93 N. from Paris.

We hear that about three thousand of the army are on their return from the western expedition.

CONGRESS.

A majority of the House of Representatives assembled this day—but adjourned without proceeding to business—the members of the Senate who are present not being sufficiently numerous to constitute a quorum of that body.

Last night a quarrel arose between two Mulattoes, who were at a Dance in South-work; and a combat ensued which terminated in the death of one of them, named Josiah Johnson. He was a Ship-Carpenter, in the employ of Mr. Penrose. A Jury of inquest sat on the body, who brought in a verdict, manlaughter.

At a Meeting of the Inhabitants of Wyalusing Township, in Luzerne County, held the 4th day of October, 1794.

JUSTUS GAYLORD, Moderator.
SAMUEL GORDON, Clerk.

Resolved, That as all authority originates from the people in Republican Governments, as Citizens of such, where the voice of the majority becomes the law, we think it our duty to support our own laws.

Resolved, That we esteem the Constitution of the United States as it now is framed, as the basis of our Liberty and happiness, and we are fully determined to support it with our lives and fortunes.

Resolved, That if our Representatives delegated to make laws for our safety, and government, do oppress us by making unequal or unconstitutional laws, it is our duty to remonstrate and obtain redress in a constitutional way.

Resolved, That we disapprove and reprobate the unconstitutional steps taken (as we believe) for a redress of imaginary grievances by some of the people in the western counties of this State.

Resolved, That the foregoing Resolves be published for the consideration of our fellow-citizens.

SAMUEL GORDON, Clerk.
