Struggle for Freedom:
 A PLAY,
 Interperd with Songs, in three acts.
 Intended to the Citizens of the United States of North America.
 By Mrs. Rowson.
 As performed at the New Theatres in Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Extract from the Preface.
 "My chief aim has been, to offer to the public a Dramatic Entertainment, which, while it might excite a smile, or call forth the tear of sensibility, might contain no one sentiment, in the least prejudicial, to the moral or political principles of the government under which I live. On the contrary, it has been my endeavour, to place the social virtues in the fairest point of view, and to hold up to merited contempt and ridicule, their opposite vices. If, in this attempt, I have been the least successful, I shall reap the reward to which I aspire, in the smiles and approbation of a liberal public."

HISTORICAL ACCOUNT
 OF THE
 Rise, progress, and present
 State
 Canal Navigation in Pennsylvania.

With an Appendix, containing Abstracts of the Acts of the Legislature since the year 1792, and their Grants of Money for improving ROADS and NAVIGABLE WATERS throughout the state—to which is annexed,
 "An Explanatory Map."

Published by Direction of the President and Managers of the Schuylkill and Susquehanna, and the Delaware and Schuylkill Navigation Companies.

"Here smooth CANALS, across th' extended plain Stretch their long arms to join the distant main.
 The fons of toil, with many a weary stroke Scoop the hard bosom of the solid rock; Reluctant through the stiff opposing clay, With steady patience, work their gradual way;
 Compel the Genius of th' unwilling flood Through the brown horrors of the aged wood;
 Cross the lone waste the silver urn they pour,
 And cheer the barren heath, or fallen moor.
 "The traveller, with pleasing wonder sees
 The white fall gleaming through the dusky trees;
 And views the alter'd landscape with surprise
 And doubts the magic scene that round him lies.
 Now like a flock of swans, above his head, Their woven wings the flying vessels spread Now meeting streams, in artful mazes, glide While each, unmingled, pours a separate tide;
 Now, through the hidden veins of earth they flow
 And visit sulphurous mines and caves below.
 The ductile streams obey the guiding hand,
 And social Plenty crowns the HAPPY LAND!" imen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Washington—Two beautiful designs are already laid out for the entire fronts on two of the public squares; from these drawings, it is proposed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as soon as possible after this Lottery is sold, and to convey them when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner described in the Scheme for the Hotel Lottery. A net deduction of five per cent. will be made to defray the necessary expences of printing, &c. and the surplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National University, to be erected within the City of Washington.

 The drawing will commence as soon ending of the drawing and to take up the bonds given as security.

 The real securities given for the payment of the Prizes, are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the Lottery. The drawing will be under the management of 24 gentlemen approved by the commissioners for the City of Washington, for the time being, and acting on oath.

 erect the Pier at New Castle, one to forward the city of Paterson, and that to er-
