Struggle for Freedom:
A. P. L. A. Y.
Interpersed with Songs, in three Acts
Inscribed to the Citizens of the United States of North America.
By Mrs. Rowson.
As performed at the New Theatres in Philadelphia and Baltimore.
Extra from the Preface.
My chief aim has been, to offer to the public a Dramatic Entertainment, which, while it might excite a smile, or call forth the tear of sensibility, might contain no one sentiment, in the least injudicial, to the moral or political principles of the government under which I live. On the contrary, it has been my endeavour, to place the local vices in the fairest point of view, and hold up to merited contempt and ridicule, their opposite virtues. If, to this attempt, I have seen the least success, I shall reap the reward to which I aspire, in the smiles and approbation of a liberal public.

Sold by M. Carey, No. 128, and Rice & Co. No. 53, High Street; S. Campbell, No. 54, South Second Street; and Whigley & Bellamy, No. 149, Chestnut Street.

With an Appendix, containing Abstracts of the Acts of the Legislature since the year 1793, and their Grants of Money for improving Roads and Navigable Waters throughout the state—to which is annexed,
"An Explanatory Map."
Published by Direction of the President and Managers of the Schuylkill and Suquehanna, and the Delaware and Susquehanna Navigation Companies.
"Here smooth CANALS, across the extended plain Stretch their long arms to join the distant main."
The fons of toil, with many a weary stroke
Scop the hard bosom of the solid rock;
Resiftles through the stiff opposing clay,
With steady patience, work their gradual way;
Compel the Genius of the unwilling flood
Through the brown horrors of the aged wood;
Cross the lone waste the silver urn they pour,
And cheer the barren heath, or fallen moor.
"The traveller, with pleasing wonder
Sees
The white fall gleaming through the dusky trees;
And views the ster'd landscape with surprize
And doubts the magic scenes that round him rise.
Now like a flock of swans, above his head,
Their woven wings the flying vessels spread
Now meeting streams, in artful maze, glide
While each, unminged, pours a separate tide;
Now, through the hidden veins of earth
they flow
And visit sulphurous mines and caves below.
The ductile streams obey the guiding hand,
And social Plenty crowns the HAPPY LAND!

This Lottery will afford an elegant specimen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Washington—Two beautiful designs are already selected for the entire fronts on two of the public squares; from these drawings, it is proposed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as soon as possible after this Lottery is sold, and to convey them when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner described in the scheme for the Hotel Lottery. A net deduction of five per cent. will be made to defray the necessary expenses of printing, &c. and the surplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National University, to be erected within the City of Washington.
The drawing will commence as soon as the Tickets are sold off. The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finished, and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is closed are to be considered as given towards the fund for the University, if being determined to settle the whole business in a year from the ending of the drawing and to take up the bonds given as security.
The real securities given for the payment of the Prizes, are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the Lottery. The drawing will be under the management of 24 gentlemen approved by the commissioners for the City of Washington, for the time being, and acting on oath.
