

Should he wantonly persist in his illiberality, he may depend that it shall not be called over, but that Justice shall be obtained, by CHARLES DEMARQUE. Wednesday, March 11th, 1795.

UNITED STATES.

BALTIMORE, March 6. A brig is arrived in our port from some part of Holland. Report says, that accounts are received of a truce between the republic of France and the States General of the United Provinces, having absolutely been declared. If this be the case, we may most justly expect a confirmation of this agreeable news, and anticipate the union of Holland with France, against the enemies of liberty and equal right.

MARTINSBURG, March 2. The Hymeneal torch was lately illuminated by the Right Worthy Mr. William Pittman, aged 60, and the agreeable Widow Mary, between 60 and 70, both of this county. How long will burn God only knows.

NORFOLK, Feb. 25. SUNDAY last being the anniversary of that truly great and venerable character GEORGE WASHINGTON, the reverend President of the United States, the morning was ushered in by the beating of drums, and a festive joy by the Norfolk Artillery Company; at noon there were reiterated discharges of cannon at the Forts, which were answered by those of the British frigate Thames, now repairing at Gosport, and the Norfolk Artillery. During the day the American Stripes were triumphantly displayed by the shipping in our river; and at 12 o'clock on Monday the firing was repeated by the Forts, the different armed vessels, and by the Artillery. At night there was a very splendid Ball and Supper at the Borough Tavern, which notwithstanding the unfavorableness of the evening, was attended by all the beauty and fashion of this and the town of Portsmouth—after Supper the following patriotic TOASTS were drank: 1. The President of the United States—may he long live, and when nature can no further prolong his life, may he continue to exist in the grateful remembrance of his country.

2. The People of the United States. 3. The Congress of the United States. 4. The Commonwealth of Virginia. 5. Our Sister States—may no jealousies ever arise to disturb our tranquillity. 6. The American Fair. 7. The Heroes who have died for their Country. 8. The Agriculture and Commerce of the United States. 9. The Arts and Manufactures of the United States. 10. A speedy relief to our unfortunate fellow citizens in Algiers. 11. May the future fates of America have wisdom to value and fortitude to maintain the blessings acquired by their forefathers. 12. May virtue and science hold perpetual dominion in the United States. 13. May all nations acquire and ever retain a true knowledge of the rights of mankind. 14. Good and honest men of all places. 15. Peace and Freedom throughout the world. The same day, his Excellency the Governor of this State, and a number of the gentlemen of Norfolk and Portsmouth, with the French Consul, Commodore and other Officers of the Navy, dined together at Portsmouth; after dinner there were many republican and patriotic Toasts drank.

From Knoxville. On the 28th instant, George Man, of Flat Creek was found killed and scalped by Indians. The particulars of the manner of his death are, that on the night of the 27th instant, he heard a noise at his stable, and stepping out his retreat to his door was instantly cut off by Indians; he fought bravely in flight; was fired upon and wounded; nevertheless he reached a cave a quarter of a mile from his house, out of which the Indians dragged him and killed him. The Indians then returned to his house in which were his wife and children and attempted to force the door, when Mrs. Man fired a gun at them and they withdrew without further attempts upon the house. The Indians then took three horses out of the stable and fired it. Next day search was made for their trail which proved large; the number of Indians must have been at least 25. An Indian dressed cap, supposed to be a Creek cap, was left on the ground, and some other articles, from which no farther opinion could be formed as to their nation. The whole head of Man was skinned and his body much mangled. Man's house is twelve miles from this place. Since the receipt of the above intelligence, we have been informed that Mrs. Man wounded one of the Indians. Much blood has been found near the stable, and on the trail of the Indians.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.

Extract of a letter of 6th March 1795, from a Gentleman at New York, to his friend in this city.

Our Assembly have before them a bill which has passed the Senate, granting to our Hospital the monies arising on a duty of two per cent on sales at vendus. This will produce five or six thousand pounds per annum, and fully enable us to put the institution on a very respectable footing. If the above is enacted into a law, it will reflect great honor on the state of New York.

As many persons have doubted the practicability of the decree of the French Convention, ordering each department to furnish a vessel of the line, we are happy in being able to lay before our readers an authentic account of the manner in which this extraordinary decree is carrying into execution. Throughout the whole republic are immense forests, which are fostered with great care, for the purpose of supplying fuel and timber for the nation. In these forests, the interior departments, which are not furnished with sea ports are at present engaged in building the vessels they are required to provide. When finished, they are to be propelled to the sea ports on rollers, and there they are to be finally equipped for sea. The stupendous efforts making in this respect, have never been equalled by any nation in the world, and leave little doubt as to the final issue of the war. [The information here given rests on the authority of a gentleman of the first respectability, who left France in the month of November.] [A. D. Adv.]

Saturday last sailed from this port the ship Amiable, Capt. Thompson, for Liverpool. The following persons were passengers: Dr. Tate, Mr. Macall Modford, Mr. Jacob Rees, Mr. Alexander Henry, Mr. Fairbairn, Mr. Silkeid, and Mr. and Mrs. Groves. The following gentlemen went passengers in the ship John, Capt. Whitwell, for Charleston—General Jackson, Mr. Priolau, Mr. Wright, Mr. George Smith, Mr. Jones, Mr. Edward James, Mr. B. Bohlen, and several others. Married on Saturday last, by the Rev. Dr. Blackwell, Mr. Robert Graham, to Miss Elizabeth Jane Corry, daughter of Captain Thomas Corry, of this city.

By this Day's Mail.

NEW YORK, March 9. A bill has passed the Senate of this state, appropriating 20,000, for the purpose of completing the fortifications of the harbor of this city. On Saturday arrived the brig Lydia, Capt. Shackerly, in 56 days from Amsterdam. Letters have been received from thence as late as the 7th January. We have seen those addressed to a respectable house in this city. They at different dates, state the progress of the French:—That, at one time, they crossed the Rhine and the Waal, and drove in the Posts established there. It had been afterwards reported at Amsterdam that they had re-crossed those rivers; but the Postscript to the last letter of the 7th January, declares all hopes of stopping the progress of the French to be entirely at an end, and that they would undoubtedly be in the city in the course of 2 or 3 days—No disturbances had taken place among the inhabitants, who, on the contrary, were calmly waiting their fate. Capt. Shackerly informs than on the 20th January in lat. 46, 36, long. 17, he fell in with a fleet of French ships of war, consisting of 21 sail of the line, and 15 frigates, several of which were 74's cut down, carrying very heavy metal;—that he was boarded by the frigate Thames, who took one French passenger from him; and that the Capt. of the Thames informed him that they had taken, in their cruise, among others, a fleet of 22 sail of vessels from Cork, bound to the West Indies with provisions. Same day Capt. Shackerly spoke the ship Peggy, Capt. Elliott, from Philadelphia bound to Bordeaux; also, the schooner Rambler, from Boston bound to France. Arrived, Saturday evening, the brig Maria, Capt. Barnard, from Port Liberty, formerly called Point Petre Guadeloupe, which place he left the 10th February, and brings the account of the fleet arriving there from France, one 74 gun ship, 2 frigates, 1 sloop of war, 2 corvets and 8 transports, with 4000 troops; one of the transports was taken off Desada, by the Bellona, 74 gun ship. Before Capt. Barnard sailed, the Capt. of the French ship, that fought the Blanch, had returned on parole: the Blanch had struck before the Bellona came in sight. Capt. Barnard, left in Point Petre, 22 sail of American vessels, waiting for their turn for payment. Captain Barnard was boarded by the Bellona an English 74 gun ship, and was politely treated. The captain of the Bellona shewed captain Barnard a proclamation from the Governor of Martinico to bring into port all neutral vessels bound to a French port.

Captain Barnard spoke on his passage the ship Cumberland of Portland, from Norfolk, in lat. 21, 40, long. 65, 30, 15 days out, bound to Jamaica. Also, the schooner Sally, from Water Mellon quay, for North-Carolina, John Eventon, 100 miles East from Cape Hatteras, short of water: capt. Barnard supplied him.

ARRIVED, Brig Lydia, Shackerly, Amsterdam. Amelia, Sealy, St. John's. Maria, Barnard, Guadeloupe. Sloop Sally, Bance, Wilmington. March 10.

Extra of a letter from Amsterdam, dated Jan. 12, handed to the Editor by a respectable House in this City. "We are here groaning under the burden of the war; the French are expected daily, being already in Guelderland. May God gives us soon a desirable peace to obtain which, two commissioners have been sent from the states to Paris."

The passengers in the Lydia say, that it was reported when they left the Texel, the French had had two engagements at Utrecht. In the first they were repulsed, but in the second they carried it. Nothing now stands in the way of their march to Amsterdam, it being but — miles from Utrecht. Amsterdam has been long expecting its fate, and before this is doubtless in the power of the French. A total revolution in the government must be the consequence. The Stadtholder's power will be annihilated, and Mr. Van Staphorst and his party will probably be permitted by the French to model the government at their pleasure, under the auspices of the French Convention. It is not probable the French will treat Holland as a conquered country, and annex it to the Republic, as they have the Austrian Netherlands; but in reality the fate of Holland will be so totally in the power of the French, that a revolution will have all the effects of a conquest. What will become of the Dutch marine, is uncertain. This is however a serious point, as it respects Great-Britain.

ARRIVED.

Schooner Rambler, Clark, St. Johns N B. Sloop Hannah, Holland, Norfolk. The following American vessels were at Amsterdam, when Captain Shackerly left it: Brig Pallas, Wythe, bound for Surinam. Information to the Merchants.

A Vessel will be dispatched from this port on Saturday next, to call at Bermuda, and from thence proceed to Barbadoes and the other British windward Islands. Any letters or papers respecting the capture of American vessels or property by the British will be taken charge of by a person going out in said vessel free of expence, and may be sent before Saturday to Thomas Fitzsimons.

An ACT to establish an uniform rule of naturalization: and to repeal the act heretofore passed on that subject.

FOR carrying into complete effect, the power given by the constitution, to establish an uniform rule of naturalization throughout the United States:

Sec. 1. BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That any alien, being a free white person, may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States, or any of them, on the following conditions, and not otherwise:— First. He shall have declared on oath or affirmation, before the supreme, superior, district or circuit court of some one of the states, or of the territories north west or south of the river Ohio, or a circuit or district court of the United States, three years, at least, before his admission, that it was, bona fide, his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly, by name, the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whereof such alien may, at the time, be a citizen or subject.

Secondly. He shall, at the time of his application to be admitted, declare on oath or affirmation, before some one of the courts aforesaid, that he has resided within the United States, five years at least, and within the state or territory, where such court is at the time held, one year at least; that he will support the constitution of the United States; and that he doth absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly by name, the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty, whereof he was before a citizen or subject; which proceedings shall be recorded by the clerk of the court.

Thirdly. The court admitting such alien, shall be satisfied that he has resided within the limits and under the jurisdiction of the United States five years; and it shall farther appear to their satisfaction, that during that time, he has behaved as a man of a good moral character, attached to the principles of the constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same.

Fourthly. In case the alien applying to be admitted to citizenship shall have borne any hereditary title, or been of any of the orders of nobility, in the kingdom or state from which he came, he shall, in addition to the above requisites, make an express renunciation in the court to which his application shall be made; which renunciation shall be recorded in the said court.

Sec. 2. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That any alien now residing within the limits and under the jurisdiction of the United States, may be admitted to become a citizen, on his declaring on oath or affirmation, in some one of the courts aforesaid, that he has resided two years, at least, within and under the jurisdiction of the same, and one year, at least, within the state or territory where such court is at the time held; that he will support the constitution of the United States; and that he doth absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly by name, the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty, whereof he was before a citizen or subject; and moreover on its appearing to the satisfaction of the court, that during the said term of two years, he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same; and, where the alien applying for admission to citizenship, shall have borne any hereditary title, or been of any of the orders of nobility in the kingdom or state from which he came, on his moreover making in the court an express renunciation before he shall be entitled to such admission; all of which proceedings, required in this proviso to be performed in the court, shall be recorded by the clerk thereof.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, that the children of persons duly naturalized, dwelling within the United States, and being under the age of twenty one years, at the time of such naturalization; and the children of citizens of the United States, born out of the limits and jurisdiction of the United States, shall be considered as citizens of the United States: Provided, That the right of citizenship shall not descend to persons, whose fathers have never been resident in the United States: Provided also, That no person heretofore proscribed by any state, or who has been legally convicted of having joined the army of Great Britain, during the late war, shall be admitted a citizen as aforesaid, without the consent of the Legislature of the state, in which such person was proscribed.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the act intitled "an act to establish an uniform rule of naturalization," passed the twenty sixth day of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninety, be, and the same is hereby repealed. Frederick Augustus Muhlenberg, Speaker of the House of Representatives. John Adams, Vice-President of the United States, and President of the Senate. Approved January 29, 1795. Geo. Washington, President of the United States.

Amid the frequent cries of fire! it is no small consolation to the inhabitants of this city to find that the Infuance Company of North America have lately undertaken to insure Houses, Goods, &c. against this destructive element at the low premium of 6s. per annum for £100— whereas the usual premium for the same risk to the London Companies is 10s. 6d. on American policies.
