Joseph Anthony & Son.
March 30 d/w

To be Sold,
And Possession given immediately,
An elegantly situated FARM,
WITHIN one mile and a half of Princeton in New Jersey, containing two hundred and thirteen acres, of which thirty are in meadow, and more may easily be made, 47 in woodland, the rest in arable land: all but the woodland under good fence. There is water in every field and a constant stream running through the meadow, and as the upland is well adapted to graze, it might soon be made a valuable and profitable grazing farm. There are on the premises, a handsome well finished two story Stone House, 2 rooms on the first floor, with a nine feet entry through to a pleasant piazza, three rooms on the second floor besides the g'rrrets and a cellar, with a two story stone kitchen adjoining, a plentiful well of excellent water, a good kitchen garden with strawberries, strawberries and peaches, a great variety of cherry trees, and a young bearing orchard of two hundred trees. Also, a barn and stables with cow houses, ninety feet long and two stories high. The house is high and very healthy, always enjoying a sweet and refreshing breeze, which with its vicinity to Princeton, renders it a desirable country seat.

Also to be Sold, a

BOOKS.
PRINTED & PUBLISHED
By Matthew Carey,
No. 118, Market Street,

1. Charlotte, a tale of truth,
By Mrs. Rowson, of the New-Theatre Philadelphia.
Second American edition.—Price 75 cents:
[The rapid sale of the First Edition of this interesting novel, in a few months, is the best proof of its merit.]
Extract from the Critical Review, April 1791, p. 468.
It may be a tale of truth, for it is not unnatural, and it is a tale of real distress—Charlotte by the artifice of a teacher, recommended to a school from humanity rather than a conviction of her integrity of the regularity of her former conduct, is enticed from her governess, and accompanies a young officer to America—The marriage ceremony, if not forgotten, is postponed, and Charlotte dies a martyr to the inconstancy of her lover, and treachery of his friend.—The situations are artless and affecting—the descriptions natural and pathetic; we should feel for Charlotte if such a person ever existed, who, for one error, scarcely, perhaps deserved so severe a punishment. If it is a fiction, poetic justice is not, we think, properly distributed."
2. The Inquisitor—by Mrs. Rowson, Second Philadelphia edition. 87 1/2 cents.
3. Adventures of Roderic Random. 2 vols. 1 dollar and 50 cents, coarse paper—1 dollar and 75 cents, fine.
4. Notes on the State of Virginia—by Thomas Jefferson. Price, neatly bound, one dollar and a half.
5. History of the French Revolution, from its commencement to the death of the Queen and the execution of Brissot. Two dollars.
EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.
"The authors have presumed to affix to their title the epithet Impartial; and the reason is, because they cannot charge themselves with feeling the smallest bias to any party, but that of truth and liberty; and they flatter themselves, that their readers will find not only every circumstance fairly represented, but every censurable action, whoever were the authors or actors, marked in its proper colors. If it was necessary to make a declaration of their own principles, they would say, they are neither Tory nor Republican—They love liberty as English whigs, and execrate every criminal act by which so noble a cause is endangered and disgraced.
In the present ferment of the public mind, they cannot flatter themselves with the hopes of seeing this claim universally acknowledged. On the contrary, they are well assured that these pages will not be acceptable to the zealous of either party. But when time shall dissipate the clouds of political deception, they with some confidence expect that verdict from public opinion, which candor and moderation seldom fail to receive.

EXTRACT FROM THE CRITICAL REVIEW, JANUARY, 1794—page 12.
"We have certainly derived much pleasure, and acquired much information from the perusal of these volumes; and we think them, both for matter and style, worthy the attention of all who interest themselves in events which have so justly excited the curiosity and astonishment of mankind."
6. Plowden's history of the British empire from May 1792, to December 1793. A dollar and a quarter. [This is an interesting valuable publication as had appeared for many years.]
7. Beattie's Elements of Moral Science 2 vols. One dollar and three quarters
8. Ladies Library. Second American edition. 87 1/2 cents. CONTAINING—Miss Moore's Essays; Dr. Gregory's Legacy to his Daughters; Lady Pennington's unfortunate mother's advice to her Daughters; Marchioness de Lambert's Advice of a mother to her daughter, Mrs. Chapon's Letter on the government of the temper; Swift's Letter to a Young Lady newly married; Moore's Fables for the Female Sex
9. Journal durant un Sejour en France depuis le commencement d'out july, la fin de la mi-décembre; auquel est ajoute un recit des evenemens les plus remarquables qui ont eu lieu a Paris, depuis cette époque, jusqu'à la mort du roi de France.
Bound, 2 1/2 dollars—sewed, 2 dollars.
10. Edward's treatise on the religious affections. Coarse paper, a dollar—fine, a dollar and a half.
11. Rights of Woman—by Mrs. Wollstoncraft. A dollar.
12. Willifon's Sacramental Meditations—60 cents.
13. Bonyan's Holy War, made by Shaddai against D abolus. Second edition, enlarged—25 cents.
Containing—A description of that country—of the manners and customs of the inhabitants—and of their feveral wars against Spain, France, England, Holland, Venice, and other powers of Europe—from the usurpation of Barbarossa and the invasion of Charles V. to the present time.—With a concise view of the origin of the war between Algiers and the United States.
Embellished with a map of Barbary, comprehending Morocco, Fez, Algiers, Tunis, and Tripoly.
To the present edition is added a very copious index, containing letters fromundry American prisoners in Algiers to their friends in the United States—a list of the vessels taken—and many very interesting articles not in the first edition.
15. Blair's Lectures on Rhetoric and Belles Letters. Three dollars 35 cents.
16. Smith's Letters to Married Women, on nursing and the management of children. 62 cents.
17. American Farmer's letters. 80 cents.
18. Young Millers Magazine, 2 vols. 1 dollar 33 cents.
Containing—Dialogues between a Governess and several Young Ladies of Quality her scholars.—In which each Lady is made to speak according to her particular genius, temper and inclination—Their several faults, are pointed out, and the easy way to amend them, as well as to think, and speak, and act properly; no less care being taken to form their hearts to goodness, than to enlighten their understandings with useful knowledge. A short and clear abridgment is also given of sacred and profane History, and some lessons in Geography. The useful is blended throughout with the agreeable, the whole being interspersed with proper reflexions and moral Tales.
19. Duncan's Elements of Logic. 80 cents

31. American Museum, 12 vols, 8vo. Nineteen dollars and 20 cents.
"The American Museum is not only eminently calculated to disseminate political and other valuable information, but it has been uniformly conducted with taste, attention, & propriety. It is to these important objects he superadded the more immediate office of relieving public documents from oblivion. I will venture to pronounce, as my sentiment, that a more useful literary plan has never been undertaken in America, nor one more deserving of public encouragement."
General Washington.
23. Poems of Col. Humphreys. 37 1/2 cents.
24. Catechism of Man. 18 1/2 cents.
