

as lawful prize taken, laden, in whole or in part, with English manufactures, or with the produce of English possessions. That this Decree was in full force and operation, at the time of the recapture of the Amelia, and that the would have been condemned, as lawful prize, by the French tribunal of St. Domingo, but for the recapture by the Constitution frigate. That being in possession of a French Privateer, for ten days, the property in the ship and cargo was changed, and that the recaptors were justly entitled to a liberal salvage, in consequence of having refused the same from the danger of condemnation.

On the other hand, it was contended, that the ship Amelia being the property of the subjects of a neutral power, was captured by the French Corvette, contrary to the law of nations, and whatever might have been her fate in the French Courts, had she not been recaptured, it does not belong to the courts of the United States to interfere between the subjects of a neutral foreign power and the French Republic. That a state of war does not, in reality, exist between the United States and France, because no declaration to that effect has ever been made, by either party. That notwithstanding the Commander of a public armed ship of the United States, was justified by his instructions, in retaking this ship, from the hands of the French, yet, the moment her true character was discovered in our Courts and proved to be the property of a neutral foreign power, in amity with this country, she should have been restored to the original owners, without salvage, not to the French, who had wrongfully taken her &c.

This is an imperfect outline of the leading features in this cause, which the court had under advisement till Thursday, when his honor the Presiding Judge, announced, "That this being a cause of the first impression, the court order it to be continued, for the purpose of hearing a further argument, before a fuller court."

Bass vs. Triage } Error from the Circuit Court for the Pennsylvania District.

This was a case depending upon principles, in many respects similar to those of the preceding, except that the claim in that instance is for salvage, for the recapture of a vessel belonging to citizens of the United States, by one of our public armed ships. It was argued, much at length by Lewis and E. Tilghman for Plaintiffs in Error; and W. Tilghman and Rawle for the Defendants.

It was agreed that, by the last law of Congress, regulating the allowance of salvage, which repeals all former provisions on this subject, the Recaptors are entitled to 1/2 part of the whole value saved. The Defendants in Error, contend for 1/3.

No judgment has yet been rendered. Several other causes of minor importance have been argued in the course of the session. The Court rose yesterday.

The author of the following imitation of a pathetic French Song composed it hastily from the slight recollection of the original, as sung once in his hearing, by the celebrated Mrs. POWNALL. The Editor states this circumstance, merely to explain any accidental errors, in the sense or expression of the original, as he cannot with his limited researches, and partial knowledge of the French language readily discover the Opera Book, where it is to be found: For the Imitation itself not a shadow of apology is necessary. It is a beautiful and tender poem, and every one, alive to the domestic charities, will sympathize with the affectionate Parent.

ORIGINAL POETRY.

No. III.

CHANSON.

Ton amour, O Pille chérie,
Me console de tous mes maux,
Si ton Perc aime encore la vie,
C'est pour veiller a ton repos.
Ma retraite profonde tu la vois
Sans effroi, j'en suis pour toi
Le monde, tu les aussi pour moi,
Tu les aussi, tu les aussi pour moi.
De Capo.

Le fouverin de mon naufrage
Vient il m' agiter, malgre moi,
Pour ranimer tout mon courage,
J'aime a redire pres de toi,
Ma fille, Azemia.

IMITATED.

Child of my love, thy fondness still Consoles me, mid a host of woes,
And if I bear with life and ill
'Tis but to watch o'er thy repose.
Fears thou feelt my dark retreat,
Where I am all the world to thee,
And 'till this pulse shall cease to beat
'Thou shalt be all the world to me.
Should torturing fancy paint the storm,
That sunk each hope in deep despair,
Thy gentle voice, thy angel form,
Shall lull each pang, shall calm each care.
Tho' wreck'd forlorn, this feeble frame
Bends to the tempests, as they roll,
Still, near thee to repeat thy name
Is music to thy father's soul.
My child, my Zimra, thy lov'd name
Is music, to thy father's soul,
Tho' wreck'd, forlorn, his feeble frame
Bends to the tempests, as they roll.

Middling, from 115s to 124s per do Good, from 125s to 132s per do
Fine, from 138s to 142s per do Triage, from 76s to 86s per do c COCOA, West-India, from 80s to 83s per do Caracas, from 87s to 92s per do.

The crops in the West-Indies having fallen very short, and stocks here considerably reduced, has caused a briskness for Sugar of every description, and considerable purchases have been made, in part by order and in part on speculation.

Fine Coffee goes off readily; every other description heavy, with large stocks on hand—and as the West-India fleets are now beginning to arrive, it is doubtful whether the present prices will be maintained.

Caracas much enquired for—West-India rather heavy.

d GINGER, White, from 60s to 62s per cwt

i FUSTIC, from 16 to 18s per ton j NICARAGUA WOOD, from 12s to 24s per do k HIDES, Spanish, dried, from 5 1/2 to 6d per lb.

A very steady demand; common sorts uncommonly scarce, and on that account proportionably higher than fine. The export of Cotton Twill is so considerable, as to run off the article as it arrives. No prospect of a decline.

Though the quantity at market is great, there is a steady demand.
Heavy sale with large stocks.

FOR SALE,

A VALUABLE TRACT OF

LAND,

LYING on the Potomac River, county of Nerthumberland, state of Virginia, containing about 1400 acres—its situation is equal to any other in the Northern Neck, remarkable for every kind of wild fowl, oysters, fish and crab, and none better for health. It is about the same distance from Baltimore, Alexandria and Norfolk, and not more than one day's sail from either. There are three improved plantations with dwelling houses, the one known by the name of Exeter Lodge, formerly the residence of col. John Gordon, is an elegant two story brick house, with four rooms on a floor, and a passage sixteen feet wide.

The other two are commodious and conveniently fitted, with good and suitable out houses, as one of which John Murphy, Esq. (now of Westmoreland county) lived several years; on this farm there is a good mill mill, with water sufficient to turn any number of stones; also convenient store-houses and granaries on a public road, well situated for a country store. On each of these places there are fine apple and peach orchards. The greater proportion of the land is of the first quality, and near the half of the whole heavily timbered. The terms may be known by applying to Wm P. Tebb Baltimore, Souther G. Tebb, Esq. of Richmond county, Virginia, or to Thomas Murgatroyd and Sons, Philadelphia.
