PROSPECT OF NEWS.

Last Thursday night, the ship Cornelia, Captain Prince arrived at Portland from Liverpool, which she left September 3. No news by her has yet been received in town. The mail for Portland is due this evening.

NEW-BEDFORD, October 14.

LOSS OF SHIP HOPE.

Last evening arrived in town, Elihu Doty, late master of the ship Hope, of this port, by whom we learn the loss of that ship—the following particulars of which distressing event, are hastily collected from his protest, made at Portsmouth.

She failed from Wilmington, N.C. on the 19th Aug. for Jamaica, laden with lumber and corn—on the 6th Sept. in lat 26 00 N long 69 30 W. met with a severe gale of wind—on the 8th, the gale increased, and the ship leaked so much that notwithstanding the deck-load was thrown over, and every exertion made at the pumps, at 11 o'clock P. M. the water came over the cabin floor; the wind at this time blowing so excessively hard, as to bring salt water over the vessel, so as to endanger smothering a man on deck, in addition to the rain which we supposed had been incessant & very hard for 24 hours, as it had been almost as dark at noon as at night, but the rain could not be distinguished from the drift of the sea, which flew over the mast heads; it was now found necessary to cut away all three of the masts to prevent the ship from upsetting; at 12 o'clock at night the ship was entirely filled with water, and a high sea beating over her; John Bolter, a seaman, was washed overboard and drowned: the rest of the people, 7 in number, secured themselves by lashings, at 4 o'clock A. M. on the 9th, the gale, which for 30 hours had seemed continually to increase, abated a little, when it was found that three wax candles, were every eatable thing that could be obtained, and no fresh water; found a drowned rat, and laid it aside.

The distresses of the people from this time till the 17th, are hardly to be described on the 10th, they eat part of the rat, also found a piece of pork; the 12th, obtained more meat, but their throats were too much parched to swallow; very hot weather for several days past, and wind light: from a shower in the evening caught a little water—14th, caught more water, & from the great temptation drank so much as to have very prejudicial effects: 15th, high sea, deck began to rip up; 16th, good weather; 17th, were taken off by ship Mercury, Capt. Jacob Tredwell, of Portsmouth, and arrived at that port on the 2d Oct.—The next day, Mark Lamb, one of the seamen, who had been sick from the 21st Sept died.—Robert Collet, the 2d mate, had died previous to the gale.

NEW-LONDON, October 14.

On the 8th of October instant, at a special District Court, held at this place, came on the trial of the schooner Vengeance, lately captured and brought into this port, by the United States ship Trumbull, David Jewett, Esq. commander; when the said schooner being an armed vessel, mounting 10 guns, and manned with a large number of the adherents of General Rigaud, was condemned, with her cargo, consisting of specie, bullion, &c. which they had collected and were attempting to flee with from Jeremie in the island of St Domingo to Cuba, but being intercepted by the vigilance of the Trumbull, have lost their plunder, which perhaps was not acquired in the most honorable way.

The Vengeance and her cargo are by said decree ordered to be distributed to the United States and the Officers and Crew of the Trumbull, in pursuance of the law of the United States in such a case made and provided.

At the same time came on the trial of the schooner Tullie, taken by the same ship, which was by decree of this court acquitted, it appearing that she was not an armed vessel, and that the only object Charles Seys, Esq. the claimant could have in view was to escape with his wife and children from the Vengeance of General Touissant, who had conquered that part of Hispaniola, which had been in the possession of Rigaud. The property of the schooner Tullie was instantly returned by Capt. Jewett, to said Charles Seys, the claimant.

Indian Queen.

THE Subscriber begs leave to inform the Public that he has taken that well-known Inn, the INDIAN QUEEN, lately kept by Mr. James Thompson, deceased, and solicits their patronage as well as the patronage of those Gentlemen who were accustomed to give it their support, assuring them that it shall be conducted on the same liberal plan which characterized it when under the superintendance of his predecessor. The house has undergone a thorough repair, and it would be needless to observe to those who know them, that the stables are, in spaciousness and convenience, unequalled in Philadelphia, and the best provender and attendance are always provided for horses, by the Public's obedient servant.
