

LONDON September 2.
Extract of a letter from Sir Sidney Smith to General Menon, Commander in Chief of the French army in Egypt, dated Joppa, 22d June, 1800.

"GENERAL,
"I received this evening the letter dated the 20th June, which you have done me the honor to write me—At the moment at which I expected to see General Kleber under the most fortunate and favorable auspices, I learn with highest chagrin, and with the greatest grief, his tragical death. (The letter will appear in full to-morrow.)

September 2.
Maffena and Brune, are about to repair to Paris, where it appears that the Commanders in Chief of all the armies of the Republic have assembled, a circumstance which is of itself sufficient to remove all idea of the resumption of hostilities. If there were not other less ostensible reasons for this, it is erroneously supposed by some, that the trifling fall in the French Funds was an anti pacific symptom. It is the natural consequence of the delay which the new turn that the negotiations have taken has produced, in their expected issue. We shall in a few days see the hopes of the public rise more rapidly than they have fallen.

September 3.
The following is the price of the French Funds during the three first days of the present month:

	Tiers Confolide	Rente Provisoire
Sept. 1,	32 88	16 13
2,	31 88	17 13
3,	31 50	17 8

The French Journalists are, it seems, very angry, because the Russian Ambassador at Berlin has given a splendid supper to Lord Carysfort—But these men should not be so much vexed at this repast, since it has afforded them a Bone to Pick.

It is rather unlucky for the French Consul, that as soon as he has determined to satisfy the will of the French People, by giving them a Navy the woods of France should be destroyed by fire. But the French Consul may, however, console himself with the idea that his nation is saved the expence of ship building, and the consequent surrender of his navy to British valor, or its sacrifice by British thunder.

General Menon, if report may be trusted, has actually contributed to the death of Kleber, whose fate he affects to deplore; but as Menon is now a Musselman, he perhaps considered it a religious duty to destroy a Christian, though from the conduct of the French in Egypt, he had no reason to believe that any of them could be entitled to such an appellation.

Among the prizes given by Buonaparte for the encouragement of the navy, there is no one so likely to be attended with beneficial effects to the French, as that which holds out encouragement to the men who can stop a hole under water. The Rogues who aim at the hull will find employment for them.

September 6.

Yesterday a lances were received from Minorca. By these we learn, that the 35th regiment, which is 1700 strong, has been sent to Malta. The force under General Abercrombie, consisting of about 900 men, have failed to the Eastward, and supposed to be destined for Egypt; and the general had left orders that the 4000 men which were landed on the island of Honat, but were afterwards re-embarked for the Mediterranean, should follow him. Among these are several hundred cavalry.

A council of the Cabinet Ministers was yesterday held at Lord Grenville's Office, on the advices received from the Continent. His Grace the Duke of Portland, Earls of Chatham and Camden; Lord Grenville, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer attended the meeting.

Three Flags of Truce arrived on Wednesday at Dover from Calais, with dispatches. In the last came over some passengers.

It is reported that Major General Knox is appointed to be Governor General of Jamaica; and that he is immediately to set out to the West-Indies.

The Duke of Wintenberg, with the Hereditary Prince, and his Ministers, Count Zepelin and Baron Nottman, is now at Vienna, and has had several audiences of the Emperor.

A letter from Denmark, dated August 26, states that all the Danish Officers, Naval and Military, upon leave of absence, are ordered immediately to join their corps and march to the sea side.

On the 22d ultimo, Admiral Sir Richard Bickerton, who commands off Cadiz, in the Swiftsure, gave a fresh notice to the foreign Consuls residing in that city, that the port of Cadiz continued in a state of blockade. All neutral vessels going into that harbour unloaded, would pass free and without being searched; but that no loaded ships, coming from that port, would be permitted to sail without a passport first obtained from the commanding officer in the Mediterranean.

September 9.
It was on the 29th ultimo, that Lord Whitworth signed the Convention with Count Bernadotte, the Danish Minister. The following is a copy of a note written by his Lordship to one of our ministers abroad on the subject, and is more explanatory than any thing that has been published on the subject:—

"COPENHAGEN, Aug. 30, 1800.

"I have the satisfaction to acquaint you, that I yesterday signed a Convention with the Danish Minister, on terms satisfactory to his Majesty, and such as will, I think, strengthen the bonds of friendship and alliance between the two countries.
(Signed) "WHITWORTH."

The following are the principal articles of the Convention:—

"The Danish frigate and convoy, carried into Deal, shall be repaired at the expence of Great Britain, and then released.

"The discussion respecting the asserted right of the English to visit Convoys shall be adjourned to a further Negotiation in London.

"Until this point is decided, Danish ships shall only sail under convoy in the Mediterranean Seas, to protect them from the Algerine cruizers. The Danish ships shall be liable to be searched as heretofore.

"The Convention shall be ratified by the two Courts within 3 weeks.

M. MCCONNELL,

Chestnut street, No. 143.

The Editor of the Walpole paper is conspicuous for his felicity in the art of punning, a mode of exciting merriment, which, though sometimes derided by the lofty fastidiousness of attic wit will be continued, while men remember that Cicero and Swift, did not disdain to play with words. We find the following Jue de mot in the Farmer's Museum. In a London paper, the marriage of a Mills Fish to a Mr. Hook, is mentioned. The young lady had a fortune of £ 20,000 and married her paramour without a penny, by a neat scriptural allusion, the London Editor remark that the draft may well be called miraculous. But, adds, the Walpole Editor, we suppose the lady, biting at unbailed book, must be an odd fish indeed.

From the returns published in the Eastern Paper, it appears probable that the Democrats will carry their ticket in Bucks County, the returns, however, from Newton and Bristol that county had not been received, and no returns has yet been received from Wayne county.

For the 24 hours preceding Saturday morning, sun-rise, there were 12 deaths in Baltimore and its vicinity.

Congress are to hold their first session at the city of Washington on the third Monday in next month. The President is expected in town on his way thither this day or to-morrow.

The United States frigate President, captain Fruxton, has recaptured an English merchantmen, with a valuable cargo, and sent her into St. Kitts.

The Governor of South Carolina has issued his proclamation, offering a reward of one hundred dollars, for apprehending Joseph John Martin, who was lately charged with passing counterfeited Bank Bills, and thereon was committed to the goal of Kerhaw district, at Camden, from whence he escaped in the night of the twenty-ninth of September last.

10,000 Barrels of Flour arrived lately at Havana in one week, in consequence of which no sales could be effected without considerable loss.

A procession, in honour of the meeting of Congress, is proposed in the Georgetown papers.

GORMANDIZING.

Yesterday afternoon a countryman from Morris's River, contracted with an oysterman to pay him fifty cents, if he would open as many oysters for him as he could eat—The oysterman had opened nearly one hundred oysters, which the countryman devoured, when he wished the countryman to give up the bargain; but the countryman persisted until he had eaten upwards of Three Hundred, to the great astonishment of the bystanders, and the mortification of the poor oysterman who sincerely repented his bargain—The oysterman then begged him to desist, but the countryman persisted, saying he had not enough; and he would most probably have eaten the whole in the barrow, but by the solicitations of the bye-standers, he let the oysterman off and paid him the 50 cents. During this voracious meal, the countryman drank seven large glasses of brandy and water and eat twelve large biscuits.

SUMMARY

From the New-York Gazette.

We find nothing in the papers concerning our Envoys. But a passenger in the Friends informs, that just before they failed, news from Paris had been received that they were about departing for America.

The Duke of Kent has arrived at London from Halifax, and received with great affection.

The English mail for America was made up on the 3d ult. for the Mary Packet.

General Kleber, it appears, was assassinated by an Egyptian in disguise. The Grand Vizier is determined to decide the fate of Egypt sword in hand; he was reinforcing his army to 100,000 men. Every thing threatened an immediate war with the French.

Duroc is said to have left Paris again for Vienna, accompanied by senator Berthelemy.

Moreau and Lecourbe had arrived at Paris from the army—General Brune is to command the army of Italy, and Macdonald the army of Reserve.

The differences between Great Britain and Denmark are amicably terminated. The Danes are to pay Great Britain two millions for the expences incurred in fitting out the naval armament—and the English were to restore the frigate which they had taken together with the convoy. The Danes have consented to have their convoys examined, excepting those in the Mediterranean.

NEW YORK, October 20.

Extract of a letter from a respectable mercantile house in London, to their correspondents in this city, received by the Two Friends, Captain Gardner.

London, September 4.

"Advices from Germany and France, indicate a renewal of war on the continent, and which is to be decided by the 11th instant. The Emperor's submission to the terms of France, can alone prevent it. We have all advices of the 29th ultimo, from Paris, that your Commission is renewed, and that the negotiation is again proceeding. We hope in consequence of fuller instructions from your executive.

BASSATERRE ST. KITTS, Sep. 13.

The U. S. sloop Experiment, Charles Stewart Esq. commander, came in on Tuesday with the sloop Deux Amis, Vincent Visco, Master, of 6 guns, belonging to Curacao, last from Guadaloupe for St. Bartholomew, with Produce, which she had captured after an hour and an half engagement on Monday morning last to windward of the latter island.
