City of Washington. SCHEME of the LOTTERY, No. II, FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE FEDERAL CITY.

Table with columns for ticket types and amounts. Includes rows for '50,000', '40,000', '30,000' and 'Prizes'.

This Lottery will afford an elegant specimen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Washington. Two beautiful designs are already selected for the entire fronts on two of the public squares; from these drawings, it is proposed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as soon as possible after this Lottery is sold, and to convey them when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner described in the scheme for the Hotel Lottery.

The drawing will commence as soon as the Tickets are sold off. The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finished, and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is closed are to be considered as given towards the fund for the University, it being determined to settle the whole business in a year from the ending of the drawing and to take up the bonds given as security.

The real securities given for the payment of the Prize are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the Lottery. The twenty four gentlemen who by appointment of the late Commissioners assisted in the management of the Hotel Lottery are requested to undertake this arduous task a second time on behalf of the public; a sufficient number of these having kindly accepted, it is hoped that the friends to a National University and the other federal objects may continue to favor the design.

A complete PLAN of the whole of this important institution, compiled from a selection of the best materials, ancient and modern, will be submitted to the public whenever the same may have gone through such revisions as may be necessary to establish the perfect confidence and general approbation, so essential to its present rise and future existence for the general good of America. By accounts received from the different parts of the Continent as well as from Europe, where the tickets have been sent for sale, the public are assured that the drawing will speedily commence, and that the care and caution unavoidably necessary to insure a safe disposal of the tickets, has rendered the short suspension indispensable.

February 24, 1795. SAMUEL BLODGET, codf.

Aug 30 Tickets may be had at the Bank of Columbia; of James West & Co. Baltimore or Gideon Denison, Savannah; of Peter Gilman, Boston; of John Hopkins, Richmond; and of Richard Wells, Cooper's ferry.

THIS DAY WAS PUBLISHED, (Price one Dollar,) For THOMAS DOBSON, No. 41, So. Second street, Vol. I. Part II. of

The Political Register, Or, proceedings in the Session of Congress, commencing November 3, 1794, and ending March 3, 1795, By JAMES THOMSON CALLENDER.

TO THE PUBLIC. During the last session of Congress, minutes of the proceedings in the house of Representatives were published in several Daily Papers. It has been suggested, as an acceptable service to the public, to collect and reprint the minutes, in a more durable form than that of a Newspaper. Several members of Congress have furnished a variety of additions, that never had reached the press. The Journal of the house has been consulted to supply some deficiencies, and to correct some inaccuracies, inevitable in the haste of a daily publication. The Journal of the Senate has likewise been incorporated with the text; and no degree of diligence has been spared to make the book authentic and complete. The debates of last session respecting Democratic Societies, the admission of foreign nobility as American Citizens, the excise on certain manufactures, the indemnification of sufferers in the late insurrection, the vote of thanks to General Wayne and his army, the State of the South Western frontier, along with some other discussions, were well adapted to excite curiosity, and merit preservation as an interesting part of American history.

At T. Dobson's may also be had, the following publications.

1st. Proceedings in an action for debt, between Charles James Fox, plaintiff, and John Horne Poole, defendant—Price five sixths of a Dollar. The dialogue between Lord Kenyon, and the defendant, displays one of the most singular scenes to be met with, either in works of fancy, or in real life. 2d. The Political Progress of Britain; or, an Imperial History of abuses in the Government of the British Empire, in Europe, Asia, and America. From the Revolution in 1688, to the present time. PART SECOND, price 40 Cents.

The former Pamphlet, under this title, printed in Philadelphia, has been re-published in London, and met with an extensive sale. The second part is a continuation of the work on the same plan. Jan. 7, 1796. 2aw3w.
