This Lottery will afford an elegant specimen of the ivate buildings to be erected in the City of Washington - Two beautiful designs are already selected for the entire ronts on two of the public squares; from these drawings, it is proposed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as soon as possible after this Lottery is sold, and to convey them when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner, described in the scheme for the Hotel Lottery. A next deduction of five per cent, will be made to defray the necessary expenses of printing, &c. and the surplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National University, to be erected within the City of Washington.

Walnington.

(3) The drawing will commence as foon as the Tickets are fold off.—The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finished, and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is closed are to be considered as given towards the fund for the University, it being determined to fettle the whole business in a year from the ending of the drawing and to take up the bonds given as security.

The real fecurities given for the payment of the Prize are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the Lottery.

The twenty four gentlemen who by appointment of the late Commissioners assisted in the management of the Hotel Lottery are requested to undertake this arduous task a second time on behalf of the public; a sufficient number of these having kindly accepted, it is hoped that the friends to a National University and the other sederal objects may continue to savor the design. The synopsis of one of the Colleges, to form a branch of the National Institution, is already in the press, and will be speedily published, together with its constitution.

A compleat Plan of the whole of this Important institution, compiled from a selection of the best materials, anciest and modern, will be submitted to the public whenever the same may have gone through such revisions as may be necessary to establish the perfect considence and general approbation, so essential to its present rise and future existence for the general good of America.

By accounts received from the different parts of the Continent as well as from Europe, where the tiekets have been sent for sale, the public are assured that the drawing will speedily commence, and that the care and caution unavoidably necessary to insure a safe disposal of the tickets, has rendered the short suspension indispensable. Bank of Columbia,

A Late act of the General Affembly making fome alteration in the Charter of the Bank of Columbia (but not to have effect until the confent of the Stockhold-

(but not to have effect until the confent of the Stockholders in the faid Bank be given at a general meeting, and transmitted, under their corporate feal, to the governor and council) being too long for infertion in a newspaper, I am directed by the President and Directors to notify the Stockholders of the alteration, as follows:

By the original law, the Stock of the Bank of Columbia is to consist of 10,000 shares of 100 dollars each, to be paid by annual instalments of 100 dollars on each share, except the first three payments, which are directed to be made, and which have accordingly been made, at shorter periods. A failure in making any of the payments required by the law, operates a forseiture of all preceding payments.

The late ast provides that the Stockholders may pay up, as foon as they think proper, the feveral initialments fill to become due on their flures, or any part thereot—but the aggregate amount of the voluntary payments fo to be made is not to exceed in any one year 100,000 dollars. No forfeiture is hereafter to be incurred by any Stockholder for non-payment of any of the remaining instalments due on his flures—and each Stockholder is to be entitled to receive of the future dividends in propordalments due on his shares—and each Stockholder is to be entitled to receive of the future dividends in proportion to the fums actually paid by him to the Bank.

Thus, it is proposed that each Stockholder shall be at liberty to pay up the instalments still remaining unpaid on his shares, or not, as may best fuit his convenience and interest, without any risk of forfeiting the payments already made, or his share of his future dividends in proportion to his sayments.

afready made, or his share of his future dividends in proportion to his payments.

There has already been paid to the Bank 40 dollars on each share, or 400,000 dollars of the Capital Stock.

A meeting of the Stockholders will be held at Georgetown on the 20th day of March next, to elect twelve Directors for the year ensuing—and it is presumed by the President and Directors that the question as to the acceptance or rejection of this late act, of the General Assembly will at that time be decided.

dwellings, or used as magazines or manufactories, and for what particular purpose; and to obviate all objection, it is expected that this builder's statement, and the representation annexed, shall be severally signed by the parties, and accompanied by a magistrate's certificate, that they are persons of good repute. For the government of the Public, they deem it expedient to notice, that although the premium must be fixed according to the degree of hazard in the estimation of the President and Committee of the week, yet it will probably not be more than from about half to one per cent. annually, except where a house or store is not only itself built of wood, but situated next other buildings of the same material. On such risks not more than four thousand dollars will be written on one posicy. Houses and stores built of brick or stone, on one policy. Houses and stores built of brick or stone, and situated in open streets in any of the principal towns or cities where fire engines and fire companies are established, and not containing articles particularly combustible, will be considered risks entitled to assurance at the lowest of these rates. On single hazards, even of the best kind, where from remoteness those advantages cannot be enjryed, the Company will not assure more than six thousand dollars. No policy will be signed 'till the premium be paid.

Any person insuring for seven years, will be charged enly the amount of six annual premiums, and for three years, a deduction of one-third of a year's premium will be made.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE object of the proposed work, is, to present to public view a connected series of the chief events of a period of American history, that does not yield, in importance, to any period of equal length, in the peaceful annals of any country in the world.

Desiring to excite no expectations but such as he shall endeavour to faissy, the writer is thus early in announcing, that the body and consistence of a regular history, is not to be looked for in this work: neitner his tale...ts nor his avocations allow him to hope for this. His humbler task shall be to sketch out the most prominent sea tures. It shall be his study to collect and arrange the most interesting materials—to smooth the rugged path—for abler hands, who, by such means, will find their labours abridged, and their progress accelerated.

His chief view will be, to give the History of the United States as a consederated Republic. Nevertheless, notice will be taken of the most remarkable circumstances in the history of the individual States, as far as they can be collected. This information shall be classed under separate appendixes.

PROPOSALS,
FOR PRINTING BY SUBSCRIPTION, MILLAR'S ELEMENTS

LAW OF INSURANCE.

THE present publication shall, by additions to the small Treatise published in Britain in 1787, be augmented to the size of two volumes royal offare, confilling of at least to the fize of two volumes royal ostano, confiding of at least 600 pages each, on a finall pica type.

It had been fuggested to the compiler, by many persons conversant in the law and practice of Insurance, that a complete compilation of the authorities on this single subject would be of great utility; to which persons particularly interested in this one branch of law might have recourf, instead of being under the necessity of purchasing and turning over a variety of voluminous p blications. To answer this end of conveniency, it is proposed to define the sirily volume of the present work to the reception of a very full collection of authorities; not in a state of abridement, as full collection of authorities; not in a flate of abridgment, as was the case in the former edition; and which could never fuperfore recourse to the originals; but to be inferred ver-batim from the most approved original compilations, and arranged in the mode which appears easiest for consulta-

If. The ancient Marine Ordinances of the foreign states of Europe: which form the common law of Insurance. At present it is untortunate that a collection of these is scarcely to be found any where essential in that scarce and dear book, Magen's Essay, in two volumes, 4to
2d. The Statute Law of Great-Britain in regard to Insurances. The American legislatures have hitherto done nothing upon this subject.

3d. A very full collection of the reports of adjudged cases in the courts of England and Scotland, and of those of the States of America so far as they can be obtained.—This will form by far the greatest as well as the most important part of the first volume. By means of his friends at the English bar, the compiler hopes to bring forward a number of reports of adjudged cases never before published, so as to make the feries on this subject more complete than any now extant.

The fecond volume will confift of an Inftitute, or Elementary Treatife, on a plan fomething fimilar to that of the former edition; but with a great addition of new matter; fo as to extend this part of the work to about double the former fize. A more practical arrangement will also be finded. be ftudied.
