Out great abundance will not prove a calamity, as some assert, to those whose industry and energy have created it. We regard it more it the light of Providential order by which the nations of the old world will be able to save themselves from some of the dreadful consequences of the wrong and disorder which prevail there.  Meanwhile the result at home will be such as to excite only emotions of gratitude and thankfulness, not alone for that stability and certainty that characterizes the working of our free institutions, and which saves us from the intestine strift that devastates other lands, but for that fertility of soil and that climptic adaptation which enables us to supply the wants of the suffering elsewhere. Prosperous as the North-West has been heretofore, we are unquestionably just entering upon an eight of progress that shall eclipse the past.	The careful preparation, great purity and strength of the Imperial Deparation renders large doses or long continued use of it unnecessary. It acts directly upon the diseased part, and it is not necessary to wait months to discover the benefits to be gained.  If you wish to purify and enrich the Blood, and prevent disease, as well as cure it at this season of the year, use one or two bottless of the Imperial Deparative, and we will guarantee its beneficial effects. Should China become our customer, who can estimate the effect upon prices? And that she will is much more likely than that she will not.  We leave this subject wish the strongest possible conviction that all the surplus breadstuffs of the year's production will be wanted. Prices will undoubtedly fall off from their present high range, when the new crop beginn fairly to be placed upon the market. That is a natural result, and may always be expected under ordinary circumstances. But we are quite as confident that the average prices for the next twelvemonth will be both remunerative and satisfactory to the producers. Our great abundance will not prove a calamity, as some assert, to those whose industry and energy have created it. We regard it more it the light of Providential order by which the nations of the old world will be able to save themselves from some of the dreadful consequences of the wrong and disorder which prevail there.  Meanwhile the result at home will be such as to excite only emotions of gratitude and thankfulness, not alone for that stability and certainty that characterizes the working of our free institutions, and which saves us from the intestine strife that devastates other lands, but for that fertility of soil and that climatic adaptation which enables us to supply the wants of the suffering elsewhere. Prosperous as the North-West has been heretofore, we are unquestionably just entering upon an era of progress that shall eclipse the past. The tirs step now was to ever an organization. Not since the days of Christ have any five loaves and two falses multiplied so rapidly. The acquisition of interest was like a hall rolled in midwinter by deligated urching the single had size.  The tirs step now was to ever an organization. Not since the false and continued to the property and affectively discharge out duty in this respect, by taking the young from the hands and returned and prevental superintendence, bringing them up in the murture and atherition of the Lord mult here are prepared for the situations allowed to them, do hereby associate ourselves the solden and	everything, for hundreds of the poor and destitute, liberally, granted by an Association which three years ago had no existence, an started upon nothing! And, the crowning excellency of the Institution is, that its manager ask scarcely a question. Whether the parent be living or dead, whether the child be a half or whole, or no orphan, is impaterial. But single issue is raised—is the applicant a child-and friendless—and at once it has a passnor to the Home, and is friendless no haore. In proof of the beneficent results, of the Home, many bighly interesting facts could be numerated.  One facen haired, bright-eyed little gir aged two and a half years, was taken from on of the most nauseous and filthy lanes of South wark. Deserted by the husband, the mother's death, was brought to the Home, an has since been adopted by a wealthy gentle main and his wife at the West, as, their ow. Shall and the future heiress of their estate.  Another little girl, three and a half year old, was mysteriously left in the saloon of the faired and the future heiress of their estate. Another little girl, three and a half year old, was mysteriously left in the saloon of the faired and the future heiress of their estate. Another little girl, three and a half year old, was mysteriously left in the saloon of the faired and the future heiress of their estate. Another little girl, three and a half year old, was mysteriously left in the saloon of the fairest, and has since been along the half by a pretended annt, who sailed immediately for England. This child is general supposed to have been stolen in England. Shear, which is the street, and has since been along through the sectal superintending for her and half year old, was picked upon the sense of our free institutions, he may one describe the sense channer, or preside over he country's destinies in the White House!  The department of life's teering destribution of God, as in this, many of these children and so her and suppose to be ended superintending from the sum of the read sea and blea	gring, we may reasonably expect. I am per- suaded that my copy is in no way the inferior of the crops of my neighbors, and the universal statement that I hear upon the whole coast is, "My stand is good, but the canes are very small." Believe my prediction—it will take a most favorable season to give us 200,000 hogsheads; and with had weather, swith any degree of certainty, how little we may make.  Died, at Hazlewood, in the county of St. Louis, Missouri, on the 27th of July, Major Rich'd Graham, in the 78th year of his age. Major Gra- ham, of Dumfries, Prince William county, Virgi- en ia. He was brother of George Graham, acting Beoretary of War during the administration of the General Land Office; of John Graham, first United States District, Attorney for Louisians, Secretary of Legation to Spain, Commissioner to the South American republies, and Minister Pleni- republicant Monroe, and subsequently Commissioner to the Bouth American republies, and Minister Pleni- republicant Monroe, and subsequently Commissioner to the Bouth American republies, and Minister Pleni- republicant Monroe, and subsequently Commissioner to the Bouth American republies, and Minister Pleni- republicant Monroe, and subsequently Commissioner to the Bouth American republies, and Minister Pleni- republicant Monroe, and subsequently Commissioner to the Bouth American republies, and Minister Pleni- republicant Monroe, and subsequently Commissioner to the Bouth American republies, and Minister Pleni- republicant Monroe, and subsequently Commissioner to the Bouth American republies, and Minister Pleni- republicant Monroe, and subsequently Commissioner to the State State of Major Graham, and served with distinction as aid-de-camp on the staff of Major to the last war with Great Britain, and served with distinction as aid-de-camp on the staff of Major to the State Statement. It is said to be the hand- somety specimen that has been brought into New Major Graham that has been brought into New States of Forestylle, found one some two years slane tha	of people in Ireland in 1847, and yet we alknow how the famine in that country affected the market for breadstuffs. Should China become our customer, who can estimate the effect upon prices? And that she will is much more likely than that she will not.  We leave this subject wish the strongest possible conviction that all the surplus breadstuffs of the year's production will be wanted. Prices will undoubtedly fall off from their present high range, when the new crop beginn fairly to be placed upon the market. That is a natural result, and may always be expected under ordinary circumstances. But we are quite as confident that the average prices for the next twelvemonth will be both remunerative and satisfactory to the producers. Our great abundance will not prove a calamity, as some assert, to those whose industry and energy have created it. We regard it more it the light of Providential order by which the nations of the old world will be able to save themselves from some of the dreadful consequences of the wrong and disorder which prevail there.  Meanwhile the result at home will be such as to excite only emotions of gratitude and thankfulness, not alone for that stability and certainty that characterizes the working of our free institutions, and which saves us from the intestine strife that devastates other lands, but for that fertility of soil and that climatic adaptation which enables us to supply the wants of the suffering elsewhere. Prosperous as the North-West has been heretofore, we are unquestionably just entering upon an era of progress that shall eclipse the past.
