

THE PRESS

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1857.

THE PRESS.—Books on our Table: City Police; John G. Breckinridge; English View of America; The City of Genoa; The Song-writers of England; The Combs; British Territory to American Home.

THE UTTER DISFRANCHISEMENT OF THE FREE PEOPLE OF THE SEVERAL COUNTIES OF KANSAS.

Among the arguments used by Messrs. J. W. Alexander and J. C. Smith, against the Leecompton Constitution, it is one based on a fact not generally understood, but which we deem a triumph and unanswerable reply to those who allege that the power of the Convention was sovereign, and that in consequence of its failure to submit its work to the people, Congress has no right to be behind it.

THE EUROPEAN AND INDIAN NEWS. From Washington. The British and French fleets, which were 89 a few weeks ago, were quoted on the 9th inst., when the steamer left Liverpool, at 222 the central district of England, and in the vicinity of the coast of France.

THE BANK CHARTER AND THE LEYBANK. The bill for the charter of the Bank of Pennsylvania, which was passed by the Senate on the 12th inst., is now in the hands of the President.

OUR BANKS AND THE RELIEF LAW. The bill for the relief of the banks, which was passed by the House on the 12th inst., is now in the hands of the President.

ENGLAND VERSUS AMERICA. In another page we give a curious article, from the London Times, of December 20, 1857, in which the bill for the relief of the banks is compared with the bill for the relief of the banks in England.

THE BILLS IN THE HOUSE. The bill for the relief of the banks, which was passed by the House on the 12th inst., is now in the hands of the President.

THE BILLS IN THE SENATE. The bill for the relief of the banks, which was passed by the Senate on the 12th inst., is now in the hands of the President.

OUR NAVAL STEAMERS. We have recently been allowed to examine an extract from the report of the United States Navy, which contains a list of the steamers of the United States Navy.
