GREAT BRITAIN. GREAT BRITAIN. President Buchanan's message attracted much attention in England. It was tolegraphed entire from Liverpool to some of the London journals, being the longest despatch ever sent by telegraph, in England. The Dariy News praises the frankness of the foreign policy of the President, and says that "in tone and feeling, as regards England, nothing can be more unobjectionable than the language of Mr. Buchanan's Message." It also endorses: his vlews on the commercial crisis, but says that the shuffing tone of the Message on the afairs of Kansas is in painful contrast with the frank and manly tone of that portion which treats of foreign policy. Herald believes it "to be a more sensible, tempa-rate, and dignified document than has for some time reached our shores from the other side of the Atlantic." The Liverpool Mercury growls, as usual, saying, "On the whole, we cannot say that Mr. Buchanan's mesage is likely to prove more satisfactory to those in this country who desire to cultivate a cordial and hon-orable friendship with the United States than similar document from the least re-spectable of his predecessors. THE GOVEBNOR'S MESSAGE.

We publish this morning the Governor Message. It is not a very interesting or in portant document, and contains scarcely a sin gle new idea. Governor Pollock, while ex pressing the hope that when time has softene "the asperity of partisan feeling" his admir istration will be cordially approved, seems in conscious of the want of ability strikingly dis played by himself, in the very message befor us, to rise above the dead level of the explo dod partisan tenets of his own political faith We have read nearly all he has to say about the tarriff, the banks, the public works, etc. long ago. He clings to the idea of a high pro tective tariff as the only true panacea for existing evils, and repeats fallacies which have been fully exposed, practically as well as theorelically, over and over again, with an oracu lar air quite refreshing. The bank question which fully falls within the scope of the action of State legislation, is but slightly alluded t He recommends, however, a free hanking sys tem, and advises those whom he addresses t carefully consider the whole subject of banking; which we hope they will do ... The finances of the State are discussed at length. A reneal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania Railroad is proposed. The suggestion in favor of the establishment of an agricultural bureau is renewed, and the interests of education advocated. The erection of a house for the Chief Megistrate of the State, and of a monu ment in the public, grounds of the 'Capitol, to the Pennsylvania soldiers who fell in the Mex can war, is recommended. Soveral other sub jects are alluded to.

THE TWO SPEAKERS. The Democrats have elected their Speak of the State Senate, Mr. WEISH, of York and also their Speaker of the House, Mr LONGAREE, of Montgomery. They were both duly nominated in caucus, and afterward elected in regular session. They are both most warmly to the denunciation of Executive excesses of power. Mr. Maynard, of Tennessee, interposed a warm protest against the too-hasty condemnation of our naval officers. This gentleman is a preacher, a awyer, and a politician; he is also a very striking looking man, and an impressive though wordy speaker, with a loud, distinct voice, measured sen-tonces; emphatic gesticulation, and rather estenia-tions rhetoric. His argument was that Paulding

He objected to making a martyr of a rascal, and would have thought better of Commodore Paulding if he had hung him to the yard-arm, instead of bringing him home to be made a martyr of. Mr. Lovejoy is a loud, emphatic, earnest speaker, of some coarse humor and vigor of expression, and mmense vociferousness. Mr. Stanton, of Ohio, argued for the right of th

Executive to arrest on high soas persons escaping from our laws. This gentloman was considerably badgered by Mr. Stevens, of Georgia, with interrocatorics, and by a powerful rejoinder, in which Stephens declared that his knowledge of the Presi-Stephens decisated that his knowledge of the from dent's wisdom, patriotism, and good sense forbade even the suspioion that Paulding soted by his au-thority. He showed that no man could be arrested without process of law emanating from the judicial power. General Quitman, too, made a most sonclusive answer to Stanton, who-a tall, sallow, and rather ill-favored Republican-retired from the debate onsiderably damaged in his reputation as a law yer and logician.

WASHINGTON, JAD. 6.—The Senate, in execu-tive session to:day, were ongaged nearly three hours in discussing matters connected with the nomination of Mr. Sedgwick for United States Attorney for the Southern District of Now York, in place of MoKeon, removed. While it is proba-ble that the nomination will be confirmed, those who intend voting in the affirmative will define their position, believing the President has the right or power to change the officer, but not justi-fying the removal for the reasons alleged. Bome uncertainty is expressed as to the desirableness of accumulating a large revenue before the payment of the dividends.
