ave detailed. Q. What was that opinion, as founded upon the facts ou have detailed, and inducing you to send him to Virginis? The District Attorney objected, on the ground that it was not evidence; that it was merely the 'bilinon of a witness as to the sanity or insanity of the prisoner at a particular time; the witness and heing a medical man, and wit so skilled and predicted has to enable him to form the han option as the jury are ontilled to have. Mr. Mann quotes in support of his objection the case of Lake et al.

Alt, adding dinkes in support of the objection the case of Lako 4. The People, ranker's Criminal Reports, p. 153. Judge Allikon. The case of Wilkinson vs Poterson, 11 Harris, bears upon this question. I think the ques-tion of completency, for instance, to make a will would be heat sent to the jury. but there usy be a difference between civil and criminal cases Mr. Maun. There is a great difference : a man though not sufficiently sano to make a will creatly and the superscript of the superscript of the superscript sano to account for a capital offerige. This wilness is asked to any the prison who conversed with another was amiclently complete to testify as to the condition of his mind; and if this be good hav in relation to civil cases, shall it not hold good whore a sman though in takes?
