FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. THE MONEY MARKET, PHILADRIPHIA, June 15, 1858.
We have no decided feature in the stock market to We have no decided feature in the stook market to note. Investment securities tend upward, while the fanles morely maintain previous quotations.

The coal business continues depressed, and no decided improvement is to be looked for until the great industrial interests of the country revive. The working classes are almost without employment, and, as a necessary consequence, have exased to be consumers of the overlything but the mere necessaries of life. With all classes, the rich as well as the poor, it is a period of restricted consumption, not only of the necessaries of life, food and clothing, but off coal, tron, and all the products of humin skill and thoustry. How soon the tide of presperity will return does not yet appear. Hope begins to dawn. The great disturbing elements have expected their force. The products of our manhave expessed their force. The products of our man ulacturing establishments have been in a great me are consumed.

The present demand for coal, iron, and everything that enters the wants of life, is merely to the extent that eaters the wants of life, is merely, to the extent of adily necessities. Offittal is abundant in the great centres of business, and can be had at remarkably low rates of interest, while in England rates rule unusually high, which, in connection with the fact that cotton has declined, disarms English manufacturers of advantages they have for years objoed.

With sideh modifications in the present revenue law as experience clearly indicates are necessary to produse a national income equal to the expenses of the Government, and a wise discrimination with a view to protect home industrial interests, an early return to activity, under the condition of things stated, may rea-I the cause, thereby readering it necessary for the raining of the water in order to remove it. Usirad Starts District Court—Judge Cadwalater,—Lucius Starts and John Y. Qastor were put on trial charged with forging and pissing counterfeit coin of the United States, of the denominations of half and quarier-dollars. The defendants were arrested in Westwood, in Schuylkill country, and brought down to this city for trial. Upon being searched, there was found on their presons between $700 and $900 in counterfeit money, consisting of counterfeit fives on the Philadelphia Bank the Iron Bank of Bockway, State of New Jersey, and ones on the Farmers' Bank of Orwell, State of Vermont, and bogus 2½ and I dollar, pieces.

This money, when displayed upon the District Attorney's deak, presented a nest assortment of what is sechnically known as the "stiff," or, critically speaking, the "queer," It would have gladdened the oye of some of the gentry that make this nefarious business their peculiar study. The toetimony for the deform was that this money had been passed upon the dufendants in some payments that were made to them, and that they bore a good character. For the purpose of showing character a number of winesses were called who spoke very favorably of the defendants, and, until this charge, had never heard anything against them. The eventual contents will be made at the opening of the court this morning. Wim B. Rankin, Eq., for Bwartz, and Daniel Dougherty, Eq., for Castor.

Quantar Areasonse—Indee Allison.—Lewis Derow was put on triat charged with an assult and battery with attempt te kill William's Safin, the keeper of the debtor's prison. Mr. Essim testified that he entered the apartment where the defendant was confined as witness in a case of the United States District Court, when he was attacked by Derow, and but for assistance would have been se-iously injured. Derow also made an attack on Mr. Littid out the keeper. The defendant and who was and is evidently insane, was acquitted in a state of the United States District Court, when he was attacked by Derow, person named Hansom testified that ha had taken the breastline, and he had yesterday pleaded guilty to the charge.

Bobert Neill was charged with the larceny of a quantity of mutton, the property of Charles Dougherty. Verdict guilty.

William Fullmer was charged with assault and battery upon Rophia Fullmer, his wife. Verdict guilty. Joseph Huffugton pleated guilty to the charge of the larceny of seven begatelle balls, the property of Thomas Ward.

Joseph Thompson was convicted of the larceny of dreor or six isger-beer glasses, the property of John Henry, but recommended to the merce of the court.

John Helly was charged with the larceny of a quantity of gold and aliver c.ins, the property of Horry Vogel. Verdict guilty. Two other bills charging him with petty larceny were submitted to the jury, and they rendered verciny were submitted to the jury, and they rendered verciny were submitted to the jury, and they rendered verciny of will. Thomas McBwiggen was charged with assault and battery upon Markhal O. Pyle, who is quite a small boy. Verdict guilty.

William Howard was convicted of the larceny of a butcher's cleaver; the property of Frederick Vanner. George Frice; Eophia Frice, and Julla Ann Nolson were charged with receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be giolen; the goods were the property of Mrs. J. T. Holt; and consisted of onfee, sugar, shoes, sowing thread; silk ribbons, cheese, &c. The District Attorney abandoned the case, and the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

CITY ITEMS.

PLOBAL FAIR AND STRAWS ERRY PESTIVAL. Of the several festivals under this title, which have been held in our city during the present season, the one opened yesterday, at Yeyne's Hall, for the benefit of the Young Men's Christian Association, chands preon the xoung hear's universal Association, stands pre-eminent. The season of flowers and strawberries is now sufficiently advanced to afford the requisite mate-rials for such a tempting display in great abundance, and the librality already shown by the public in send-ing them in is already shown by the public in send-ing them in is already shown by the public in send-ing them in its already shown by the public in send-ing them in its already shown by the public as and in-companies. we were utterly surprised to find so extensive and pie we were utterly surprised to find so extensive and pic-turesque a scene as we there behold. The festoons of evergreen interwoven with garlands of natural flowers, which bedeck profusely every part of the foom, making the air delightfully fragrant, constitute a spectable as nearly approximating an artificial paradise, as could well be imagined.

Without being able to refer to the many politic of in-terest presented to our notice, there is a single feature which deserves special attention, and which we doubt not will along in the means of streatific hundreds. not will alone be the means of attracting hundreds, be-fore the fair closes. The article referred to is a mag-nificant begines of the cholecest excits flowers, arranged in a receptacle some: four feet, in circumference, and aced upon a rustic stand about as many feet in height placed upon a rustle stand about as many feet in height. The flowers are from the garden of Geerge H. Stuart, Ergrand. were arranged by his gardener, to be presented to Dr. Jayne, by the Y. M. Ohristian Association, as an expression of their graitude, for his kindness in having granted them the free use of his hall for the moonday prayer meetings. The subscriptions to this beautiful to stimonial are placed at one dollar each, and if is expected that five hundred dollars will be re-

AGREABLE SUMMER' RESORT. We would call the attention of our readers, who intend visiting the jountry during the warm weather, to the Mount Holly. Springs Hotel, recently leased for the season by Mr. Mullin, of the St. Lawrence. This hotel is situated in the Jumberland valley, on the Carifsic and Hanover turnpike, Ave miles south of Garifsic. The buildings are located at the base of the South Mountains, immediately on the bank of Mountain Orock, and nearly in the centre of the mouth of the Gap, which renders it one of the coolest and most delightful places of resort in the State. To it distant from the city only seven hours, by two trains daily. Mr. Mullin has made ample provisions for bathing, having hot and cold baths in the slons for bathing, having hot and cold baths in the house, and two swimming houses in the Crock, for the accommodation of his guests. He has also provided bil-liard tables, ten pins, and good music. Those who pre-fer out-door amusements can find plenty in hunting, is out-too; antisements can had plenty in hunting, fishing, tiding and driving, visiting the springs, and climbing up the mountains. In regard to the comforts of the inner man; the fact that Mr. M. has been connected with the St. Lawrence ever since it was first opened is a sufficient guarantee that there will be no deficiency in that department.
