LETTERS FROM THE SOUTHWEST. [Correspondence of the Print] Sr. Louis, Missoual, May 31, 1858.
St. Louis is a perfect bee-hipe. The tide of emigration from the East continues unshated. Hotols and boarding-house of "high and low degree" are crowded to their himost capacity, and the streets swarm with strangers.

Consequent upon this rush is speculation in land, n and about the city. Interested parties advertise their properties in the most lavish manner Lots in the suburbs are knocked down at anotion Lots in the suburbs are knocked down at anotion in rapid succession, at someone prices. The infinite is 60 great.

It is beyond dispute that the property disposed of will increase in value, but not to that extent which is supposed. The infinite is 60 great.

But a small portion of the living tide which cours daily into St. Louis resains in that of the property disposed, it is modern sonvenience, bringing, as much as $200 per annum. Of small drollings there is a learth, and it has been very truly remarked, they would be occupied within a week.

Yot, while this bustle and activity exists in certain circles, the contraction of oredit in the East has very sonsibly affected business, partionarly the river trade. To day, firty, steambears, are at the Levee, exhibiting no sign of cither receiving it disposed the interesting of freight. ments having given her bonds to the smount of several millions of dellars to ald the Iron Moundin Railroad.

We believe there are but few travellers from the East who have any correct ideas as the expension to fide, at the expension to fide, at thousand miles from rechension to fide, at thousand miles from the Atlantio seaboard, a great hid handsome city with its priver streets filled with slores and spare course, with its upper sections forwind with goalty ivelling, and with its outskirts laid with avenues and plank reads, and effording, here and there, ites for tenements rivalling those of the merchant orinces of the Rast. Scolety is, not timetared to the same extent as in Chicago, with disreptible elements; nor does a stranger come in such close sounted with the class which has flocked to the city on the Northern Lake.

The most pleasant route by which the Philadelphian or New, Yorker can reach St. Louls is by way of Pitrsburgh, Grestline, Columbus, Cincinnati, and Vincennes. No more beautiful scenory could be desired than that on the Treat Keystone line—the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Without boing lauded to the same extent as the Baittmore and Ohio road, it is superior in every respective mental and one of the mountains, all are unsurpassed. Pittsburgh, the manufacturing depot, deserves more than a passing notice. As smoky and dirty as over, it still maintains superiority, and from its forges turns mechanism of unrivalled workmanship.

From the Birmingham of America diverges the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne, and Chlonge Railroad, formerly known as the Ohio and Pennsylvania, but now constituting a link in the consolidated line to Chicago, under the presidency of Goo. W. Caas, Esq. On this, the traveller for St. Louis proceeds as far as Ceelline, passing through the northern portion of Ohio, and obtaining a view of that qulet and respectable State. The connections by this route are repetuty, while timber exists in abundance.

Cincinnati is a harming spot—clean reat, and airy, with wide streets and jast the files ince. *Cincinnati is a charming spot—clean, neat, and Cincinnati is a charming spot—clean neat, and niry, with wide streets and stasty edifices, it in the streets and stasty edifices, it in pork opoils—at least until he leaves the best portion of the city, and finds his way into the holphorhood of the manufacturing, and packing establishments. Then come acres of cheeds, droves of quadrupeds, oceans of swilt, and fold smells in numerable. From Cincinnati, by the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, the traveller proceeds westward in an almost heeline over the States of Indiana and Illinois. The oceany comprises both rolling and prairie land, anequalled for productivones, if it is properly tilled.

On this poute is passed Vincennes, or St. Vincennes, as it was styled by the original softlers, which is one of the mest quiet towns in existence. On a level tract of land, and with superior advantages for the culture of fever and ague, not to mention other diseases, it is not a matter of wonder that it has not improved: If the place is mention other diseases, it is not a matter of wonder that it has not improved: If the place is beckward, however, the municipal government is beckward, however, the municipal government is wile awake, vide the following ordinance; which was passed in April, 1856, and is still in force:

WING'S FARINA CRACKERS, made from material prepared from that portion of the Wheat which is most NUTRITIQUS and HEALTH-FUL.

It is estimated that ONE POUND CONTAINS AS MUCH NUTRINENT AS TWO POUNDS OF JREAD, as it is usually baked.

WING'S FARINA CRACKERS are of small size, over ninety to the pound, and baked dry. They are delightful to the taste, and one of the best Crackers ever produced for FAMILY USE.

FOR LUNOII, and with Oysters, they are unequalled.

We ask every mother to procure WING'S FARINA CRACKERS for her children. They are far superior to many of the preparations usually given to them, being decidelly more healtiful and nourishing, and, as they dissolve readily in the mouth, are siways eaten with a fine zest. being decidedly more nearment and the salways eaten with a fine zest.
