The men have gone to work at all the collieries in the region where any work can be obtained, and the strike may be considered as at an end. The Baltimore Sun quotes a letter of a leading house in that city, which says: "Our Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is doing this month a very large business, and is fast paving off (not funding) her floating debt; and will, we think, rosume cash dividends this fall." In the Circuit Court of New York, Judge Davis presiding, Susan Brown and Amenda Rhodes have each recovered damages in the amount of $4,500, for the loss of their busbands, killed in 1850 by a locomotive of the Buffalo and State Line Railrond Company. Eliakim Shultz, who was injured at time the other two were killed recovered $1,000 damages. The first locomotive passed over the newly-com plated portion of the Northern Central Rail road to Sunbury, on the 17th inst., and we understand that the road was found to work in the best condition. We are induced to repeat the warning not to take notes of the Bank of the State of Chio, unimitation of the genuine is so exact, that even bank, tellers have been deceived by it. The shading of the line "State Bank of Ohio," is darker in the counterfeit than in the gonuine bill; and the name of the President is rather more regularly written in the former than

The Cincinnati Gazette says of them: In the counterfeit the letters of the President's name are rounded off rather more carefully than in the genuine, and the main lines are heavier in the latter than in the former; but those differences are so slight that ordinary judges would not notice them. Refuse all notes of ten dollars on the branches of the State Bank of Ohio. The plates of this bank, from one dollar up to twenty, have now been counterfeited, and in all cases the spurious ergravings have been well executed.

The question whether an individual banker, do ing banking business under the provisions of the New York general banking law, is technically a corporation, and can sue in the name assumed for his bank, instead of his individual name, has atmuch attention. Justice Balcom, of the Sixth district, has recently propounced an opinion in the case of the Bank of Havana vs. Wickham and others, in which he holds, his associates of the general term concurring, an individual banker to PHILADELPHIA STOCK EXCHANGE SALES, June 28, 1858.

CHURCH OF THE NATIVITY .- This church, loca ted at Eleventh and Washington streets, has been with ont a rector ever since it was left by the Rev. Mr. Pres ton, who is now located in Kansas. The Rev. Robert O. Mallack, having been recently elected to the rectorable of this church, entered upon his duties yesterday morning. Mr. Matlack—who was formerly the minisrectal assistant of Dr. Newton in the rectorable of rt.
Paul's—is a young man of respectable ability; has in his short ministerial carder won many friends and admirers by his consistent, unassuming plety, and his singularly modest and retired manner, which he does not His initial sermon to his new charge, delivered the Church of the Nativity, yesterday morning, was a plain Gospel disquisition upon the Cross of Christ, as the only and all-sufficient passaces for the healing of souls. The words of Scripture contained in the first clause of the 14th verse of the 6th chapter of 8t

Paul's Epittle to the Galatians were read as his text on this occasion: "God forbid that I should glory, save in the Gross of our Lord Jesus Christ."

The plan adopted in the consideration of this prayer of Paul—for as such it must be regarded—was, by samming, first, that, to glory, was so inherent a principle in man's nature, that none, no matter what their circumstances or condition in life, were exempted circumstances or condition in life, were exempted from it; also, that its presence in the human heart, so far from being forbidden, was actually imposed upon us as an obligation, the only qualification being as to what constituted a proper and legitimate object for man to glory in. This, as was expressed in the text, was none other than the Cross of Ohrist; and in view of this fact, the speaker took up and considered consecutively, though with due brayity, the following propositions: First, What the Cross of Christ really was; Second, Why its emulation should constitute the sole object of man's ambition; Third, The glorious result to which such glorying tended, and lastly, The obligations which such glorying tended, and lastly, The obligation which all were under—a'ter Christ's great humiliation for our sake—to accept the easy terms upon which sal vation was offered.

In the course of his discourse, Mr. Matlack said that by God's help the Gross should be the great central principle of the ministry he was just commencing among that people. He knew that to gain the popular admiration of the world it was necessary to preach to the imagination, but he desired not to prostitute his office o any such unworthy end In the afternoon he preached a sermon to the children and youth, and in the evening at 8 o'clock the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. Dr.

THE GERMANTOWN TENT .-- We have already referred to the successfully organized Young Men's Obristian Association of Germantown; also, that it Obristian Association of Germantown; also, that it was their purpose, in emulation of what our association in this city has done, to exect a movable tent for the purpose of holding religious services in localities which would otherwise not be reached. Through the praiseworthy efforts of the officers of this young association, and the generosity of their numerous friends, the tent has been completed and dedicated to the sacred purposes for which it was erected. From the president of the poses for which it was erected. From the president of the Association, Henry S. Tarr, Esq., we learn that preaching services are to be held in it regularly in future, on Monday, Tussday, and Saturday evenings of each week, and that arrangements are being effected for holding in it is daily morning prayer-meeting, similar to the five o'clock A. M. meetings now being held in the Tent in this city, at the corner of Fourth and George streets.

In the Tent, at Germantown, there were interesting services held settlems, afternoon at a o'clock, on which services held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, on which occasion an excellent discourse was preached by the Rev. Mr. Randolph, of Germantown, and short addresses were made by several other clergymen present. A CORRECTION CORRECTED —We deem it but a matter of justice to Mr. Edwin Clark—the patentse of the superior fouring—mill, of which we gave an extended notice in our paper of Friday last—to rate that the mill we then described, and the excellences of which we heartly recommended to the public, we eximined on the previous day, while in full speration, in the front room of the first story of the builling occupied by Mr. S Levine's fringe factory, No. 235 Races attest, below Third. We neel a peculiar interest in the success of this brilliant invention of Mr. Edwin Olark, for reasons already given, and are, therefore, not willing to let pass, uncorrected, any statements in load of the pass, uncorrected, any statements i A CORRECTION CORRECTED -We deem it but for reasons already given, and are, therefore, not willing to let pass, uncorrected, any statements in this pager, which might lead the public to suppose that Mr. Efficient Clark's mill is open for laspection any where but where we have already directed our readers, where but where we have already directed our readers, viz: 235 Race street, below Third. We are pleased to I are that several gentlemen, who read our unwarmished statement with regard to the espacities of Mr Envis Clark's mill, are already in full negotiation with the patentee for rights of his valuable invention. We believe there are splendid fortunes in hopeful prospective to all who will take hold of this extraordinary mill. For the benefit of our readers here, and throughout the Union, we would repeat that the only way of obtaining further information on the subject will be by calling upon or addressing Mr. Libw.n Clark—the patentee at No. 2:5 Race street, Philadelphia
