Anything else would make: the proposed compro mise a moral; assassination. Confidential or private declarations of Cabinet ministers that the Kansas question is settled, and that there should be no more tests, amount to nothing. What is necessary is a formal and explicit denration, to be followed by formal and exscharty words of David, " Jourts as senge thin atrength, a tory present help in trouble," after which a patricit byma was sing by the choir, and a very earnest, eloquent, and appropriate prayer offored, by the minister, in which he remembered

This done, the reconciliation will be easy. We may not save the Democratic party from defeat in 1858 by this late action; but we shall at least save our honor, and prove that to support a principle is not the sure way to exclusion and estracism. The men who violated the principle of popular sover eignty will be sufficiently punished in any event, whether the Administration punishes nose who profess to have its authority for at acking the Democratic organization in Illi. nois, and for assailing the Democratic creat anywhere else, or whether it is silent. Although the execution of the low upon public offlants who have violated their trusts is a duty which the judge charactorized as a paluful one, it is only just, and the community, however much they may regret the ne easily which calls for such action, cannot other wise than respect the court which discharges it duty fearlessly. In the came court, Judge Thompson refused th Jupotion asked by Dr. Rowand to restrain the University of Free Medicine from vending certain melicines for which the Doctor had obtained a pastant. As the connection of the Doctor with the institution, as pormanent President, has been ter minited by the action of the University, the presont disposition of hid application for an injunction virtually leaves him to derive from his share in the stock of the University the damages sustainer in the loss of his recipes. What dividends the Friterrity may declars dess not appear.
