THE DE RIVIERE ROMANCE.-ON Saturday morning, Mr. Riokard T. Deming, counsel for Mr. Hunoke and Mrs. Blount, advised the latter to go home with her hueband, which advice the lady complied with, and Mr. Deming immediately took her over in a sarriage to Maillard's in Broadway, where Mr. Naureau, of New Orleans, and his son, and Mr. Stein, of Mobile, are staying. This course has been adopted in consequence of the fact that Mrs. Blount has not sufficient funds in hands here to meet her indebtedness. Mr. Deming has ac-cordingly advised that Mrs. B's board his and other trilling oxpenses be paid so long as her funds will admit, and she can arringe for payment of the remainder on her arrival in Mobile. While this case is proceeding here, her drafts on Mobile will not be honored. It is therefore considered advisable that als esheald go home immediately, where she will favo her own property under her immediate control, and can arrange for the pay-ment of her bils in this State. Mrs. Blount has said that all she wanted was to have her board bill paid, in order that she might loave the hotel with-out my stigma attnehing to her for gring awny without paying her just debts.-New York Ex-press. Revolutionary conflicts can never be forgotten; but the stern, unyielding patriotism which sustained and supported our fathers amid the daily severe trials of that eventful period, is but too little thought of. Let one visit Bethlehem, and as he looks upon the hillside waving with the yellow rain, or crowned with the dark green corn-fields, let him think of the noble forms long since buried there, and let his imagination carry him back to the joyous and peaceful homes from which, as the toesin of war sounded its alarm through the length and breadth of the Colonies, those forms,
