Charles, in a brief epistle,

Of his forthine gave account—

Told of means he held invested,
Quite astounding in anount;
And said, "If you will wed nie

You shall dress with queenly pride,
And sled, in saith right-caps

When your robes see laid aside!"

Then Willie sent a message,
And it read in letters bold,
'Though quite unblessed by fortune
Having neither lands nor gold,
Bitch my heart in warm affection,
And I buy my raiment all,
At the mart of style and flashion,
Known as Bennett's Tower Hall.'

The maiden read the letters,
And her ayes with love did shine;
She murmured, ". Willie, dearest,

The rivals got their answers, and they cried, sh! oruel fate!
To Bennett's then, they hurried, But they went, alas! too late!

General Salt Lake. Gry. Saturday, July 2.
1858.—The army of Utah, under command of Brevet Brigadier General Johnston, entered this valley on Saturday, the 26th uit; an hour or two after my letter of, that date was malied to you.
It was about 94 o'clock in the morning when the right of the advance column emerged from the elect of the Wass'oh Mountains known as Emigration Canon, and been to apread its long line over the tortious road down the "bench," towards the city. The day was perfectly clear, and the whole line of march could be failed of an army in motion. General Johnston had issued an order and mannerism of GRANT's peculiar style. The Punch article has been attributed to

The purpose of the reconnelssance upon, which he started on Monday inst, was to ascertain by personal inspection what is the character of Loville; Runh; Skull; and Godar Vallies, lying to the west or south of Great Salt Luke. He was accompanied by his Adutant, Major Porter, Lieutenant Colonel Smith, Captain Marcy, and Captain Newton, and other officers of the ariny, and by a number of civillans, including Major Ben. McGulloch, David A. Burr, former Deputy-Surveyor of the Territory, and Captain J. M. Harbin, of California—all of whem are more or less familiar with the countries to be visited. The party were escorted by Captain de Loussure's company.

During the absence of the General, the command of the camp on Jordan devolved upon Colonel Alexander, of the Tenth Infantry, under whose orders the troops meved, on Tuesday, to Brigham's Canon, twelve miles south of the city, and on Wednesday six miles farther to West Ceek Canon, for the purpose of obtaining the necessary feed for their great herds, the grass in the valley being quite insufficient. The army will probably remain in its present neighborhood, its permanent locations are decided upon and designated. General Johnston manifeste a considerate desire that his command should incommode the people as little as possible. And although every foot of land in the Territory still belongs to the United States, he is not disposed to deprive the citizens of their pasture ranges for cattle. They do not give him oredit for any such sentiment; but some of their leaders indicate the bitterest and most captions spirit toward him, speaking of him as a "d—d hound," &c., because he did not go at once, with the entire army, to some point distant from the city

In Cincinnati, on Sunday last, a little boy, aged two and a half years, was found in a woodshed, where he had been kept fourteen days and nights by his beastly father, who had married a second time, and alleged that the child had the dysentery, and he, the father, had placed it there because the second wife was disgusted with it. The little sufferer was lying in one corner, in a wretched and deplorable condition, fearfully emaciated, and from every appearance had been left there to die by a systematic course of staryation. The father not only estated that the child was affilied with the dysentery, but that food had been offered to it, which it refused to cat. The latter part of this story was falsified by the child devouring voraciously some bread which was given him, and the former was disproved by a physician, who declared that the child was not afflicted with the complaint mentioned. Both the father and step-mother were arrested and held for trial.

The Middletown (Pa.) Journal says that, "on last Monday, three boys from this borough went out into the country for the purpose of picking blackberries, and were not long in finding them in great quantities on the premises of Mr. Jacob Springer, about a mile from town, While in the set of picking berries they were startled by a ferosious dog belonging to Mr. Springer.
