CITY ITEMS.

COMPARATIVE HEALTH OF THE CITY .- In view of the fact that the atmospheric heat of the present summer has attained a much greater average than that of 1857, up to a corresponding period, we have thought it might be a matter of interest to the reader to compare the bills of mortality for the last week in July of both seasons, and from which we obtain the following result: Number of deaths for the week ending July 31, 1858, males 196; females, 146; Total 349. August 1, 1837, males, 170; famales, 144; Total 314. Of this number, there have been, this year, 202 deaths of children under five years of age, against 213 last year.

Of the 314 deaths, last year, 74 were from cholera infantum, 23 from convulsions, 32 from consumption, 19 from marasmus, and 20 were still-born, against which the following numbers are set down for the present year: cholera infantum, 84, conrulsions, 13, consumption, 35, marasmus, 12, still-

From these figures it will be seen that the five most prolific sources of death last year mark in the aggregate 168 against 151 attributed to the corresponding sources this year; the increased mortality of the present year being ascribed, in the bill of last week, to a greater provalence new than i att season of cases of congestion, is dammations of the brain, bowels, lungs, and that class of human aliments. Upon the whole, however, the parallel between the two periods here specified is rather remarkable, and when we consider the increase of population during the year—which may be set down, at a moderate calculation, at 15,000 souls, even if we make allowance for the present unusual exodus from the citr—the the present unusual exedus from the city-the the present annual excutes from the City—the addition of buttwenty-right deaths last week over the deaths of the corresponding week last year, it, we think, a most conclusive argument in favor of the present healthy condition of our city. This is made still more apparent when we consider that the summer of 1857, here, was one of unusual healthfulness. In neither has there been the slightest prevalence of epidemic, although in the early part of both seasons such gloomy forebodings alightest prevalence of epidemic, although in the sarly part of both seasons ruch gloomy forebodings were by many entertained.

To the writer it has always seemed at once impolitic and ungrateful to be forever prognesticating much evils ahead, although there can be no question as to the duty of those whose office it is, making all possible sanitary prevalities preparations, in large cities, for such an emergency. The summer has reached its culminating point, but it is not yatover, and considering the fact that in this latitude the season of all others must productive of discusse—specially of an infectious character—is when summer marges into fail, too much pains cannot be taken by the proper authorities to preserve the well-earned reputation abroad of our city for its characteristic cleanliness. The fact should not be clocked that very many of our streets, especially towards the outskirts of the city, are at this time in a most offensive condition. jy28-3mif WM. JOHNS & SON.

The practice required in order to prepare and work the materials successfully is a serious impediment to others.

The impossibility of arranging the sponge without experience in this particular branch or kind of material, and the critical knowledge indispensable in producing such an extremely light and nourishing substance as WINO'S FARINA CHACKERS, cannot be accomplished without consummate skill and the means necessary to carry it out.

The whole business requires great care and good judgment, and must be carried on extensively in order to make it successful or profitable.

The objects to be attained by Mr. WING were to produce a superior article at a price suitable for all classes. For this he has labored long, and subjected himself to an adequate outlay of capital.

The pretence, therefore, on the part of any one elrethat they make FARINA CRACKERS, is simply a device re-orted to in the hope of selling more of an article than they otherwise would do, if offered under the proper name.

With the view of a largely extensived business, Mr. Willi has continued for some time past the present cle than they otherwise would do, it ourses are proper name.

With the view of a largely extended business, Mr. With the view of a largely extended business, Mr. With the centinued for some time past the present low price for his Crackers.

It has been freely assetted by prominent Cracker Bakers in the city of New York, that with the great amount of hand labor bestowed on WING'S FARINA CRACKERS it is impossible for him to realize a profit at the present price.

THUTEN OF TWENTY DOLLARS. CRACKERS It is impossible for him to realize a profit at the present price.

Mr. WING'S object, however, is to place his CRACKERS. Mr. WING'S object, however, is to place his CRACKERS in the market at a rate that will enable all persons to use them freely, and not advance the price, unless absolutely necessary.

The increased use of WING'S FARINA CRACKERS, with the commendatory remarks of Parents, Teachers, and Physicians, as well as many persons in various positions in life, whose powers have been more or less weak-enel by selentary habits or occupations, is strong proof of the healthful and beneficial results which have attended their use. of the healthful and benedicial results which have attended their use.

Their great nourishing properties, and the ease with which the stomach digests this pleasant food, are well established, and there can be, on testing them, no doubt of this fact, viz: that the same weight of WING'S CRACKENS will make more good blood, and act more kin lly upon the delicate texture of the stomach, than anything else ever introduced in this or any other form of bread.
