The practice required in order to prepare and work the material successfully is a sorious impediment to experience in this particular branch or kind of material, and the critical knowledge indigensable in producing such an extremely light and nourishing successors as WING'S FARINA CRACKERS, cannot be accom-pliched without consummate akill and the means neces-sary to carry it out. The whole business requires greaf care and good judgment, and must be carried on extensively in order to make it successful or profitable. The objects to be attained by Mr. WING were to pro-duce a superior article at a price suitable for all classes. For this he has labored long, and subjected himself to mate it successful or constant. The predence, therefore, on the part of any one elec-that they make FARINA CRACKERB, is simply a de-vice resorted to in the hop of celling more of an arti-cle that they otherwise would do, it offored under the proper name. With the view of a largely extended business, Mr. WING has continued for some time past the present low price for his Crackers. It has been freely ascreted by prominent Cracker Bakers, it has been freely ascreted by promised Cracker Bakers in the city of New York, that with the great amount of hand labor bestowed on WING'S FARINA CRACKENB it is imposabile for him to realice a prodi-ation price.  Mr. WING'S object, however, is to place his CRACK-RRS in the market at a rate that will enable all persons to use them freely, and not advance the price, unloss absolutely necessary.
 The increased use of WING'S FARINA CRACK ERS, with the commendatory remarks of Parcut's, Teachers, and Physicians, as well as many personal in various posi-tions in life, whose powers have been more or less weak-ened by sedentary habits or occapations, is strong proof of the healthful and been delai results which have at-tended their use.
 The digreat nourishing properties, and the ease with which the stomach digreats this pleasant food, are well established, and there can be, on testing thom, no doubt of this fact, viz: that the same we ght of WING'S URACKER' will wake more good blood, and act more kinn'y upon the delicat- texture of the stomach, than anything use over introduced in this or any other form of bread.
