There is a great expectation that Queen VICTORIA will visit Canada-next year. The Canadians are great in expectation. They expect to run a railway straight across British North America, by which the Atlantic and Pacific will be united. They expect to have one of Queen VICTORIA's sons educated for the trade of Viceroy, and sent over, at a proper age, to govern them-we do not see why, if a son cannot be spared, (on the chance of India has just been transferred from a jointin a son cannot be spared, (on the chards of the son cannot be spared, (on the chards of the son book which may appear in Paris India and Australia needing Royal rulers,) a stock Conpany of proprietors to the Empire daughter of England might not take his place. proper of England. Even now, Australia daughter of England might not take his place. When a Queen is found to be so much better than any male ruler England had, OLIVER CROMWELL excepted, since the time of HENRY VII, why not substitute a vice-reine in Ca. nada for a vice-roy ? Nations, like individuals,

We need not go back to antiquity, however, for examples of the success and advantages of female domination. Whe among us has not known one man, at least, (we have known twenty,) who would have been ruined, in mind and property, but heart-how beautifully expressive is that fine old Saxon word i-but many and many a man try, her recoption will be free from that has had to be grateful to Woman, in one of contemptive adulation which often afflicts these capacities, for having led him from the even the shallest "distinguished foreigner" precipice on whose brink he stood, of having who drops a upon us. man of him. No wonder, then, the influence of the fomale mind having made England actually happier now than it ever was under the rule of any male monarch, that the Canadians should gladly accept and eagerly cling to every report which Rumor gives wing to of a Royal visit, to their provinces. They believe, because they hope: Twenty-one years ago, this self-same Canada was the scene of what was within an ace of being a great rebellion. Yet now, what people are more "loyal" to VICTOBIA than these same ex-revolters, who were then sternly intent upon separating their country from Great Britain, of elevating it from mere Colonial dependency to the dignity of an independent republic. We dare say that if Queen VICTORIA were to visit Canada, she would be received a hundred times more enthusiastically (if that were possible) then she is received when she visits the populous parts of England and confidingly trusts herself
