Manufactures of our City. In no respect is the sporemacy of Philadel-phia over every other city in the Union made more strikingly apparent than in her almost un limited productive industry None but those who have taken special pains to inform them solves upon the subject have any adequate conception of the vastness of our manufactured productions; and the total result, when laid before us in figures, is of startling magnitude.

In another part of our paper to day will be found a list, from an admirable work on Philadelphis and its Manufactures by Mr. Enwis T. FuzzoLEvi showing the aggregate value of articles produced in Philadelphia for the year ending June 80th, 1857, From this list it appears that the entire value of the several classes of manufactures, embracing in all over one hundred and thirty distinctive branches, amounted in a single year to the enormous sum of one hundred and seventy one millions, eight hundred and forty-eight thousand, seven hundred and thirty-eight dollars, ($171,848,788.) In comparing these figures with the aggregate value of the manu. actures of any other city in the Union and we are not sure that the world at large affords cient to give an enviable pre-eminence to the mercantile interests of Philadelphia.

Taking in connection with this fact our advantageous position as a distributing point. and West to centro here can only be accounted for on the score of a blind impolicy in our State regulations, or the lack of proper enter-

In passing through our well-stocked maris of trade at the present time, the intelligent proportion of the domestic articles offered are manufactured, as it were, at the very doors of our jobbing houses. LETATIA VEREIN. To the German musical FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. The Money Market. PHILADELPHIA, August 19, 1858.

We have no changes to record in either stocks or money to day.

The Governor having issued the letters patent to the Corn Exchange Bank, the commissioners give notice that an election for directors will be held on the twenty-eighth day of August, between 12 and 3 o'clock, at the room of the Corn Exchange, corner of Second and Gold streets. We are glad to learn that this institution will go into operation within a few days, under the most satisfa tory suspices. The subscription books were opened last year, and the time for the second instalment to be paid had nearly arrived, when the financial tornado commenced to sweep over the land, and the parties having the enterprise in chargo determined to suspend their labors until the fury of the storm was over. The wisdom of this course is now made apparent. With the return of better times the requisite amount of capital has been paid in, and the bank will commence business simultaneously with the general revival of trade all over the country, on a capital not impaired by losses during the panic, and with out any suspended paper to sue out, or doubtful socounts to nurse. It will be the favorite institution of the largest trade association in our city, and can hardly fail to command success and prove profitable to all concerned.

The Board of Directors of the Pittsburgh Life, Fire and Marine Insurance Company have de-clared a dividend of two dollars per share out of the profits of the last six months.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch states that the western division of the Pennsylvania Canal is undergoing extensive repairs. Between Pittsburgh and Tarentum, some ten new bridges have been built in lieu of the former dilapidated old structures, and various other improvements are taking place. The same repairs are said to be making throughout the entire division, and the value of the canal to those living along the line of the improvement will be materially enhanced. The entire division has latterly fallen into partial disuse, and consequently, has been too much neglected. The farmers, however, are waking up to the necessity of keeping the eanal in working order, and a meeting of those interested will be held in Freeport, about the latter part of this month, to make arrangements for securing this object. It is proba-ble that an arrangement will be made to lease the

There is said to be another meeting of railroad officers in session to settle the difficulties. We have determined to shronicle no more proceedings of such gatherings until they shall result in the settlement of the disputes by which the stockhold. ers are now daily robbed. The Harrisburg Herald says:

The Harriaburg Herald rays:

"The coal trade of the damokin region, which is about 15.000 tons behind? It year, is looking up a little, and is on the increase since the opening of the Northern Central Railroad. Coal is now delivered from that region to Baltimore at $3.70 per ton, which gives that region the advantage over the Wyoming trade. The coal in the Shamokin region is sold at $1.10a1.20 per ton, put in the cars at the mines, and the purchasers pay the tell, and freight. Wages of miners and laborers are about one-third less than they were this time last year."
