The Sixth Congressional District. Happy would it be for Pennsylvania, and for every Northern

State, if, more, such men, were, sent to Con-gress. Until they are, if were sent to Con-gress. Until they are, if will be in vain to hope, that we can command in the councils of the nation the consideration, and exercise the nfluence, which, we are entitled to, and which our deavest political interests require that we should possess. Yet, for doing his duty, JOHN HIORMAN, has been hunted down, proscribed and persocuted far more bitterly than be would have been if he had committed the most infamous crime. Had he yielded to the eductions of power the gate of the paradise of official emolument, patronage and plunder, would have swung, back upon its well oiled linges at his approach. The trained bands of olitical emissaries, in the pay of the Federal Government, would have traversed his district with honied words of praise upon their tongues instead of waging deadly war against him. The courtiers of power, who now breathe forth, their maledictions, would have been most eloquent in his support. But he was true to the people. He obeyed their wishes by bravely doing what was right. Shall he be sustained or proscribed for this? Shall he be crushed between the upper millstone of the hirelings and courtiers of the ederal Government and the nether mill-stone of a heartless system of party despotism? Will not the people show themselves as ready and as able to protect their own interests, and as eager to approve, formally and publicly, a Congressional course which met their warmest approbation, as the minions, of power are to gratify the malignity of despotism, or designin schemers are to gratify their low ambition ? We believe that a large majority of the voters of the district, of both parties, have fully determined upon sustaining Mr. HIOK-MAN in the present contest. The true Demo-oracy, have determined not to desert the great principle of Popular Sovereignty, despite the denuncistions of the central power and its placemen. At the meeting of the Leople's party on Tuesday, a very warm and enthusiastic determination to sustain Mr. HICKNAN was manifested. The masses of that party, and many of its most distinguished men, will use their best exertions in his behalf.

The meeting favorable to him was addressed by Hon. E. C. DARLINGTON, of Delaware county, an old veteran in his party. Such TOWNSEND HATWES. Pre
