NOTICEARLE INCIDENT. -- Last week, a. 'amily arrived at New Orleans, La, from Eheland, in a packet ahlp, and two young girls, each aged about twenty, strolled through the streets of the etty. One of the women became ill, and became 'e faint and overcome that she had to lay down apon a bale of hay. While her female companion remained with her, a friend was sent down to the ship to nofify her family of the occurrence. The unfortunate girl was not long compelied to remain in the location before her family sont up for her, yet in that short time no lass than fixed fiferent members of charitable organisations discovered ber position, and offered to remove her at ense in a carriage to where she would have treatment. SOUTHEEN TOUENAMENT.--Some of the A carringe to where see would have treatment. SOUTHEEN TOURNAMENT.—Some of the Southern chivalry attempted to abarm the ladies at a fair near Memphis, a few days since, by dash-ng exploits as knights in yiolent initiation of a tournament. The trouble was that, at the first charge, several of the gallant horsemen were 'hrown over their horses' heads and badily hurt. One knight was thrown headlong, and sprained and bruised out of condition. He orawled eut of 'he way, as he thought, but another kn ght was thrown near him, and the first unborded gent was thrown near him, and the first unborded gent was thrown near him, and the first unborded gent was thrown near him, and the first unborded gent was thrown near him, and the first unborded gent was thrown near him, and the first unborded gent was thrown near him, and the first unborded gent was thrown the warborde of No. 2 Such splendid borsemarship was satisfactory. The tournament ended without any further display of knightly har lihoed and grace. An EMBARBASSING SITUATION.—Our friends of the State Bank found, themselves in an embar-rassing situation this morning. The funds of the bank were secured last evening, as usual, in a large ssic, with one of the compilasted combina-tion locks, and this morning, through some disar-rangement of the wards, they were unable to um-lock it. The result is, that they have been obliged to telegraph East for a man to come and open it. They have obtained the requisite funds in the interim from other rournes, and the oiroumstance does not at all interfore with the business of the bank.—Madison (Wis.) Journal.
