The London Times has published a letter from a correspondent, under date Saint Vincent's, Oct. 23d, which contains some interesting extracts from 23.4. Which contains some interseting extracts from a recent letter written by Dr. Rainey, who is the special agent of the Government of the United States for the transportation of the rescued Roho negroes in the United States steam frigate. Niagara, to a friend in England. It gives a ter-rific ploture of these unfortunate viotims of heartless avarice." Fifty-seven had died on board of the frigate, and only two hundred, and fourteen then remained of the four hundred and fifty-five whom the Echo had originally taken on board at Kaben-da. It was feared that many of the survivors would die before the African coast could be reached, as nearly all of them were in a sickly and debilitated condition They are extremely fithy, and much profer nuclity to dress. They are washed twice a week by having a large hose turned on them, with strong men at the engine. They manifest little or no sympathy for one another, except to help to scratch each other's backs, and give no attention whitsoever to the stake and dying, but take care to whitsoever to the sick and dying, but take care to steal the blankets; the bread, spoons, and bage of the deceased as soon as their souls depart. Dr. Rainey concludes his letter by the following pointed and just remarks, in regard to the solution encouragement of the slave trade, which results from the present policy of Great Britain: "I am satisfied that some new mode must also be intro-duced for the trial of these found on board size vers, probably by trying them at once and swingfor the up to the systd-arm, As your system now operates, the British captors have every in terest in releasing the crew and landing them again at an eligible point on the coast, that they may the sooner have another vessel, to be taken as another profitable prize. This is an easy and cortain means of furnishing prize-money to you cruisers, and an equally certain means of perpe-tuating the slave trade. It always appears sin gular to us that your confessedly great and nobl statesmen permit a system so impotent except in evil to exist and ourse the world."

Upon them the heaviest exactions are thrown. They meet with no justice, and no mercy. Their goods are summarily seized and confiscated. If they remonstrate they are thrown into horrible prisons, and, not infrequently, their lives are taken. - Evon our Minister at Mexico has been insulted, and none of our representatives are treated with the respect which their positions entitle them to. Meanwhile, the hostile Spanish fleet is cruising upon the coast of the country, and it is sup posed that one of the leading parties in Mexico sympathises to some extent with the Spanards, and that an intrigue is on foot, under the auspices of France, Spain, and a Mexican party, to establish a sort of Spanish and French protectorate over the country. Two features in the present condition of Mexico, therefore, demand the attention and prompt action of our Government : First, the repeated outrages inflicted upon our citizens, and the cavalier treatment of our representatives. Soughting about FIREARMS .--- Next to the revolation caused in the world of letters by the digovery of the art of print mg, the charge in the science of war induced by the discovery of gunpowdar stands pre-emi-nent. Indeed, the coloring which the invention of that wonlerful explosive has given to the more prominent events of all subsequent history is inconceivable. As to the invention, itself, of this life-destroying agent, it the invention, itself, of this life-destroying agent, it has been variously attributed, by home writers, to the Ohinese, and by obsers to Roger Bacon; about the year 1280; but the discovery of its use in gunnery, though assigned by some authorities to Anelsen, belongs, we think, to Barthold Schwarts, of Maysece; in 1320; and it is said to have been occasioned by the accidental combination; and igniting of the materials composing gunpowder, throwing the peaks out of a common mortar in the operation: the operation!

All day posterday the unique ornamental devices in front of this model gun store, no less than the beauti-fully arranged, glittering contents within, attracted an admiring throng on the payement in front. The case of stuffed game which they exhibit in their west win-dow is a beautiful work of art. We can probably de-sorthe the nature and merits of this house in no better way than by saying that, in its contents, the sporting connolsseur will find all (and tenfold more) the most complete "traps and trappings" for his use that the most prolific imagination aver conselved of-guns, from complete "staps and trappings" for his use that the complete "staps and trappings" for his use that the most prolific imagination ever conceived of guns, from the plainest grades (though well-tried as to quality) to splendid fowling-pleces of ismirate's test, with ele-ganUy engraved mountings, and iblaid with gold, worth five hundred dolhars each." The first guns and pistols ever imported, of French and Euglish manufacture, are contained in their stock. Among the most popular English brands, we noticed the "Weldy Hichards," "Gegeners," "Moore & Harris," and "Lancaster" guns." Of the French articles, their "Pondevaux et Janay" is much admired for many peculiar merits. In addition to their immonse imported stock, the manufactory of Mears. Wilson & Co is now in full operation under the same roof, in which mos but, the finest and beat work is executed, the barrels which they use being at an average importation cost of from forty

ANTICERSART OF THE AGON-DAT PRAYER-MET-ING -AK 11% o'clock this morning, a meeting of un-usual interest is expected to take place at Jayne's Hall, it being the anniversary of the commencement of the mid-day prayer-meetings in this city, for business men. Being the regular "i minister's day," the Rev. Mr. Ohambers will officiate in the chair, as conductor of the exercises. The great interest which these extraordi-metr religious meetings have aligited un this city and ali nary religious meetings have elicited in this estimatori-nary religious meetings have elicited in this eliy and all over the country during the past year cannot fail to make the occasion to-day one eminently worthy the at-tention of the Obristian community; a very large coa-gregation may, therefore, be anticipated. EVENING, will be on "Life in the North"-- a subject which no one is better qualified to treat upon than Mr. Taylor, having recently returned from the countries of which he is to speak. We bappeak for him a very large audience on Thursday evening. BRAUTIFUL! BEAUTIFUL!! BEAUTIFUL!!!-In passing up Ohestunt street, yesterday, we accidentally got entangled in a crowd that appeared to be made up of saure eyes, rainbow-tinted dresses, suby lips, and augelic smiles; we couldn't tell which was which, so fascinatingly were they commingled together in aweat contaion, and only stopped to 1 ok at the utterer of the above exclamation-hereif the embodiment of feminine lovelines. Our double in regard to the cause of the exclamation, which we vaguely suspected was addressed to us, were speedily removed on casing our eyes on an eleganity attred young man, on whom her eyes were admiringly beat. On inquiry, we learned that he had just purchased an elegant winter suit at the Fashiona-00.000.000 ble Emporium of GRANVILLE STORES, No. 607 Chestnut
