CITY ITEMS. Brans Books. In this department of manufac-tures, as in most others considerable progress has been made of law; both as regards convenience of form, sub-stantially of highth, and general adaptation for the uses stantially of flujing and general adaptation for the uses to which they are to be applied. We were never so impressed with the marked lup ovement which has taken place in the nanufacture of Blank Books for commercial purposes, as yesterday, when we were permitted to deather and very superior sets of Ledgers, &c., made at the extensive bindery of Mr. Perry, at the S.W. corner of Fourth and Race streets. Some of the Ledgers was intracted for our laddic narrounding establishwere intended for our leading mercantile establishments, and were so durably bound as to lead to the supposition that they were intended to be in use at least a century. The substantial binding was not the only creditable feature, for, besides, that, they were so plauned as to facilitate, to a considerable extent, the clerical labor of those to whose charge they may be entrusted, by the paging, head-lines and general arrange-The specimens of which we speak were placed on ex-The speciment of which we speak with ut any inten-biblion at the Franklin Institute, with ut any inten-tion, on the part of the depositor, to compete for a premium; but so impressed was the committee with their excellence, that they awarded the first medal for SALE OF ORNAMENTS, FANCY GOODS, &c - Viti Brothera (formerly Vito Viti & Sons) sa'e of elaborate caryed Marble and Alabasier Vasses, Tazzas, Parlan yare, Bronses, Bohemian Glass, choice fancy goods, &c, &c, takes place this (Wedne day) morning, Estin lost; at 10% o clock, and will be continued in the even-log at 7% o'clock, at their warerooms, No. 630 Arch atreet, below Seventh. The Rutious paper is filled with the choicest original and selected matter in every department of Uhristian Literature; making a delightful Sabbath companion, and furnishings volume of interesting and instructive reading every week. The best and most accomplished Clergymen, Presidents and Professors in our Colleges and Seminaries, constantly contribute to its pages. One of its chief features of attraction is a summary of intelligence from ALL RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS; a feature peculiar to the Observer, and highly valued by Christians who wish to know what is doing in other communities than their own.

The grand object of the New York Observer is to promote "peace on earth and good-will among men." For this end it seeks to advance all those principles which make the Union of the States more firm and permanent; it cultivates harmony and good feeling among all denominations of Christians; and is a fearless defender of the rights of all men under the Constitution of the United States and the Worl of God.

In its Editorial dissussion, its foreign and domestic correspondence, the vigor and beauty of its original contibutions, and the attractions of its several departments in science, literature, art, agriculture, and commerce, the New York Observer is determined not Redford-street Mission.—A meeting, ex-TRAORDINARY will be held in BEDFORD Bireet, above Fixth To-Morrow EVENING. The un qualled facilities possessed by Mr. Ban-croft in the preparation of these volumes, and the many years of labor and research which he has bestewed upon them, together with the admirable and attractive style in which they are written, have caused this great work to be universally regarded, both in Europe and Ameri-a, as the best bistory of this country yet produced, and as a stindard and authority. "Among the historians who have attained a high and deserved reputation in the United States within the last f-w yora, we are inclined to yield the first place to George Bancroft. His experience in political and diplomatic life, no less than his rire and graceous culture, and his singular union of the Highest mental faculties, enable us to predict, with condence, that his work will be reckoned among the genuine master-pideos of historical genius."—If we constitute Review.

"This no ble theme has been treated with a beauty and a power by one whom I need not name in this presence, (the historian of the 'United States'); which without impairing their authenticity, have converted the severe pages of our history it to a magnifecent Odysey of national adventure."—[Everett's Lecture on the Discovery of America.

"The further this work proceeds, the more do we feel that it must take its place as an essentially satisfactory history of the United rates."—[London Athenmum.

"From the copious extracts which we have given from this toltine, (YII.) it will be seen that in respect of composition it is a model of vigorous condensation. If it does not display the sweet and cateloss flow of the father of history, its true be ovity rivals the compensation of Thuc-cidies or Tacitus. On this account it will be welcome to the earnest sindout who wishes for amplitude of facts with sparingness of phrase, while its abundant illustrations of the heart of Nature fully sustain the position of the work as a popular favorite."
