A correspondent of the London Times writes rom Shanghae an account of Lord Elgin's arrival A correspondent of the London Times writes from Shanghae an account of Lord Eigin's arrival at Jeddo, in Japan:

The squadron passed the sacred limits beyond which no foreigner had seer passed, to the astonishment of the Japanese and Russian ships, and did not communicate with the abore. The arrival of the British rquadron in waters which the Japanese had sedulously, represented as being too shallow, to admit of, the approach of large ships filled them with dismay and astonishment. Beats followed each other filled with officials of ascending degrees of rank; to beg them to return to Kanagawa; and finally urgent, representations were made to the ambassadors on the subject. Firstly, the anchorage was said, to be dangerous, then the difficulty of getting supplies was represented. The additions of the yaont at Jeddo was, however, in dispensable; and no sconer was this sattled than the Japanese, in their usual way, became purfectly reconciled to the arrangement, sont of supplies with great willinguess, and began to prepare a residence on shore for Lerd Eigin and his staff. At appearent that Count Putatine had been calleyed for ten days negotiating on this subject at Kanagawa, and only succeeded in taking up his residence at Jeddo on the same day that we osst anohor before the town. He had, made the journey over land from Kanagawa, a distance of eighteen with the contract of the contrac en miles. On arriving at Jeddo, the Japanese officials sent then miles.

On arriving at Jeddo, the Japanese officials sent off to superintend the anohorage, returned in one of the gunboats, with thirteen ships' boats in tow, amidst the thunder of 'salutes, the 'playing' of a band, and the flutter of flags. They stopped within swom feet to the 'batteries, and the procession of boats was formed, the four paddle-box boats, each with a 24-pounder howitzer in her bows, enclosing between them the amhassador's barge, the remainder of the ships' boats, with capitals and officers all' in full dress, leading the way. The band struck up "God save the Queon" as Lord Eigin acconded the stops of the official landing place, near the centre of the city, and was received and put into his chair by sundry two-sworded personages, the rest of the mission, fogether with some officers of the squadron, following on borseback. A dense crowd was collected. During Lord Eigin's stay nearly all the officers of the squadron were enabled to pay him a visit. In front of the temple where he resided, in the aristorialic quarter of the city, who systeet which continued for ten miles, as closely paked, with houses and as densely crowded with people as it is from Hyde Park corner to Mile Lond. At the back of it streiched a wide and somewhat dreary aristoratic quarter, containing the residences of the three hundred and sixty horeditary princes each toratic quarter, containing the residences of the three hundred and sixty horeditary princes, each a petty sovereign in his own right, and many of them with half a dozen toym houses, and some of thom able to accommodate, in the same mansions, ten thousand retainers. ten thousand retainers.

The area of the city is equal to, if not larger than that of London, and contains 2,500,600 inhabitants. The Castle alone is computed to be capable of containing 40,000. For ten mites around there were extraordinary evidences of civilization, the people are clean and most amisble; there are no beggars, and the climate, for ble there are no beggars, and the climate, for-tility, and beauty of the country, appear to be unequalled.

We have yet to discover what the exports of Ja-pan may be beyond camphor, wax, and copper; but, from a consideration of the natural tendencies and "go'a head" disposition of the people, there can be little doubt that a market will, at some fature day, exist in these laisands; for the produce and manufactures of the West are of ramident magnitude and importance to secure for them a high place in the list of Great Britain's outstomers. A Western Railroad Operation. BLACK MAIL BONDS—SRIZURBIOF RAILROAD BOOKS.
[Prem the Ohlosgo Press, Nov. 13]

The Jowa Central Air Line Railroad Company is in process of disintegration and dissolution. The president has resigned, as also some of the directors—Certain stockholders have commenced suits in chancery against the officers of the company,
the object being to get rid of the $750,000 land grant 'black mail bonds,' issued by the directors to persons who aided in lobbying the grant through Congress. Also, to complet the directors to disgorge or cancel the $250,000 of "fall-paid stock," which they voted themselves about a year ago for real or suppositions services—amounts varying from $15, 600 to $22,000 each, and $50,000 to the president,
which he has tendered back. A further object being it oprevent any consolidation of the road
with the Ollinton and Cedar Repids Company, which last is unnecessary, as the latter company
declined a fusion with the Lyons road on say terms offered.
On Monday last, Messys. W. H. Gibbs. P. Deeds. BLACK NAIL BOXDS—SEIZURN OF BAILROAD BOOKS declined a fusion with the Lyons road on say terms offered.

On Monday last, Messrs. W. H. Gibbs, P. Deeds, George Entron, D. & C. Scott, A. P. Durlin and others, went into the secretary's office at Lyons, and demanded possession of the books and papers of the company—"peaceably if they could, or foreibly if they must. P. The secretary, George W. Bettosworth, stoully rofused to deliver, exispit upon the order of the directors. Finally, after a long parley, the matter was compromised by the secretary agreeing to place them in the safe of Rand and Hazlett, bankers, which was done on the conditions specified is the following receipt:—Received of Geo. W. Bettesworth, secretary of L. C. A. L. Rik. Co., two packages, said to contain books of the Lows Central Air Line Raircad Company, marked Geo. W. Bettesworth, Secretary I. C. A. L. Rik. Co., Lyons, which we agree not to deliver to say person except upon the order of the stockholders, and directors, or a majority of them, of said company, under a certificate of the secretary of the soomany. We further agree that we will not permit the said books to be examined by any one, except upon the order of the secretary of the above named company, in writing.

(Riam) HAZLETT & Co. Thus the matter stands at our last advices. It seems quite probable that the company will lose the whole land grant, on the grounds of a non-compliance with the conditions of the grant. A Hundred Years Ago To-day. GERTIFICATE OF DR. HATPB.

It is well known that the medicinal effects of Proton ide of Iron is lost by oven a very brief exposure to air and that to meintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron. Without further exidation, has been deemed impossible. In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is at tained by combination in a way before unknown, and this solution may replace all the proto carbonstes, of trates, and tartrates of the Misteria Biodica.

be the most pure and consequently least injurious spirits ever offered the American public.

CERTIFICATE OF DR JAS. R CHILTON.

I have analyzed sample of Chestnut-Grove Whiskey, received from Mr. CHARLES WHARTON, Jz. of Philadelphia, and having carrefully tested it, I am pleased to state that it is entirely tree from poisonous or deloterious substances. It is an numerally pure and or deleterious substances. It is an unusually pure an fine flavored quality of Whiskey. JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., New York, Sept. 2, 1853. Ansiytical Chemist.

PHILDELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1858.

DHAR SIR: We have carefully tested the sample of Chestnut-Grove Whicker which you sent us, and find that it contains none of the poiscenus subtance known for Fasic Oil, which is the characteristic and injurious ingredient of the Whiskeys in general us.

Very respectfully,
